

Juniors, Seniors Begin Club Program Here

"What club are you in? Hey—where do I go? Is he in here?" These were just some of the remarks overheard as the club program got underway Tuesday, September 21. Juniors and seniors filled out applications a few days before for admittance into service clubs, interest groups, and study clubs.

Both service clubs and interest clubs not only serve the school and community while boosting school spirit, but also provide a break in studies. They boost the athletics of our schools by selling pom-poms, victory ribbons and programs. The clubs provide such services as serving breakfast for the Easter Sunrise Service, raising and lowering of the flag, and decorating the school bulletin boards.

There are several requirements to becoming a member of these clubs. To become a member of a service club, a student must maintain a C average, be a junior or senior and attend RMSHS for at least a semester. Students joining an interest club must be a junior or senior and must have attended RMSHS for at least a semester.

Clubs Serve School

The Good Sports Club, with advisor Mrs. Hardesty, plays a large part in our athletics and school spirit. The club sells ribbons, corsages, and confetti throughout the year.

The SOS Club, under the direction of Mrs. Hardy, is not necessarily a plea for help. "Service Over Self" is the meaning of this club. This club sells basketball programs, manages the baseball concession stands, and maintains the school's beautiful indoor gardens.

Raising, lowering, and carrying the flag, presenting devotionals, and selling football programs are three of the main duties for members of the Service Club. The advisor of this club is Mrs. Winstead.

Mrs. Speight, advisor of the Phalanx Club, will supervise this service club in selecting the basketball "player of the week," basketball "player of the year," and in performing various services around the school.

The selling of plastic Hi-Noc-Ar covers, helping at P.T.S.A. activities, and serving refreshments after the Easter Sunrise Services are all a part of the Kudos Club activities.

The Booster Club, under the direction of Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Lundy, strives to "boost" all school activities, including social events, school projects, and sports. The club is now selling pom-poms for the football games.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Monogram Club meet on alternate Mondays. Comprised of boys playing both major and minor sports, the clubs are under the supervision of Mr. Lundy (Monogram) and Mr. Whitley (Fellowship of Christian Athletes).

The Radio Broadcasters Club, Mr. Gorham and Mr. Doles, is a club for students interested in electronics and the radio field. The club gives school news and activities on Radio Station WCEC and WJED twice a week for a half-hour.

The Great Music Club, under the direction of Mrs. Bobbitt, studies and enjoys work in the field of music.

Miss Grant and Miss Craig-hill help members of the Bridge Club to understand and enjoy the game of bridge more. This is one of the hobby clubs of Senior High.
