We Are For $1+!$

The Carolina Power and Light Company is sponsoring a contest throughout the areas it serves in the Carolinas in an effort to build finer communities in finer states.

We are fort it!
And we hope the students in Goldsboro High school will lend every effort possible to making the contest a success in Goldsboro.

A total of $$ 8,750.00$ will be given in cash prizes to the towns adjudged Carolina's Fin est. It is possible for a town to win $$ 2,000-$ one prize of $$ 1,000$ for being the leader in its population group and another $$ 1,000$ for ha ing the finest town in the whole of the state.
Watch your News-Argus, listen to your radios, read your Hi News, and glean information from every source you can and then put your shoulder to the wheel and help to make Goldsboro Carolina's Finest Town.

It can be done!

Idleness Is Dangerous

"An idle mind is the devil's workshop."
Have you ever heard this saying? I suppose most of you have and it is really true. As ong as a person is busy working or has something to do that keeps his mind occupied he isn't plannng some prank or joke to play on someone else, which is liable to hurt him; nor is he getting in mischief.

During Career Day we had a chance to at tend classes concerning three occupations which we were interested in, and try to learn more about them in order to make our futures

Clubs such as we have at GHS are working examples of American democracy. They have the progressive ideas, ambitions and charity that have made America a great nation. With the large variety of clubs at GHS we feel that every student should belong to at least one

Build Brotherhood

Even though Brotherhood Week has passed, now is not the time to let the spirit of brotherhood die.

Brotherhood is a way of life, not just a word. It represents more than just a thought to do good or just a spiritual lecture. Brotherhood is no respecter of race, creed or color.

Unless a person's eyes are closed to differ ences and self pride there can be no brother hood.

Now is the time for the youth to step out and lend a hand toward promoting world wide friendship and thus we may obtain brotherhood.

What will it be with you, a corrupt world or a place in which we love our neighbors as ourselves? Now is the hour to make a wise decision as the youth of today and have a better world for those who may follow in the path we have cleared for them successful and happy
All of these were about jobs, but nothing was said to show us how to spend our leisure time. We may choose the right job but can't leisure time we have if it isn't used right?

Sure, our occupation depends a lot on our future happiness, but the planning of our leisure time means even more. So, why on Career Day couldn't we have a class or a lecture on the use of leisure time? It would surely help some of us even though most people think they know how to plan their time.

They may know, but their lives are sometimes ruined because their planning of time wasn't right after all.

Let's learn how to plan our idle time and shop.

Clubs Prove Valuable

The various clubs and organizations at GHS have important purposes to fulfill in the life of the school.

It is not easy to define the purposes of all clubs. It might be said that the purpose is to promote interest in the specific field reprejects or to prepare, to undertake social prolife which they are about to begin.

Clubs promote a cultural interest in the subject they represent. The language clubs, Latin, French, and Spanish, all endeavor to familiarize students with their respective languages and customs of these countries. The and home economics and are perhaps one of the biggest reasons why students participate in their representative activities.

The DE club is a fine example of a club working for the benefit of the entire school. It takes students who are unable to attend colgain experience and progress without a colciety sponsors Stunt Night solely for the purQuill and Scroll SoQuity and Columbia

Strolling In GESS Ealls

By BETTY DAUGHETY Going up and down these halls and passing only a few students can make these journeys mighty can make these journeys mighty nis along to help me see the sights around school.
We no sooner step out the door than we see a graduate of a few years ago. Ashton Griffin dropped in on us to say hello. He was home for a few days so he came to visit his second home
In passing Miss Janie Ipock's room I saw Ann McKenzie with a few others at the board worked like " $x$ " plus " $y$ ". Who ever heard of anyone trying to add letters? I guess they can do about anything nowadays
Miss Eleanor Simpson must have taken her students strolling or to the library as her room was completely empty. Hope they enjoyed this rest (pardon me) reading period.

I passed Billy Allen and Lee

Summerlin in the hall as they were trying to get into the auditorium. Wonder if they were strolling fifth period also.
Betty Hatton was really typing away until she smelled my candy. Oh, well, too bad you had to be in class. Through sign language I found why she was all smiles She had just made 65 words in typing. That's good for a first year student. You should be in second year to help us along or should I say out-type about it, Miss McKeel?
Well, it's back to class for us now, so long.

for the high school lassic. The following is taken from the Texas State Newsletter of the Future Homemakers of America:
Boys' Musts for Girls' Styles After taking a poll of more ported the following are musts for girls' appearance and dress:: Make-up: Most boys like hair medium length and "its natural color with a clean and shiny look and well combed." They hate hair dyed or bleached and "hair rolledup and a rag tied around the head."
School clothes: Comfortable and appropriate are skirts and sweaters, dresses or suits, never slacks ers, dresses or suits, never slacks or blue jeans, which are all right for sports but not for school. Saddle shoes and anklets preferable to stockings. For spring: bright dresses and sandals. Some boys voted for toenails bare, others for toenails polished.
Sports: "Clean, starched, white shorts with a clean white blouse and not a tight T-shirt."
Swim suits: "The average boy appreciates a girl in a modest one-piece swim suit, not a skimpy lit-
