Students Compete For Scholarships

For the first time in the history of the John Motley Morehead Foundation, girls are allowed to compete for the highly coveted Morehead Scholarship. This year's nominees are Doug Henley, Susan Mooring, Bruce Battle, Donna Joyner, Walter Ricks, Carolyn Brantley, and Michael Alston.

As set up, the Morehead is a four year scholarship for students who excel in their studies and school activities, and who plan to attend UNC at Chapel Hill. UNC made the decision to allow young women to compete for the Morehead in lieu of the changing nature of society.

Nominees

Doug Henley, quarterback for the Gryphons, is a National Honor Society member and performs in the marching band. Henley plays on varsity football, baseball, and basketball teams. He is a "B" honor roll student, president of his homeroom, and an Eagle Scout. Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Henley.

Susan Mooring has held several homeroom offices, is active in Phalanx Club, the Student Store Committee, and the Social Committee. She is a National Honor Society member, a Governor's School delegate, and a National Merit Semi-finalist. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mooring.

Bruce Battle is a National Honor Society member. He served as president of his sophomore class. Bruce plays basketball with his church league and at the YMCA. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Battle.

Donna Joyner plays an active role in school life. She is the secretary of the National Honor Society, a member of the Good Sports Club, the Student Store Committee, and the House and Grounds Committee. She serves her homeroom as an SRA representative. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Joyner.

Walter Ricks made the "B" honor roll while attending RMSH and is a member of the Senior Privileges Committee.

Magazine Campaign Lags Short Of Expected Goal

The sophomore class ranked high in the recent magazine sale. The sophomores sold a total of $3,546.23. They were followed by the junior class with $3,312.75 and the senior class with $2,618.41.

The three highest individual salesmen were Sophomore Allen Salyer with $230.77, Junior Larry Joyner with $147.98, and Sophomore Ross Conyers with $133.26. The three will divide $100 with each salesman's share corresponding to the percentage of magazines sold.

For students who sold more than $10 worth of subscriptions, there were daily drawings for prizes. Boon McGee won a portable television, Rose Chappell won an 8-track tape deck, and Greg Gunter won a ten-speed bike.

The Co-operative Office Occupatin Class compiled the money and statistics for the sale. This is the largest money-making activity for the Future Business Leaders of America. They receive five percent of the school's profits for their work. The group uses the money for a banquet honoring their employees.

Profits from the sale are spent to the advantage of every student as they are distributed through the Student Representative Assembly and individual classes. The magazine sale is the only money-making project sponsored by the entire student body during the school year.

Seniors Contend In Semi-Finals

Four senior high students won acclaim from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Susan Mooring and Carolyn Brantley have placed as semi-finalists for National Merit Scholarships. Phyllis Goffney and Gail Phillips have been named as semi-finalists for scholarships from the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students. The recipients of these awards will be named in the Spring of 1975.

The Merit Scholarship semi-finalists have corresponding interests. Carolyn and Susan are second year members of the National Honor Society and are consistently named as A honor roll students. They hold the distinction of being nominees to the Governor's School. Susan attended and participated in the School of French. Both are club members. Susan is the secretary of the Phalanx Club while Carolyn has a hand in Booster Club activities. They hope to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Carolyn plans to study History.

Phyllis Goffney and Gail Phillips are close friends. Gail is in Distributive Education and works at Sears & Roebuck in the Catalogue Department. Phyllis, a National Honor Society member, fills her time as a Varsity Cheerleader and Co-chairman of the Social Committee.

Phyllis is undecided as to her college choice but plans to major in Broadcast Journalism. Gail will enroll at Spelman College next Fall, majoring in Political Science.
