

Final Home Games Ends In 0-0 Tie

The G.H.S. Earthquakes and Charlotte-Harding battled to a scoreless tie Friday night in the Earthquakes last home game of the season.

This is the third game this season that the Quakes have played to a 0-0 deadlock.

In the first half Charlotte made several big attempts to score but were halted by the stout Goldsboro line. The Quakes, although hampered by injuries, began to show signs of an offense in the second half. D. C. Daughtry threw passes to ends Jay Maxwell and Bobby Martin for gains. In the last few minutes of the game Charlotte took to the air. The Quakes, however, maintained their strong defense and took possession of the ball, with the game ending after two more plays.

The Earthquakes have two more games remaining on their schedule: Durham there, and Greensboro there.

Sociology Class Visits New Homes

A trip was made to the Fairview Homes by Coach Clyde Whitener's second and fourth period Sociology classes.

Purpose of the trip was to see what effect the project would have on future culture. It was the belief of the builders that if children, come from good homes, and are instructed in the right direction, they will be less apt to get on the wrong path.

The rent is based on income and size of family.

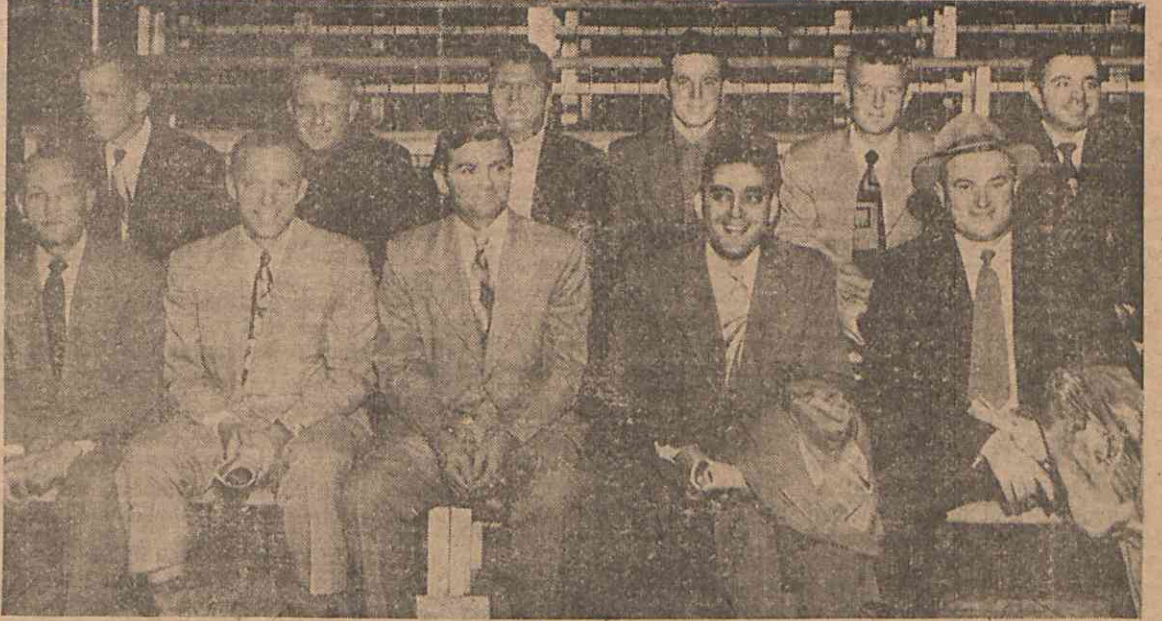

Playgrounds and equipment are being set up for children and a large room is provided for parties.

Other places of social interest are to be visited by the Sociology classes.

"Praying Hands" Devotional Theme

"Praying Hands" was the subject of a talk by Reverend W. D. Caviness, Friday, October 12, at the SA devotional.

Thirteen members of the football team which carried the GHS colors to an undefeated season in 1937 met in a reunion on homecoming day and voted to make it an annual affair. The group saw the Quakes demolish Raleigh in an upset 13-0 victory. Shown from left to right in

Seniors Select Committees To Plan For Various Events Of The Year

Plans for election of the superlatives of the Senior class were made at the senior class council meeting on October 29. The nominations were to be held on Monday and the voting to be carried out on the following days. They will be announced in the annual.

Other business taken up included nominations for a King and Queen from the Senior class for the Hallowe'en Festival. The students elected were Jane Langston and Roger Caudill.

The committees for the Senior class were chosen. The chairmen and advisors are as follows: commencement committee, Morris Gurley, Mr. Britton; class day, Nancy Bridgers, Miss Grant; senior picnic, Sally Edgerton, Mrs. Gurley; invitation, Mary Lillie Chestnutt, Miss McKeel; senior gift, Jimmy Cavanaugh, Mr. Jeffrey.

The discussion of the senior gift was also brought up. Suggestions were made, but nothing definite was decided. Further plans for the gift will be made by the senior gift committee.
