Delegates Attend Council Congress

The Eastern District of North Carolina Student Council Congress met at Greenville on March 24th. Reba Miller, Ann Smith, Sam Johnson, Mela Royal, Ashton Griffin, and Miss Elizabeth Grant, S.A. advisor, attended from Goldsboro High School.

Officers who served for the 1950 NCSCC convention are as follows: Louis Clark, President; Jack Gary, vice-president; Louise Easterling, secretary; and Dwight Garrett, treasurer.

Ashton Griffin of GHS reported on the National Congress and Dwight Garrett gave a report on the Regional Congress.

Mr. Frank Fuller, Department of Education at ECTC, gave an address to the group on student councils. He pointed out that schools needed more cooperation between the students and teachers and that all should work toward betterment of the school.

Officers elected for the 1950-51 convention were: president, George Patterson; vice-president, Betty Lou Lamb; secretary, Lynwood Braswell.

Panel discussions and forums were held on "What Can the Student Council Do to Develop Leadership?" led by Joe Braxton, Scotland Neck; "Worthwhile Projects for Stimulating Interest and Raising Funds," Julian Selig, Elizabeth City; and "Better Student-Teacher, and Public Relationship," Bobby Bradshaw, Wilson.

12 Seniors Go

Twelve Seniors took the trip. They were: Johnnie Manley, Colleen Faircloth, Gertie Kliener, Barbara Harrell, Peggy Strickland, Betsy Best, Joyce Gurley, Cecil Brown, Fred Shelby, Bobby Wiggs, Bud Davis, and Martha Rose.

Three Sophomores made the trip, also. They were Morris Gurly, Bobby Bryan, and Morris Holt.

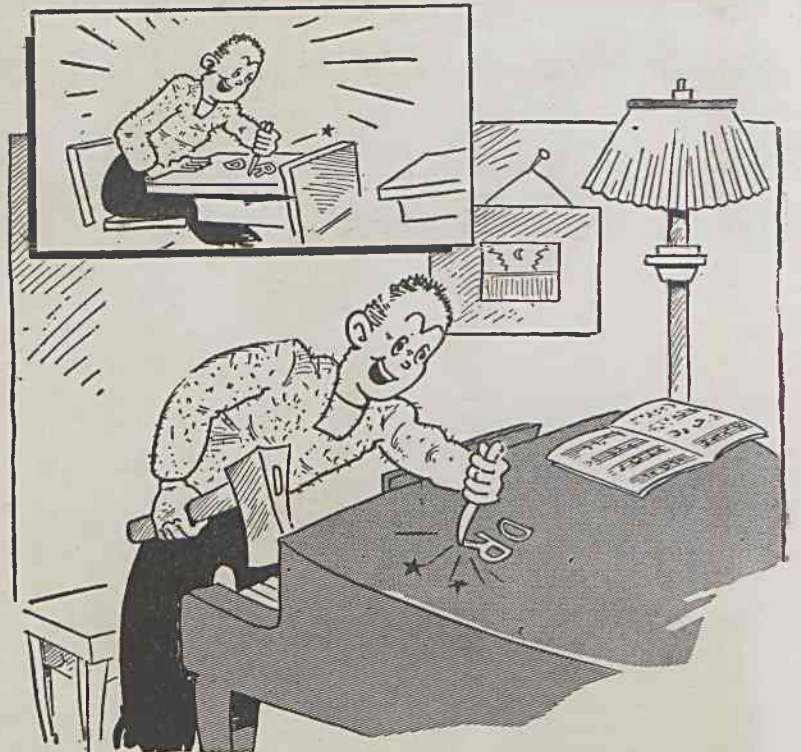

The students visited many places of interest in Washington. They toured the Treasury department where they saw the bureau of Engraving and Printing.

They saw the Washington Monument and some of the more venturesome climbed the steps of the monument. There were 898 steps. The building was dedicated to George Washington by school children.

See Other Sights
They saw the Departments of Commerce, Labor, Agriculture, and Justice. They visited the Capitol, the Senate, the Library of Congress, Gilbert Auditorium, the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the Botanical Gardens, the Natural Art Gallery, Arlington Cemetery, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Emperial Memorial Theater, the Lincoln Memorial, the Smithsonian Institute, the U. S. National Museum of Arts and Industries, and the Ford Theater.

Miss Elizabeth Grant and Coach Charles Doak of the school faculty accompanied the group as chaperones.
