Lewis Bryan Wins Lead in Juniors Magazine Contest

Lewis Bryan came in with the most sales of magazines to capture first prize in the Junior magazine drive held here recently.

Shirley Haynes, Laura Lynch and Jewel Parker won second, third and fourth prizes respectively.

Miss Janie Ipock's homeroom won first place in the room contest by bringing in over $1,000, followed by Miss Britt Davis' room for a close second.

The class as a whole went over its goal of $2,000 by raising $2,144.15. As a result the class is approximately $500 better off financially.

The class received a letter from Mr. Geishman, the representative for this district, congratulating it on its achievement. A trophy is to be sent to the class on behalf of the Curtiss Publishing Company.

Before this year last year's Junior class led most classes with a total of about $1425.

Sophomores Are Staging Drive For Class Benefit

The stationery drive sponsored by the Sophomore class began November 10 and will continue through December 10. This drive was begun at a recent meeting of the class.

A skit was presented at the meeting by Miss Frances Bayne's homeroom, which gave the students pointers to use when selling the stationery.

The stationery is selling for $1.50 per box. It is personalized and comes in eight different styles.

A prize of $2.00 will be presented to each student selling 20 boxes. The homeroom selling the most boxes will receive a prize of $2.00.

Gene Roberts, president of the sophomore class, presided over the meeting.

Sandford Is Head Of Goldmasquers

Jerry Sanford has been elected president of the Goldmasquers for the year 1947-48.

Elected to serve with him were: Anna Frank Strosnider, vice president; Judy Adams, secretary; Davis Byrd, Troy Pate, and Charlie Darden, business managers; Ruth Shaver, advertising manager.

Jerry made his first stage appearance in "Treasure Island," and has since been seen in "Bethlehem Road," "Seventh Heaven," "Land's End," a state prize winning contest play, "Our Town," and "Nothing But the Truth." Some of his radio experience was gained in broadcasts of "Slate Notes," the "Young America" series, "Deadline For Living," "Legend of Dust," a statewide FM network show, "The Ghost of Benjamin Sweet," a Tobacco Network program, and "Judgment Day."

Anna Frank has taken part in the plays "Men Folk" and "Cinderella." Her most outstanding work has been in radio. She has been in the "Young America" series, "This Obscene Pomp," a Tobacco Network program, a Red Cross show, "The Ghost of Benjamin Sweet," "Legend of Dust," and "Judgment Day."

Most of Judy's drama work has been on the stage. She was seen in "Ramona," "Heaven Can Wait," "The Finger of God," and "Nothing But the Truth." She was in the radio show, "Judgment Day."

Davis has taken part in the plays "Treasure Island," "Bethlehem Road," and "Land's End." He worked on sound for "Our Town" and was business manager for "Heaven Can Wait," "Little Red Riding Hood," and "Flute and the Vine." His radio performances have been in "This Freedom of Ours," "Deadline For Living," "This Obscene Pomp," "Legend of Dust," "Musical Clues," "Slate Notes," "Young America" series, (Continued on Page 8)

National Education Week Is Observed In City Schools

Goldsboro schools observed National Education week November 9-15.

Churches, theaters, merchants, civic organizations, and other groups co-operated to help fulfill its purposes of school visitation and educational interpretation.

The theaters showed a movie short especially concerning the schools. It was distributed to the Wayne County Ministerial Association and civic organizations.

A series of broadcasts were given over station WGBR. Parents, teachers, interested patrons, and high school and elementary school pupils participated.

The local schools extended to the citizens of the town an invitation to visit them any time during the week in order to get acquainted with the teachers and to see how modern education is conducted.

Parents Night was held at the High School on Friday night. After the performance of "Nothing But the Truth," inspection and a reception was given for the parents and teachers.

The other city schools had similar meetings.

Plans for the observance of American Education Week were formulated and executed by the Public Relations Committee of Goldsboro Teachers' Association; Mrs. C. W. Twiford, chairman.

National Honor Society Gives A Talent Show

The National Honor Society, in order to raise money, sponsored a talent show last Wednesday morning in the auditorium.

