Homemaking Award Goes To Senior Beth Rawlins

Beth Rawlins, a senior at RMSH has been announced as a local winner in the 1972 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. General Mills sponsors this program yearly.

The State Homemaker will be chosen from all of the high schools in North Carolina. The girls are chosen locally on the basis of their scoring on a written knowledge and attitude test. The girls took this examination last December 7.

Along with Beth, three other girls were recognized as local winners. They are Sheila Boone, Northern Nash; Elizabeth R. Hicks, RMA; and Carolyn Davenport, West Edgecombe. Each of these four young ladies is eligible for the state and national award. The state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a set of Encyclopedia Britannica will be sent to her school.

In April, a representative from each state will meet in Washington, D. C., for the announcement of the national winner. The national award will be presented on a basis of personal interviews. It is a great honor for Beth to be chosen as a local winner. We wish her best of luck as she moves on to state competition.
