

Here and There

CARROLL DAVIS TO Dwight Cranford: "Dwight, does your girl play bridge?"
Dwight: "I don't know, but I canasta."

GEORGE CAUSBY WAS talking to Donald Wooly: "Hey, Don, I see you're back from Florida."
Donald: "Aw, go on, you know you can't see my back from Florida."

A NINTH GRADER asked Miss Holbrook this question: "I want a book of Mussolini."
Miss Holbrook: "I don't have a biography of Mussolini."
Ninth grader: "You have it on the reading list."
Miss Holbrook, consulting the list: "Oh! You mean miscellaneous."

IN MIXED CHORUS ONE day, Barbara Smith came to the door and asked to see Bob Gullede and Henry Efird.
Mr. Fry: "Why, Barbara?"
Barbara Smith: "I want to measure them for collars to wear in the Senior play."
Mr. Fry: "O. K. boys, go get your throats cut."

MR. PEIFFER: "Sydney, did you have trouble with your homework, too?"
Sydney Helms: "No, sir."
Mr. Pfeiffer: "The rest of the class did, why don't you?"
Sydney: "Well, I didn't bother it, and it didn't bother me."

ROY HOLT: "There sure were a lot of cars lying around Hargrove's."
Barbara S.: "Do they sell gas in cars?"
Roy Holt: "I don't know."
Barbara: "Well, they were all tanked up."

BOB YOUNGBLOOD, in chapel just before the coffin was closed, made this statement: "I must go now. I have to make a short trip in a long car."

IN SOCIOLOGY CLASS Mr. Mac told his class that all young lovers just couldn't live without each other. Then he made this comment: "I never heard of one dying, though, because of separation."

The HOME ECONOMICS CLASS was discussing their Kindergarten a few days ago.
Ann Swaringen: "They was so cute."
One girl immediately said: "Ann, say it right!"
A third girl called: "Ain't you ever had no English?"

HOYLE GILBERT WAS moaning over his limited supply of money and made this statement: "I've only got $7.00."
Bob Y.: "Well, what's so bad about that?"
Hoyle: "Cause, dadgum it, I owe $9.00 to Rachel."

MISS LENTZ SLIPPED up the other day when she read "L'Abbee Constantin," a story with two lovers conversing. Miss Lentz misread the sentence. She said, "I have never smelled anything that resembled love."

HATTIE TUCKER KNOWS what she wants. She and Jean Bailey were discussing money.
Jean: "Money is the root of all evil."
Hattie: "Well, I'd sure like to have a little root."

IN SECOND PERIOD French class someone said the family had a carriage for their children and bags.
Henry Forrest: "Oh, did the mothers-in-law go, too?"

MR. MCFADYEN ASKED his sociology class this question: "How many of you have an interest in an art—such as sculpturing?"
Marlene Page asked: "Does that include tombstones?"

126 Seniors Will Receive High School Diplomas

Rev. Iddings To Speak To Seniors Sunday Night

Visitors To Hear Music By Seniors At Baccalaureate

One hundred and twenty-six seniors will march to the processional "Pilgrims Chorus" Sunday night, June 4, at their baccalaureate service.

The service will be opened by the congregation singing "Faith of Our Fathers" by Hemy arr. by Walton.

Following this, Rev. Ralph Taylor will give the invocation. Rev. C. D. Whiteley will read the Scripture, and the senior class will sing "Hear Thou My Prayer" by Hamblin O'Hare.

Rev. J. White Iddings will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, his subject being "Seeking First Things First". Special music, "Sun of My Soul" will be presented by the senior class.

The congregation will join the senior class in singing the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" by Mason, after which the benediction will be given by Mr. B. F. Darnell. The Senior Class will give the response, the "Sevenfold Amen", by Lutkin.

The recessional "Prayer" by Humperdinck will be played as the seniors march out.
Miss Betty Boone will serve as accompanist.

Marshals Elected For Graduation

Charles Litaker was elected by the senior class to head the group of 9th, 10th, and 11th grade marshals who will serve at the commencement exercises June 4 and 5.

The marshals were elected by their grades from the students making the first semester honor roll. Three students were chosen from the ninth grade, four from the tenth, and five from the eleventh grade.

The list of marshals is: 11th grade, Charles Litaker, Martha Griffith, Ed Patterson, John Harwood, Malcolm Lowder; 10th grade, Barbara Crowell, William Litaker, Patsy Williford, Jimmy Skidmore; 9th grade, Frank Burrell, James Gibson, and Jeanette Dennis.

Science, Biology Classes Hold Annual Science Fair

"This is the Physics Queen of Electronics," someone was explaining as a vast number of people and students attended the annual Science Fair at A. H. S. on May 26.

This year again the science classes under the direction of Mr. R. C. Hatley and the biology classes instructed by Mrs. Lyke displayed their various experiments and held the audience in breathless tension.

Parents and students eagerly watched as the Physics class featured its knowledge in the Magic Fountain, which draws water from the air; the lightning rod, which sends several thousand volts through a house; the reflecting stream of water, which changes colors; the mystery pool of diving ducks and ships; the static balloon; the singing wire; and the table of mystery light bulbs, which glow without any current.