A quartet from Dillard High School opened the show by singing several selections. Next on the program was the Alice Blue Gown dance. Those who participated in this dance were: Audrey Garris, Jerry Worrell, Peggy Robbins, Millie Cobb, Emma Jean Williams, Mary Grey Hollowell, and Betty Hollowell.

Eloise Balkum sang a solo for the next number. After this, "Dear little Boy of Mine" was sung by Betty Denmark with a response by a group of boys back stage singing "Stout Hearted Men." Mildred Radford gave a tap dance to the tune of "Yankee Doodle Dandy." The next number was a trio with Carlton Frederick, Kenneth Waters, and Bobby Frederick.

The lighter side of the program came when Anna Frank Strosnider and Elton Warrick staged a comedy jitterbug act. A trio, the Vagabonds, composed of Sonny Gaine, John Culloty, and Jimmy Thomas sang a medley consisting of many different tunes. Sara Casey brought variety to the program with her accordion solo. She played a Hawaiian number. A duet, Audrey Garris and Anne Lee, sang "Make Believe." They were accompanied by Lillian Overman at the piano. Betty Hollowell played "The Anniversary Song" on the saxophone. The program was ended by Carlton Frederick singing "Only a Rose" and then joining Mary Grey Hollowell in singing "Sweethearts."

GHS Students Get Two Days Off For Thanksgiving

The students of GHS will be dismissed Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock to celebrate the Thanksgiving holidays, and will return Monday morning at 8:55 o'clock to resume classes.

A program will be given Wednesday sponsored by the sophomore class with emphasis being placed on helping the less fortunate in Goldsboro.

Baskets will be filled with food and will be distributed to the homes by the members of the class.

Each homeroom takes as its objective a family which is selected from a list approved by a committee. There is no limit as to how many baskets a room can fix, but the usual is one per class.

Students Plan Gift Baskets

The project of packing gift boxes for children in other lands, sponsored by the American Junior Red Cross, is now in progress.

Students of Goldsboro High School are doing their part in this project. Each room has filled at least one box, and many rooms have packed a number of these boxes.

Although the gift boxes are small, they hold a number of items. During normal times American Junior Red Cross gift boxes contained certain toys and other small articles.

Delegates Report on Student Meet

Donald Pike, Anna Frank Strosnider, and Herman Vinson, delegates to a meeting of the North Carolina State Student Council Congress, which was held in Elizabeth City on October 20, 21, and 22, gave reports of the meeting in a recent SA assembly.

Donald gave a report of the trip there, registration, the first general assembly, and the discussion group he attended. The name of the discussion group was "Organization of School Government." One of the questions asked during the discussion was "Why organize

The Eastern Regional Conference of Distributive Education met in the Goldsboro High School Auditorium on November 12 to select officers for the coming year, to make plans for the annual State meeting to be held in the spring, and to elect delegates to the National Conference, to be held in April.

Charles Acker of Goldsboro was elected as one of the delegates to attend the National Conference. The other delegates are Dewey Brookshire of Wilmington and Doris Fisher of Leaksville. Bobby de Vane of Greensboro was named alternate delegate.

Bobby de Vane was elected president of the Eastern Regional district for the coming year. Elected to serve with him were James Jones of Leaksville, first vice president; Tom Price of Goldsboro, second vice president; Doris Fisher of Leaksville, secretary; and Henrietta Parnell of Goldsboro, treasurer.

Frank Gates of Goldsboro, a graduate of 1947 and president of the Eastern Regional Conference, called the meeting to order. The delegates were then welcomed by Mr. Ray Armstrong, superintendent of the Goldsboro city schools, and Mr. James W. Butler, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Nine cities were represented in the conference. They were Greenville, Burlington, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Leaksville, Elizabethtown, Laurinburg, Wilmington, and Goldsboro. Each of these cities was allowed two official delegates and as many unofficial delegates as they wished. Tom Price and Charles Acker were the two official delegates representing Goldsboro.

