May 5, 1950

FULL MOON THE

Page 3

Editor's Scribblings

Miss Beatrice Holbrook Albemarle, High School Dear Madam:

The case you employed me to solve proved to be most fas-cinating as well as interesting. I am happy to report that all your missing books will be returned by Monday. Perhaps you'd like to know in whose custody I found each of them. I hope you are as pleasantly surprised and amused as I was.

e	e as pleasantly surprised and amu	sed as I was.
	Lord Johnny	Johnny Knight
	Strange Woman
	Postman Always Rings Twice Life with Father
	Life with Father
	Call of the Wild	Carron Davis
	The Hanny Prisoner	Henry Forrest
	Our Hearts Were Young and Gay.	Max and Delly
	Lost Horizon	Hoyle Glibert
	Voungor Brother	Raion Setzier
	Creat Expectations	with with auyen
	Whore the Heart IS	Falsy rettil
	High Pockets	Lowell Hartsell
	Little Black Sambo	wayne Paimer
	Valiant Lady	Martha Moore
	The Kid Comes Back	Helen Harwood
		lognotto Donnis
	Give Us Our Dream	Bob and Angela
	Daddy Long Legs	Henry Efird
	ConfidentialT	ommy and Sally Neale
	Confidential	Donald Tucker
	Nover Dieg the Droam	Barbara Setzler
	Sold to the Ladies	L.S.M.F.T
	Johnny Get Your Money's Worth
	Journey Among Warriors	Mrs. Peiffer
	Sold to the Ladies Johnny Get Your Money's Worth Journey Among Warriors Invitation to Live	Jack Morton
	The Lost Colony	Beach Bums
	The Three Musketeers	Dwight, Jane, and Cob
	Little Women	Jean and Jane Bullock
	Lassie Come Home	Parents
	Most Secret
	Lure of the Great Smokies They Were Expendable Love at First Flight	Lounges
	They Were Expendable
	Love at First Flight	Sarah and Randall
	Croon Voars	8th and 9th Graders
	Going on Sixteen	Sylvia Morrow
	Going on Sixteen. Gentlemen Aren't Sissies.
	This Side of Innocence She's Off to College It's Fun to Keep Fit	Gaynelle Chandler
	She's Off to College	Mary Helen Cooper
	It's Fun to Keep Fit	Ed Patterson
	Dreams of Glory	Jimmy Brown
	Very truly yours,
	COUSIN ROY	Private Eve No. 773597

COUSIN ROY, Private Eye No. 773597.

Through The Keyhole

YOUNG'UN and SWINK

Sara's mother — "Sara, why do you make such a fuss about going to the dentist?"

Sara Skidmore — "Oh, mother, I just can't stand being bored."

Sid Helms. — "Ever been pinched for going too fast?" "Cob" Griffen: "No, but I've been slapped!"

Mr. Davis: "Did you have the car out last night, son?"

Carroll: "Yeah, dad, I took some of the boys out to the dairy. Mr. Davis: "Well, tell the boys found one of their little lace hankies. Judge (to couple): "Caught on a dark road, eh? What are your names?"

He: "Ben Pettin."

She: "Ann Howe."

Ann Taylor: "I became engaged to the cutest fellow last night." his name?

Power Of Press

sistance.

valuable for costuming helps. Mrs. Barbee of Badin even sent four 1910 hats to be used by the cast.

"The power of the press is cer-Lib Elder: "You did? What's is name?" Ann: "Oh, you can't ask a fellow Define power of the press is cer-tainly established by the respon-ses given my plea," says Mrs. Peiffer. "Without these kind do-

WHO'S WHO

BETTY BOONE

"The happiest moment of my life was when I found that I had been chosen for Who's Who," said friendly and likeable Betty Boone, our spotlight choice of the month.

Betty, whose hobby is "just having fun," is kept busy with her many activities and studies. During her years at high school, she has been a Student Council representative, homeroom secre-tary, Mixed Chorus accompanist, senior class secretary, and a member of the Booster's, Dramatics, and French clubs. Last year she was chosen chief cheerleader, an honor that she really deserved.

Talented in music, Betty serves as organist of the First Baptist Church. On Saturdays she can be found smiling behind the cash register at Merit's Shoe Store.

Popular Betty's sincere and helpful character, in addition to many excellent traits, will aid her in the future as well as it has in the past, for she plans to enter the Presbyterian School of Nur-sing after graduation.

