

William Street Sponsors Week-Long Science Fair

A Science Fair, sponsored by the eighth grade of William Street School, opened Monday, May 1, and closed today at 1 o'clock.

Sundry things on exhibition were farms, constellations, The Health Center and puppet show, which were made by the fifth through the eighth grades at William Street.

Mrs. Twiford and Mr. Plonk, teachers at William Street, were in charge of the fair.

The winning exhibits were chosen by twenty judges.

Doak, Louis Hallow, and Donald Jordan sang their version of Ragg Mopp.

The proclamation was read to the students by Junior Cousin, who stated the rules that the Sophomores, Freshmen, and Seniors had to abide by during the week.

The senior class was judged for best performance and the best singing of their class song.

Mr. Britton, Mr. Twiford, and Junior Cousins stressed the need of everyone's co-operation in making the parade a success.
