

Library News

The library has moved into its new quarters in the new Albemarle high school building. It has pale green walls with natural finish shelves. In the right corner there is a yellow plastic covered love seat for the "love-birds" who meet in the library during home room period. Lounge chairs are placed about the room for students who wish to dream of the night before. Window seats have been installed to aid patrons in watching the physical education classes on the athletic field.

Cookies and coca-colas are being served to the faculty and students by library assistants. Since the opening of the new library, Miss Holbrook has had one and two page synopses of all books on the reading list for students to use as book reports.

NEW BOOKS

Stepping Stones To Better Sportsmanship by Mr. Donald Peiffer and Mr. Toby Webb is a combination of basketball and football stories.

The English teachers and Miss Holbrook have out a new reading list for the entire school. Instead of reading a long drawn-out novel, you may read about the romance of Mickey and Minnie Mouse or any other comic book character by Walt Disney.

For magazine articles you may select any story from True Confession, Movie Magazine, or Modern Romance.

Short stories consist of six Mutt and Jeff strips by Bud Fisher.

Sports Chatter

Has everybody heard the good news about the boys' basketball team? They received an invitation to the W.C.A.A. tournament last week. They will play against teams like North Carolina, State, CCNY, Holy Cross, and other top teams in the nation. The N.C. A.A. officials said it was highly irregular to invite a high school team to this tournament, but since the Albemarle team showed such an art of freezing the ball they should invite them anyway.

The Stanly Steamers put their undefeated title at stake last week and were defeated for the first time. Up until this time they were the only undefeated basketball team in the nation. After this defeat their record stands at no wins against only one defeat.

Since basketball season is over, everybody is starting to think about next year's football team. Coach Webb hasn't said anything definite, but he listed some of his best prospects as "Scrub" Earnhart as guard, F. A. Newton as his shiftiest half back, "Booge" Bowers as end, Gene Huneycutt as rugged tackle, Robert Shaver as end, Jim Griffin as center, Betty Brunson as fullback, and Lou Stevens as tackle. Coach Webb says he is going to talk to Mrs. Fry and Mrs. Peiffer and see if he can get some of his seniors back.

ATTENTION—Each voter for the honorable "Swink" Laughter will receive a free subscription to the "Full Moon" for the rest of the year.
