

Back To School Go RM Parents

"Puff!" "Where's room 109?" "Is this the typing room?" "Oh! I'm lost!"

Are these the words of a freshman? No! A new student? No!—Then they must be the words of parents who returned to school for the annual P. T. A. back to school program, November 17.

Approximately 750 parents were welcomed "back to school" by Mr. C. M. Edson in the RMHS auditorium. After a short business session part of a letter stressing "Courtesy Week" were read by four students. Mr. Edson then explained the schedule which parents would follow. He explained that they would follow the schedule of their children.

These "students" were then dismissed and they went to their homerooms. From the homeroom they went to first, second, and third periods. During the next period—activity period—parents went to the clubs to which their children belonged. Then on the fourth and fifth periods went the "students."

After "school" was dismissed the student body was invited to a refreshment hour in the cafeteria. This, say the regular pupils, would be a happy addition to the day's schedule.

The high school was strange looking to many of them and more

Here are three good "Rebels"—They are Dudley Whitley, Wayne Hux and Fred Lee displaying their "Southern Spirit"—"Oh! I wish I "was in Dixie . . . !"

'Are You From Dixie?'

All over town the true Southerners can be seen displaying their Southern spirit. The flag of Dixie—the good old Confederate flag—is on all types of cars ranging from Cadillacs to Model A's. Stickers of the flag are spread out over the windshields. Little kids on bikes and tricycles have their own flags blowing in the breeze. The Southern belles show their spirit by wearing kerchiefs with the Confederate flag design.

Of course, the Southern "gentlemen" doesn't want to be out done by the gals, so he wears ties with the flag of Dixie painted on it. His tie clip has a miniature-flag hanging from it and his cuff links also have the flag on them. The flag of the South also gets painted on jackets, books, and any other available object.

The favorite "Dixie" can be heard over the radio or being whistled by the Southerner. Everywhere one goes the signs that the South is rising again can be seen and heard. The fad of the Confederacy has surely taken over here in the South and since RMHS is one of the South's strongest "forts" it has gone "wild" in showing its Southern spirit!

than one person was completely lost, but to some "pupils" it was just like another day. They had returned now after many years away. Some of the teachers could even remember teaching the parents of some of the pupils who now attend school at R. M. H. S. In this "open house" parents learned what their children do and have to go through each day. This is done to bring about a better understanding among parents, teachers, and students.

'Hi folks, it seems that good ole R. M. H. S is really rolling right along. Can you realize that six whole weeks have already passed? Speaking of passing—we really hope that each of you passed everything!

Even though R. M. H. S rolls on, we know one little group that for a whole week was lost completely. Yes, that is it!!!! Miss Mills' classes really were lost without her while she was in Chapel Hill. We are also mighty glad to have Miss Parker back with us again after a siege of illness.

Congratulations are in order for Janet Fulcher and her committee of Lucinda Oliver (fresh), Nancy Hollingsworth (soph.) Dott Russell (junior), Betty Ho Younginer (senior) and Sarah Williamson as the typist. This committee represents each class and it is certainly doing a fine job with HI-LITES. Good luck to ya, gals.

Kailger Thornton is doing her hometown proud in Waynesboro, Virginia. She came home for Halloween and we sho' did give her a fine hello.

Carolyn Johnson has left R. M. H. S. for Africa. to stay with her husband, who is stationed in Africa.

Kitty Friar and Tam Holiday attended the State-Duke game. Up there were Billy Overton, Billy Cooper, Albert Rabil, watching with Wayne Hux, Fred Lee, and Head Daughtridge looking over their shoulders. Oh, by the way, Duke beat State. What do ya think about that? ? ? ? ?

We've just heard that Mickey Dawson is taking a car load up to see George Newby real soon. The whole school says, Tell him Hi' for me!" Mickey is going on the new Buick!

Myra Padgett and Mary Avera were the guests of Dick Gregory and Jimmy Thornton for the homecoming weekend at Davidson. From all reports they really did like the school.

Raleigh welcomed a big number of R. M. H. S. students to the State Fair a few weeks ago. Peggy Searcy, Jean Cooper, Beryl Peters (a recent addition from Nebraska), James Johnson and Donald Rooker were among them. Jeannette Holmes won a teddy bear while Betty Talton and Jane Allsbrock looked wistfully on.

doctor, is being played by Sheila Robbins. Mrs. Erastus Kingsbury Parmalee, and her two daughters, Esmeralda, and Annabella, are being portrayed by Mary Wilkinson, Tam Holliday, and Johnnie Shelton.

Plans to make this a good production have been made and are being carried out. The play is to be presented in the school auditorium on November 30.
