

Here and There With English 12

MAX FACTOR PRODUCTION HOLDS FASCINATION FOR WOULD-BE HEROES: The dramatic class listened and observed with mild attention the demonstration and lecture on old age makeup. With the teacher produced a small bottle of Black Tooth Enamel, however, enthusiasm flamed among the students. Indeed, this product that is used to black teeth out appealed so strongly to the students that Miss Miller offered a penny for an application, while Terry Mills confessed that he wanted to perform his mother that he had met with an accidental playing football.

THE HALF-HOLIDAY FOR THE FAIR was a great success in everyone's opinion. Everywhere one turned there were students. The faculty, however, practically monopolized the Midway on Wednesday night. The "galers" following them were particularly amused at the sight of Mr. Gehrung, his legs up to get into a scooter-car and Mr. Gehring playing cowboys with a boy named Eddie during a daring rescue of Miss Cockerham.

OVERHEARD: One day as the biology class listened to a discussion on the teacher, she asked if anyone was afraid of snakes.

Grady Hearne said, "I am not afraid of two but kinds."
"What kinds?" asked Miss Moore.
"Big ones and little ones," answered Grady.

Calvin Doby: "I was late for dinner the other day and they had the turkey piece of chicken for me."

Bill Hough: "Which piece was that?"
Calvin Doby: "The gravy!"

Bill Hough: "Once there were two Irishmen—and now there are lots of 'em."

ABOUT CLASSES: A coincidence of the other day and they were in the interest piece of chicken for me."
Bill Hough: "Which piece was that?"
Calvin Doby: "The gravy!"
Bill Hough: "Once there were two Irishmen—and now there are lots of 'em."

FROM A CHAPEL TALK: "The kingdom of heaven is what you think, in what you do, in the valuation you place on your own life and the valuation you place on the lives of others."

ABOUT STUDENTS: It seems that the students with classes on the new side of the building have developed a new hobby. Several of the boys were seen winking at the new teachers, the gentlemen. The other day a man passed by, and Kathleen Russell gave the hand to the man. The man, the gentleman was none other than Mr. Gibson!

Our pupils aren't lazy, but it seems that several of them use eye and shoe-saving devices available. Since Ed Dennis hurt his ankle playing football, he has been sliding down the banisters. His only fear, he said, was that the seat of his pants might get dirty.

ALMOST EVERYONE COLLECTS SOMETHING—music, poetry, money, or various other things. By a recent interview with the members of the club, we have discovered some very interesting ones.

Robertson, our librarian, says, "I don't exactly collect anything." (Continued on Page Six)

Several Committees Are Appointed; Active Work is Begun.

Council Sponsors Negro Chorus Program.

The Student Advisory Council, which was organized last year, has become active again this year school affairs. Plans have been laid out and discussed.

The council consists of members elected from each home room and the officers of the student body elected last year. The officers are as follows: president, Bill Mann; vice president, Pauline Beaver; secretary, Lafayette Blackwell; treasurer, Virginia Gilliam. They have as their faculty advisor, Miss Laws.

The Entertainment, Athletic, Visual Education, Social, and Housekeeping committees have been appointed by the president. The Entertainment Committee will endeavor to sponsor a series of chapel programs, at least one each month, the first of which was given October 14 by the Kingville Glee Club.

The Advisory Council, this year first undertook to sponsor the sale of season football tickets, and it has definitely decided to sponsor again a field day and intramural football tournament.
With the cooperation of the faculty and students, the council will attempt to raise the standard of citizenship in the school.

Vegetables For Cafeteria Grown In Garden Project

About three hundred gallons of soup mixture are now available for use in the cafeteria to feed under-nourished children. This mixture is a result of a federal garden project, sponsored by the board of county commissioners this summer. Vegetables were planted in the garden, located near the filter plant, and during the summer they were canned.

Students Begin Vocational Work

Twenty-two students from the eleventh and twelfth grades have secured employment with various firms in town through the vocational class taught by Mr. Brown. The purpose of this class is to teach a trade through actual experience in the business. A list of the students taking this course and those firms cooperating with the school and offering training follows:

Each Room Will Have Reception Auditorium to Be Amplified.

The announcement has been made from the office of the superintendent that a complete sound system for the high school will be installed within a few weeks. The proposed equipment will allow the principal to address each room either separately or collectively and will permit the teachers to speak to the principals from the classrooms. It will also provide for radio programs to each room.
Programs from the auditorium may be broadcast to the various rooms. Provisions will be made for amplification of the programs within the auditorium. This will overcome the difficulty that people in the back of the auditorium have had in hearing the programs.
The system will be the modern Stromberg Electronics Company's latest production. A cabinet of pleasing appearance will be located in the principal's office and will contain a radio tuner, amplifier and a phonograph turntable. The speakers located in the various class rooms will be of an attractive modernistic design.
The installation of this system will add much to the effectiveness of the school. From the standpoint of announcements music will be saved, and there will naturally be a minimum of interruptions of class work.
This radio feature will be invaluable in the teaching of history, civics, and music appreciation. It will stimulate interest in school work and further the high school student's capability in their quest for knowledge.
