

Library Adds New Volumes

Shelves Hold 80 Books Ready For Circulation.

Eighty new books, recently received by the library, are now on the shelves and ready for circulation.

Some of them are "They Fly for Victory", "Annapolis Today", "The Fleet Today", "The New Treasury of War Poetry", "Torpedo Junction", "Our Marines", "Victory at Midway", "Thirty Seconds over Tokyo", "Dogs of War", "Some Follow the Sea", "Inside the F. B. I.", "Round Trip to Russia", "Complete Introduction to Photography", "Dr. Carver, Scientist", "D Day", "Pilots Man Your Planes", "Hawaii, Show Territory", "Curtain Going Up", "War Correspondent", "Who's Who", "Young Wilkie", "Invasion Diary", "Leave Her to Heaven", "New Guinea", "The Seventh Cross", and "Song of Tomorrow".

Something worthy of note is a gift to the library of Beard's "Basic History of the U. S.," by Conrad Crofts.

Nutrition Movies Shown In School

Movies on nutrition were shown to five classes of A. H. S. Wednesday and Thursday by Miss York Kiker, marketing specialist of the N. C. Department of Agriculture.

In a short introductory talk preceding the showing of the movies, Miss Kiker said, "You have heard the statement, 'Tell me what a man eats and I will tell you what he is.' You should select wisely what you eat. All of us want to be able to take in sports, and the healthier and happier you are the more fun you will have."

"Don't waste food. Food plays an important part in your personality. Everyone knows that a 'drip' doesn't have much personality and we don't want to be 'drips'!"

The movies that were shown were "More Life In Living," "America Learns to Fly", and "Admirals In the Making."

All three movies stressed the importance of balanced meals, with such foods as milk, eggs, butter, cheese, fruits, meat and ice cream.

The last two films showed the army air corps training and scenes from Annapolis, showing their meals and the importance to them of the right kind of food.

New Bible Club Has Been Formed

For the next seven weeks Miss Warren's home room is taking Bible through the Bible Club.

Officers for this group are: Harold Dennis, pres.; Brady Harris, vice-pres.; G. D. Watkins, sec. and treas.

The Bibles, bought by the Bible committees, have come. They are one of the best editions of the American Revised Version. They cost only $2.25 and are complete with maps and references.

The contest that Miss Peebles has been conducting between the boys and girls with the new workbooks has proved successful.

Officers Chosen By Three Clubs

Three clubs have been organized in the high school at present, and officers have been elected and installed. The clubs and officers follow.

Officers of the Dramatics club are: Pete Clark, president; Johnie Andrews, vice-president; Joyce and Jean Boone, secretaries; Johnie Gaskin, treasurer. The Dramatics club is under the direction of Miss Theresa Taylor.

Typing And Business Classes Help Xmas Seal Sale.

In preparation for the annual Christmas Seal Sale of the Stanly County Tuberculosis Association, forty-five hundred envelopes were addressed by Miss Rogers' second year typing class, and around a hundred letters were prepared for mailing by Mrs. Williams' Business Training class.

These Seals will be sent to families in Stanly County.

The proceeds of the sale will be used to carry on the work of the Association. In order to find the tuberculosis germ in its early stages, chest X-rays are necessary. These X-rays have been given to every school teacher, negro and white, in Stanly County, including the teachers at Pfeiffer Junior College. The goal of the Association is to give this X-ray to every citizen of the county.

During the X-raying of the teachers, clerical assistance was given by the doctors by several members of the Business Training Class of the high school.

kins, secretary-treasurer; sponsor, Miss Peebles.

Officers of Mixed Chorus are: Henry Turner, president; Oscar Lackey and Jack Furr, vice-presidents; Mildred Hathcock, Claudine Boone, Edwin Boone, and Donald Whiteley, secretaries; Jeanne Palmer, treasurer; director, Mr. Fry.
