Parrish Honored By Secretaries

Cindy Parrish, a senior, won a scholarship from the Rocky Mount Chapter of National Secretaries. She was presented with the $150.00 scholarship at the Bosses' Night Dinner Banquet at the Canton Station, April 21.

Cindy was selected from several other students in the Cooperative Office Occupations

Class. This course will help future secretaries prepare themselves for their careers. Cindy was chosen on the basis of her ability as well as work.

When she is not busy with school, one can expect to find Cindy fishing or skiing. Cindy is an active member of Proteens and attend the First Baptist Church.

COO Honors Employers

Mrs. Jane White's Cooperative Office Occupations class held their annual Employer-Employee Banquet on April 27, at Buck Overtons. The purpose of the banquet was to give the COO girls a chance to better their relationships with their employers.

The welcome was given by Susie Carrigan, vice president, and the guests were introduced by Patricia Scarboro, secretary;

Glenda Dunican, recorder, gave the invocation.

The girls wrote and performed a skit, entitled "The Disastrous Office."

Students To Go To Chapel Hill

Delegates from the Journalism classes at Rocky Mount Senior High will attend the 35th Annual Scholastic Press Institute Sunday, June 13 through Wednesday, June 16 at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute, which is sponsored by the UNC School of Journalism, will include sessions of newspapers, yearbooks, and literary magazines for students and advisors, and contests and critiques of publications.

The delegates will elect officers to carry out the association's business for the '76-'77 year.

Schools are allowed to participate in contests. Each newspaper and yearbook will be grouped according to enrollment of its school. The newspapers and yearbooks will be judged in three categories: Best Overall, Specific Categories (such as news, editorials, features, sports, layout, photography, cartoons, and ads), and Individual Categories (news stories, features, editorials, sports, stories, cartoons, and photographs).

Alston And Jordan Visit University

Denise Alston and Daryl Jordan, two juniors, traveled to Chapel Hill to spend a fun-filled and informative weekend at the University of North Carolina April 8-10. They experienced college life by living on campus and talking with UNC students. They also met with the Director of Admissions, financial aid officers, the dean, and other college officials to discuss admission requirements, financial aid, etc.

The trip was sponsored by the Black Students Movement in an effort to encourage more black high school students to apply at UNC. At RMSH, a bulletin was sent to all junior homerooms, and all interested black juniors signed up. Mr. William Hutchinson looked over the students' academic records and then decided upon two students whom he thought would have a good chance of being admitted to UNC.

JAMES NORMAN SPOKE...Mr. Cutts World Cultures Classes were visited by James Earl Norman. [Photo by T. Bulluck]

Class Visited

"I loved high school and I feel at home among the students," he said as he stood at the front of the room.

James Earl Norman recently visited Mr. Vann Cutts' history class, telling the students of the great diversity of the ethnic groups in Latin America. He also talked on the poverty and lack of education. "I spent most of my money buying bread for the hungry little children," he said.

Mr. Norman has traveled to Robby Nobles, Karen Walston, and Mary Fleming.