"Dress Well and Succeed"

Ready-to-Wear for Women - Misses - Teen Ages Little Girls and Babies

year, president of his homeroom for two years, Student Council representative two years, presi-dent of the French club last year, a member of the Monogram club, the Dramatics club, and the basketball team. He's the guy who has promised to clean up A. H. S. as chairman of the "Building and Grounds" committee. One of the harriest moments of O. Stovall the committees from

One of the happiest moments of Johnny's life was when the Bull-dogs beat Concord 25-0 in Con-That was one of the few cord. times Albemarle had ever beaten them on their home field. "By the way," he said proudly, "Concord's never beaten us here either."

The 5 ft. 10 inch senior with hazel eyes and dark brown hair (who is described by eighth grade girls as dreamy) appeared in the play "If Men Played Cards as Women Do."

When asked what his ideal girl would be like, he just answered "Ask Barbara; she ought to know."

Clean Up Day

sistance. Quite unexpectedly Mrs. Peiffer received numerous telephone calls from people in the community volunteering s u ch information about 1910 as they remembered. Mrs. Ruth Morris, '307 Old Salis-bury Rd., sent a 1910 Saturday Evening Post and a Designer. A Ladies Home Journal Pattern Book, 1910, supplied by Mrs. H. S. Lisk, Brooks street, proved in-valuable for costuming helps. Mrs.

Seniors Receive Babe Ruth Award

Harry Pawlik and Anne Milton will be presented the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Award in assembly next Friday. These students were chosen by the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades on the basis of sportsmanship not only on the athletic field but also in the classrooms.

A committee of seniorCouncil representatives and the school of-ficers decided that the following girls and boys were most deserv-ing: Ann Milton, Ellene Holbrook, Betty Boone, Janet Deese, Harry Pawlik, William Grigg, Doug Archer, and Jake Sides.

Archer, and Jake Sides. The Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards have been created with the hope of enlisting greater en-thusiasm for good sportsmanship and fair play throughout secon-dary schools. These Awards typi-fy the spirit of fair play of Babe Ruth and his benevolent and con-stant interest in the youth of America. These awards are de-signed to perpetuate the highest Johnny Helms is the guy who starred at halfback in football last season, who has been treas-urer of the Booster's club this year, president of his homercom

Successful Event

With "Stardust" as the theme, the second annual Jr. - Sr. prom

Under the direction of Mrs. G. O. Stovall the committees from the junior class worked efficiently to provide the present senior class a most delightful affair.

a most delightful affair. During the course of the even-ing the Boyden high school orches-tra played for the approximately 200 students present. Charles Whitley, junior class president, made a speech of wel-come, with Dwight Cranford, seni-or president, responding. The junior committees worked under the direction of co-chair-men. They were as follows: dec

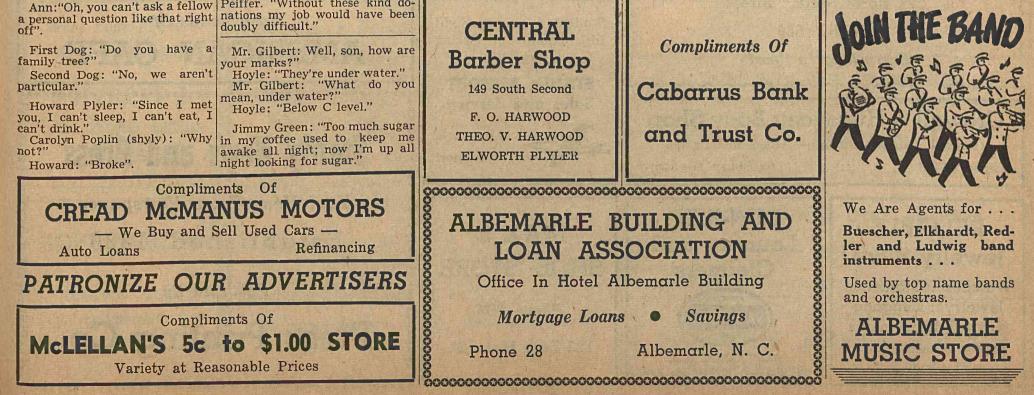

IS PTOVED AGOIN Rummaging the attics about town proved that costuming and stage settings are some of the major problems in the casting of a play. These jobs are especially difficult if the setting is in 1910 like the Senior play, One Foot In Heaven.

Invitations

Seniors will soon be mailing their invitations for the com-mencement exercises. This year's class ordered 8,067 invitations.

Heaven. Mrs. Don Peiffer, anxious to have authentic 1910 stage settings and costumes, sent out a plea through the Stanly News and press for magazines and other in-formation which would be of as-

May 5, 1950