

SERVICE CLUBS CHOOSE OFFICERS TO SERVE DURING FIRST SEMESTER

Service Clubs of Senior High had their third meeting last Wednesday and concluded the election of their officers.

Senior High has six clubs which are known as service clubs and serve the school in many ways. They render aid to the school and community, help promote better sportsmanship and undertake any project that helps or gives service to the school.

The officers for first semester are Service Club; advisor, Mrs. Bailey; President, Dwight Thomas; Vice President, Jimmy Williams; Secretary, Gloria McDonald; Corresponding Secretary, Barbara Haddon; Treasurer, Carlton Edwards; Chaplin, Nancy Dunn. The Service Club undertakes as one of its many money making projects, the selling of programs at football games.

S. O. S. Club; advisor, Miss Walker and Miss Bissett; President, Marshall Pittman; Vice President, Tim Shearin; Secretary, Evelyn Ferguson; Treasurer, Dee Hooker. As its main projects during the year the S.O.S. sells programs at the basketball games and runs the concession stand at the baseball games.

Good Sports Club; advisor, Mrs. Cuthrell; President, Stephanie Matthews; Vice President, Jean Bradley; Secretary, Mary Jeffress; Treasurer, Gaye Pitt. Selling ribbons for various events is one of the projects of this club. Phalanx Club; advisor, Mrs. Speight; President, Brack Townsend; Vice President, Jack Long; Secretary, Bill Wiggins; Treasurer Buddy Elmore. Chaplin, The Phalanx Club has to select a new project this year because of the cancellation of their bake sale.

Kudos Club; advisor, Mrs. Williams; President, Ronnie Arrington; Vice President, Cameron Hunt; Secretary, Gwen Joyner; Treasurer, Suzanne Arle; Chaplin, Dale Kilgo. School stationary and annual covers are sold annually by the Kudos Club.

Sponsors Chosen For Home Games

Sponsors for the home conference football games were chosen by RMSH Students in homeroom. These sponsors' duties are to promote a friendly rivalries between the participating schools.

Sponsors for the Goldsboro game were Ginna Aldridge, escorted by Ernesto Arroyo, and Susan Strandburg, escorted by Frank Harrison. Jackie Oakly, escorted by Micky Bailey, and Pam Luper, escorted by Harold Earnhardt, were the sponsors for the Wilmington game. Sponsors for the Fayetteville game were Jan McCrary, escorted by David Williams and Carolyn Felton, escorted by Greg Low.

RMSH Welcomes Student Teachers

Five senior girls from East Carolina are working toward their degrees by doing their student teaching at Senior High.

Teaching in the French Department is Miss Brenda Johnson who is under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Craighill. Miss Johnson who is from Four Oaks, will graduate in June with a major in French and a minor in English.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hayworth, Mrs. Evelyn Starling is doing student teaching in Spanish. After returning to East Carolina for further study she will graduate in June with a major in Spanish and a minor in English.

Seen teaching in Mrs. Cuthrell's classroom is Miss Bonnie Gibbs from Lynnhaven, Virginia. When her practice teaching is completed she will return to complete her studies in order to graduate in June, 1963.

Student teaching in art during fifth and sixth periods are Miss Jo Anne Ballance and Miss Nannette Fussell. Miss Ballance who is from Manteo, is working for her double major in art. Coming from Blanteboro, is Miss Fussell who is striving for a major in art and a minor in geography. Miss Ballance and Miss Fussell spend their mornings teaching at other schools in the city.

All of us at Senior High welcome them to our school.

Fire Prevention Week Is Observed In October By Senior High Students

Stop fires! Save lives! were the words seen everywhere in the halls and classrooms during Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

Members of the bulletin board committee were responsible for the posters and bulletin boards urging the students to consider the tremendous importance of fire prevention.

In remembrance of the enormous tragic fire of Chicago 1871, Fire Prevention Week is observed nationally every year. Years ago, the major job of the fire department was to fight fires; however, fire fighting has become secondary. Prevention of fire is now the supreme concern. By striving to prevent fires, the fire department feels it is serving the community to a great extent. It is extremely important that students realize the value of fire prevention because it will become our responsibility as future citizens of our community. J. R. Thomas, chief in charge of fire prevention, has said, "Fire prevention is simply common sense in everyday life." Ninety per cent of all fires are a result of carelessness. THINK logically. Prevent fires.