After the welcome there were committee meetings, followed by a short talk on the work of DE students by Mr. Clifton Britton, and the presentation of "Legend of Dust" from the radio workshop. (Continued on Page 8)

Erline Griffin will serve as editor-in-chief for the 1948 Gohisca, the school annual.

Heading the business staff is Davis Byrd, business manager, assisting him are: Ruth Edgerton, assistant business manager; Mimi Weil, circulation manager; Eleanor Brown, senior assistant; Anna Frank Strosnider, and Janie Bartlett, advertising managers.

Christine Byrd is historian for the senior class, Mary Olive Grady will write the Last Will and Testament, and Jane Parker is prophet.

The last Gohisca was published in 1945. The annual gets its name from Goldsboro High School Annual.

French Club Will Have Pins

The French Club decided at a recent meeting to get pins representing the organization. These will be selected in the near future.

Ruth Edgerton, secretary, was appointed to draw up a constitution. As the club was formed last spring, it is still being perfected. The members agreed to have a membership fee of twenty-five cents. Dues of ten cents will be collected at each meeting.

The students are planning to correspond with people in France as soon as possible.

At the next meeting, they are going to select a Frenchman to feed and clothe during this school year. Miss Britt Davis, and adviser, will try to obtain some names.

Christine Byrd was in charge of the meeting.

Schools Broadcast Education Program

Goldsboro schools went on the air during the recent National Education Week.

Parents, teachers, interested patrons, and elementary and high school pupils took part in a series of radio skits which were broadcast throughout that week. One fifteen-minute broadcast and seven five-minute skits were prepared and transcribed in the studios of the Goldmasquers Radio Workshop at Goldsboro High School. They were directed by Mr. Clifton Britton and Mr. Vassie Balkum.

"Judgment Day" was a fifteen-minute skit which was heard over station WGBR on Saturday, November 15, at 7 p. m. The cast for the skit included the following people: Davis Byrd, Carl Casey, Jerry Sandford, Will Bass, Bobby Hill, Charlie Darden, Ashton Griffin, Mary Olive Grady, Anna Frank Strosnider, Ruth Shaver, Betty Denmark, Joyce Dowlin, and Judy Adams. Troy Pate was the control engineer.

The shorter programs were broadcast each evening at 6:30 p. m. from Sunday, November 9 through Saturday, November 15. These skits developed the daily topics emphasized during American Education Week and also carried the sustaining theme throughout the week, of "The Schools Are Yours."

The skit for Sunday was entitled "The Day After Tomorrow." The parts were played by Joe Bazemore, Ethel Parks, Elbert Sills, and Erline Griffin.

On Monday "Schoolboards at Work" was broadcast with the following people taking parts: Elvina Miller, Mannie Bernstein, Travis Rose, Victor Herring, Mike Pate, Carolyn Loftin, Anne Butler, Florence Bowden, and Bill Elliot. The director for this skit was Marilyn Tolochko and the control operator, Bill Edwards.

"For All" is the skit which was given Tuesday. The cast included

Superintendent of Schools Ray Armstrong, Jessine Hart, Jimmy Cavanaugh, and Ann Marlow.

Wednesday the skit was "To Whom It May Concern," and it was presented by Mrs. Floyd Hales, George Thompson, Jr., Mrs. George Thompson, Miss Mary Alice Charlton, and Mrs. Edna Earle Bullock. "Today and Tomorrow" was broadcast on Thursday by Vassie Balkum, Miss Annie Laurie Lowery, Dorch Langston, Ralph Horne, Miss Mary Ann Coe, Steve Dail, and Miss Eleanor Booth.

On Friday "The Classroom Expands" was given by the following people: Lester Gilliken, Herbert Hulse, Miss Eleanor Kornegay, Miss Pearl Arnold, and Mrs. C. W. Twiford.

Another broadcast was presented Saturday evening. It was "La Zelta Speaks" and the following cast gave it: Miss Doris Davis, Elton Warrick, Mrs. Louis Jarmon, Mrs. Frances Benson, and Jimmy Jeffery.
