more Hop told him he would get it? He was real good, wasn't he? The fortune teller, I mean. The whole dance was fun! Didn't Bart run into somebody the other day?"

"I don't know about that, but I'm handing in my license!"

"Why?"

"Edith Ann Johnson got hers!"

"What about him?"

"What about him?"

"See Betty Ivey had a slumber party Friday night."

"What does that have to do with the blister?"

"Keep your shirt on—I'm telling ya! Anyway—Saturday morning Betty, Sue Gregory, Gordon Wilkinson, Elizabeth Vann and I went out to the Club and—this!"

"OK! Be good!"

KNOW HER???

'Teachers Are People', Confirms Miss Riddle

Ever wonder if teachers were young once? Research shows that they actually were, believe it or not. Here's the proof.

Not too many years ago on a hot July day, the stork visited the Riddle family and left a baby girl who tipped the scales at little less than five pounds. Her proud parents decided upon the official title of Jean Marcia for her.

During her early life she had many experiences quite familiar to all youngsters. Once she fell off the sofa and received a "bump on her head." (Could that mean anything?)

When she was ten, her red-headed sister entered her life. Now someone else received all the attention and "little Jean" wasn't too happy about that. She overcame this feeling though, and today her little sis occupies a special place in her heart.

Her first love was with the little boy across the street who would come over every morning to tie her shoe strings. A few years later when her mother was learning how to drive, she had such a hard time backing out that Jean had to learn to back so they could get the car out of the yard.

R. P. I. Graduate

Miss Riddle is a graduate of Richmond Professional Institute of the College of Williams and Mary, where she spent many rollicking moments. During her senior year she was voted one of the five best dressed girls on the campus.

Today Miss Riddle lives with her parents and her teen-age sister. She is a Presbyterian and serves as adviser for the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, D. E. club and the Mixers club.

Drawing, dancing, and dating are a few of her favorite past-times. One of her greatest enjoyments is knowing and getting along with all kinds of people. She likes both popular and classical music. Miss Riddle says that she likes to cook and read.

T.G.F., Favorite Cry Comes Once A Week; Bedlam Reigns At 3:20

Day broke with a flash. What a beautiful sight old Sol made as he climbed into an altogether cloudless sky.

Out of bed a certain junior climbed. With one look outside a moan came from his lips as he realized that he still had to go to school. With a flop he landed back on the bed. Half an hour later he was downstairs eating.

Back upstairs he went to dress. As he poked along his way to RMHS he thought of golf, baseball, tennis, fishing, and zillions of other things he'd rather do than go to school.

Well, he was late! What a way to start the day! But he got there and that's all that matters. Snores could be heard, however, from his corner all during chemistry class. Then, during the whole second period study hall he sat at the window and watched the little birdies play.

Finally in algebra he got down to work. While working eight examples, he loosened up and went to activity period special study hall. Then gloriously lunch time came.

But he was right back to sleep again fourth period U. S. history, and a swell nap he got too. Then, like a bursting bombshell, he went to journalism all hopped for that test, when what happens! No test. A feature was the assignment and down went his spirits again. At last he was finished.

Two minutes later, after one hundred twenty seconds of clock watching, the bell rang. Loudly to himself he yelled, "TGF." It was such a swell spring day.

Students Visit Hospital

"Hope you aren't detained!" was the warning given the students as they started to Goldsboro last Tuesday when thirty-one of them made the trip to the Goldsboro State Hospital for the Insane. Miss Mills and Miss Madlock accompanied the group.

Dr. George M. Johnson, Miss Jessie Johnson's brother, led the students through the buildings and explained some of the different patients and processes used at the hospital.

Abner Finally Marries

Who'd ever guess that after 18 years of narrow escapes, that Li'l Abner would finally get hitched to that ever chasing Daisy Mae?

It was no April Fool stunt last week when Al Capp finally decided to let his favorite character get caught. There'll be no "mountain moving", no fake preachers, nor "kickapoo joy juice" to save his this time.

What was Al Capp's reason for marrying Abner? After being criticised about many of the characters he has created, he realized there now is a new kind of humor in operation—that in which the humourist kidded nothing but himself.

Al thus decided that he would try this new humour. Why not? He was the one who laughed hardest at his own jokes! He himself wondered what it would be like if Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae were ever married. "The more I thought about it, the more complicated and disastrous and therefore, irresistible the idea became," stated Capp.
