ATHLETES OF THE MONTH

KATHRYN KIMERY

Boy, look at that girl fake and shoot. Well, if you still haven't guessed, it is Kathryn Kimery, co-captain of the Albemarle high school lasses, who has been chosen as February's "Athlete of the Month".

Kat, as she is called both on and off the court, stands about 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 77, well, it didn't really matter much anyway.

Only a junior this year, Kat has two years of varsity experience behind her and also has another year of eligibility.

She rates third in scoring for the team with a total of 89 points for 9 games. This is an average of about 9.9 points per game. This may not seem like many points for a girl, but taking into consideration that Kat shoots mostly from out around the foul circle, this is a fine average. Her best shot seems to be a one-hand push shot that she shoots while she is moving across in front of the basket. She also has a variety of other shots such as hooks and two-hand shots from over her head when she is in close to the basket.

Kathryn can fake, shoot, and dribble, making her a triple threat to all the opposing teams. So be on the look-out for number 12 in the blue and white the remainder of this season and next.

JOE McANULTY

Leading the Albemarle high school basketball team to a very successful start has been the job of Joe McAnulty, co-captain of the '51 basketball squad. Joe stands 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 130 pounds. He has racked up a total of 67 points thus far this season. Hyman, as some people know him, is really a whiz on the basketball court with his quick pivots and fast breaks under the basket which means a sure goal for his team.

Joe has been a regular on the varsity for the past four years, lettering in his freshman year. Because of his long experience on the court and his friendly attitude toward everyone, Joe was elected by his teammates to lead them through the '51 season.

Joe is an outstanding athlete in many other sports also. He has played two years of Legion baseball and one year of high school baseball, where he played third base. Joe has taken part in most of the intramural sports and won the softball throw in the field day contest last year. When the newly organized AHS baseball team takes to the field this spring, you are sure to see Hyman playing third base with his usual all-round ability to play well in any sport in which he participates.

The smile of God is victory.

Athletic Council Formed Recently

Committeemen were recently chosen by each home room to form the Athletic Council, now functioning under the supervision of Coach Toby Webb.

This council plans and outlines the intramural program for AHS. After meeting together and deciding on the games to be played, each committeeman reports to his home room the activities planned.

The committeemen and their respective grades are as follows: Ninth grade: Larry Talbert, T. Boe McLendon, Arthur Lynn, Lowell Hartsell, Myron Snotherly.

Tenth grade: Darrell Frick, Bill Huckabee, Wayne Barringer, Buford Lucas, Gene Snuggs.

Eleventh grade: Doug Knotts, Harold Smith, Joe Gaskin, William Litaker.

Twelfth grade: Malcolm Lowder, Wren Almond, Morris Hathcock, Ed Patterson.

Juniors Securing Money For Prom

Have you heard? You can now buy drinks, candy, etc., at basketball games! How? The junior class is securing funds for the annual Junior-Senior Prom and they decided this idea would be profitable.

With the help of Mr. Morris, a counter was built just outside the boys' dressing room in the gym. Jimmy Skidmore is chairman of the project and his helpers are Carol Herrin, Leslie Swanner and V. L. Harwood.

Plans for the prom are still indefinite, but it will probably be held on Friday night, April 27.

There is little difference between the sweaters this year and those last year.

The seams are stronger, and the letters are solid white. The letters last years were white with a blue border. The colors of the sweaters were slightly changed from dark blue to navy blue.

Those who received sweaters are "Whit" Whitley, Buddy Donaldson, Richard Doby, Bill Barnes, Doug Knotts, Bud Griffith, Sid Helms, Johnny Youngblood, Ken Whitley, Henry Farmer, Johnny Boyett, Reid McLendon, Charles Whitley, Arthur Burris, Frank Efrid, Malcolm Lowder, Leslie Swanner, James Gibson, Ed Patterson, Kenny Brown, Bruce Lowder, Gene Snuggs, Charles Rae McManus, Jimmy Skidmore, and Gene Honeycutt.

Bulldog Cagers Stop Y. and D.O.

The Junior Varsity opened their 1951 season by defeating the D.O. team by the score of 59 to 21. A strong zone defense kept the D.O. cagers completely baffled throughout the game. Don Archer paced the D.O. team with eight points, while Claude Lawhorn scored fourteen points and Henry Carpenter scored eleven points for the Bullpups.

Junior Varsity dropped the Y.M.C.A. Juniors by the score of 34 to 17. A fighting bunch of "Y" cagers could not keep up with the strong Bullpups. The "Y" scoring was scattered throughout the squad with no one getting over three points. High scoring honors went to Claud Lawhorn with ten points and Bill Huckabee with nine points for the Bullpups.