In the chemistry department the audience witnessed the devil's wine pitcher which pours most any kind of drink; the mystery bubbles which explode when ig-

NEWLY ELECTED COUNCIL OFFICERS—Charles Litaker, William Litaker, Carolyn Williams, and Joe Hudson.

Charles Litaker Is Elected To Head Students Next Year

Charles Litaker, William Litaker, Carolyn Williams, and Joe Hudson were elected president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, by the student body to serve as school officers in 1950-51.

The ballot count revealed that a total of 529 voters went to the polls to express their choices to fill these high Student Council positions.

Charles Litaker, the students' choice for president, was very active this year. He served on the intramural committee and was inducted into the National Honor Society this spring. Charles's campaign manager was Don Wooley. Ed Patterson, the losing candidate, received 253 votes, while Litaker was getting 273.

William Litaker was victorious over Keith Byrd for the vice-presidential position. He received 328 votes over Keith's 200. Junior Josey was campaign manager for the future vice-president.

The position of secretary was won by Carolyn Williams, who had 281 votes, over Jeanette Mabe, whose vote was 248. Bob Barringer was Carolyn's campaign manager.

Next year's treasurer will be Joe Hudson, who received 383 votes. His opponent, Roger Morris, had only 138 votes. The winning candidate's campaign manager was Dwight Cranford.

The four new officers will join with home room representatives elected next fall in making up the Student Council.

Seven Teachers Resign From AHS

Seven members of this year's high school faculty have resigned and will not be back when school opens in September.

They are Mrs. Almond, Miss Stanton, Mrs. Stovall, Miss Matheson, Miss Morrow, Miss Wise, and Mr. McFadyen.

Mrs. Almond is retiring from teaching and intends to occupy herself with her husband and her home.

Miss Stanton wants to go farther south and plans to teach in Florida next year.

Mrs. Stovall and Miss Matheson will be working in the new Y.M.C.A., Mrs. Stovall as director of physical education for women and Miss Matheson as director of club work.

Miss Morrow and Miss Wise are uncertain just what they will be doing next year.

Mr. McFadyen will be in Raleigh as director of public relations for the N.C.E.A.

Hatley Will Hold Summer Classes

Spencer B. Hatley, director of the Albemarle high school band, will not end his work at the end of this academic year.

Work with beginners and special problems that students have will last through most of the summer. Also private lessons and band classes will be held in the high school building.

survey of plant and animal kingdoms, several types of terraria, laboratory work, a show of live animals, and a joke table. A very interesting experiment was performed by cutting some freshly killed calf lungs which were then inflated to show the mechanics of breathing.

Parents and students were very much astonished, but pleased with the unbelievable experiments of the science classes.

Student Speakers To Be Featured In Final Exercise

The senior class of A.H.S. will present their own graduation exercises this year on June 5.

The students speaking, Dwight Cranford, Martha Moore, Bob Barringer, William Grigg, Tom Lilly, Roy Holt, and Lib Starr, will talk on the subject, "How Does High School Develop Leadership?"

The 126 seniors will enter the auditorium to the processional "Intermezzo" by Mascagni. Rev. J. Boyce Brooks will then deliver the invocation.

"Battle Hymn of Republic," by Ringwald, will be sung by the members of the graduating class after which students chosen by members of the senior class, will present talks on the following subjects: Dwight Cranford, presidential talk; Martha Moore, introduction; Bob Barringer, social clubs; William Grigg, athletics; Tom Lilly, organized activities; Roy Holt, publications; and Lib Starr, vocational training.

Following the presentation of diplomas by Mr. A. P. Harris, the then graduated students of A.H.S. will sing the Scotch air, "Auld Lang Syne" and march from the auditorium to the recessional played by Mr. Paul B. Fry.

Summer School To Begin June 12

Summer school will begin June 12 for those students who have failed subjects this year.

Mr. McFadyen requests that all boys and girls wishing to make use of this session contact him at the high school Tuesday, June 6. This may be done by either a visit or a telephone call.

The usual fee of eight dollars per subject will be charged for the five week term.

Mrs. Hayes, instructor, suggests that those students who have failed required subjects attend school this summer in order to be able to take regular work next year.

By Their Words

"He must have been drunk the night before." — Mr. McFadyen (talking about a modern painter).

"This car ain't got but one gear and that's neutral!"—Jimmy M. Brown.

"Hey, turn on the lights; I can't see how to read!" — Tom Lilly.

"Your foot should appear at the bottom of the page."—Miss Matheson (referring to foot notes).

"Peggy's here; where's Carolyn?"—Mr. McFadyen.

"We gotta get going."—Jack Lee.

"When I misspell a word, I just put quotes around it and she'll think I'm quoting someone else!"—Sara Skidmore.

"Who's outtalking me?"—Mrs. Fry.

"I might as well sharpen my pencil but I don't think I'm going to need it."—Carroll Davis (before a French test).

"I got some new pants at Allen's!"—Hoyle Gilbert.

"It's a nice gift, and it didn't come from Rose's either."—Mr. Mac.

"Hoyle, you have the cutest Adam's apple."—Carroll Davis.
