Date For FHA Week Announced; Convention To Be Held In Raleigh

The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) held its regular meeting on Wednesday, March 12, at which time the following business and events for the remainder of the year were discussed:

Their only money-making project has been the sale of cook books and school record books. The Mother-Daughter banquet is scheduled for May. The state FHA convention is to be held at Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh, May 17. National FHA Week will be observed the week of March 23-29. The theme for the National FHA, "Focus on Positive Action," will be carried out during the week, as the FHA club participates in good citizenship activities.

National FHA Week is a vital opportunity for all the 12,053 junior and senior high school chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and in American Army Post Schools abroad to expose to the general public what young people are doing in a positive way to promote the principles of good citizenship and work toward the improvement of our society.

Aim of FHA

The aim of National FHA Week is to drown out the noise of the rebellious and irresponsible few and remind the public that the great majority of young people, and particularly the 602,000 who are members of Future Homemakers of America, are concentrating on positive action as they look "Toward New Horizons," the FHA motto, and strive for the improvement of life in America.

During FHA Week, members will be concerned with emphasizing the significance of the FHA in the nation. The following are a few of the FHA facts:

The Future Homemakers of America is a nonprofit national organization supported by membership dues and is an integral part of the secondary school home economics education program. Members are both boys and girls in home economics. The organization was founded June 11, 1945, and its program of work is designed by the youth themselves as they improve personal, family, and community living.

Kiwanis Choice For March Is Future Heart Surgeon

The Kiwanis Club of Rocky Mount has again chosen an outstanding young man for Kiwanis Boy of the month. Tommy Jordan serves as the Kiwanis selection for March.

Being the well-rounded person that he is enables him to do and enjoy many things. Tommy is a determined young man with definite goals and ideas in life. He cares about people and their needs. One example of his interest is shown in the work he is doing. Tommy works as an inhalation technician at Park View Hospital in the afternoons after school.

Next year Tommy will attend UNC at Chapel Hill where he has been accepted under the early decision plan.

He hopes to study medicine in the field of cardiovascular surgery, and become a surgeon. Tommy was also one of RMSH's Morehead nominees to UNC.

Here at RMSH Tommy is involved in many things. Being chairman of the House and Grounds Committee takes up quite a bit of his time. He is also a member of the National Honor Society, and is frequently listed on the A and B honor rolls.

Leadership and dependability are very good adjectives describing Tommy, because he has both honored and served his class. He received the Civitan Award in the tenth grade and was President of his Junior Class.
