

Campus Chatter

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot." Yes, it's hard to believe, but another four years have rolled around and we seniors are finally graduating from dear old AHS. None of us will ever forget the wonderful times we've had and the helpfulness of the AHS teachers. The football and basketball games, the dances, and the funny little incidents that happen every day will stand out in our memories of youth.

We shall never forget the familiar, smiling faces we meet in the halls or the sound of happy voices calling us. Never again will be able to sit in the AHS auditorium and feel it is our own or stand outside with our crowds waiting for the bell. All the hard work seems like fun when we think about leaving.

Going back into the 8th grade, we see Paula Howard dating Whit Whitley, Betty Lynn Crowell dating Leslie Swanner, and Betty Brunson dating Jimmy Brown. Barbara Crowell and Harold Hudson had brought their romance into high school. Junior Josey had a crush on Mickey Morton.

Nancy Austin was dating Clyde Doss in the 9th grade and Ed Buie had a crush on Lewis Kluttz. Jimmy Skidmore and Ginger Helms were going together.

Sylvia Morrow met Cham Glenn in the 10th grade and we started the annual sophomore hop. Patsy Williford and Henry Carpenter were elected Queen and King of Hearts, and Johnny Youngblood had a crush on Ellen Cook.

The day arrived that we became juniors, and did we feel big! Jane Russell was going with Bill Barnes and Emily Milton with Bruce Lowder. David Plowman joined our class and everyone marveled at his ability to make friends. Joyce Lewis was going with Tump Mills, and Jean Barringer with Hoyle Poplin. Our Junior-Senior, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", was wonderful, as was the party afterwards. The junior play was a big hit! David Morrow was famous for his portrayal of the butler.

And now, last, but not least, our senior year rolled around. It started off with a bang! Our great football team, led by Leslie Swanner and Doug Knotts, didn't lose a single game.

Jean Taylor, Mary Ann Dennis, Mickey Morton, Carrie Mae Russell, O'lema Aldridge, Kathryn Kimery, and Ruth Clark got mighty pretty diamonds.

Margie Stutts, Marlene Harrington, Kathryn Shaver, and Hilda Poplin made that important trip to the altar.

Flash—Seems Bobby Reeves is cutting in on Hambone Morton's romance!

Ann Daniel started going with Joe Clayton, and Keith Byrd with Ellen. Sue Redfern seems to jump whenever a certain paratrooper is mentioned.

The senior play was a great success! Then came time for the senior banquet, which everybody looked forward to. For the theme we chose "Treasure Island". Peggie Morris came with Harold Smith and Jo Ann Griffin with Kent Hall. Catherine Atkins was all smiles with James Lisk, Patsy Pettit with Bud Griffith.

Caps and gowns have arrived and now we are about to take that final step in high school life.

To you eighth and ninth graders we wish lots of luck, and to the sophomores and juniors, whom we have felt so close to, we wish to say that "auld acquaintance" will never be forgotten.

And now, to our fellow seniors with whom we have shared work and pleasure we wish to say—so long!

U. S. History Class Has Picnic Supper

Mr. Jefford's first period U. S. History class had a picnic supper at the Jaycee Hut, May 23.

Each member of the class invited a guest, and the students of the class provided the food.

Serving on the food committee were Marilyn Greene, Anne Whitlock, and Ellen Cook. The entertainment committee was Martha Rae Harris, Carolyn Miller, Jerry Traywick, and Robert Shaver.

Supper Enjoyed By NHS Members

The new members of the National Honor Society gave the old members a picnic supper up on Morrow Mountain, May 7 at 6:30.

The members and their guests were served a supper consisting of ham, pickles, potato salad, deviled eggs, rolls, and tea. The desert was cherry, apple, or coconut pie.

Special guests for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Cashwell, Mrs. Frank Westerlund, sponsor of the NHS, and her husband, who served as chaperons.

Members and their dates who attended were Jo Ann Griffin and Ken Hall, Jane Russell and Bill Barnes, Patsy Williford and Jimmy Austin, Kathryn Kimrey and Paul Lowder, Margaret Griffin, and Lindsay Jones, Betty Sue Rogers and Stencil Aldridge, Nancy Jo Haynes and Bud Griffith, Jeanette Dennis and William Litaker, Martha Rae Harris and Jimmy Brown, Bobbie Eudy and Frank Burrell, Sylvia Morrow, Patsy Pettit, Sue Redfern, Carolyn Jones, Carolyn Williams, Robert Shaver, and Bill Huckabee.

The group was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Jeffords.

CHARLES JAMES: "Have you had your I. Q. tested lately?"
ARNELLE DOBY: "Yeah; it is 20-20."

Charlotte: "What kind of car does Joe drive?"

Dorothy: "Pray-as-you-enter!"

Harris, McManus Chosen For Staff Of '53 Full Moon

Martha Rae Harris was recently chosen to edit the Full Moon next year, and Charles Ray McManus was chosen business manager.

The officers of the junior class, serving as a nominating committee, presented to the junior class a list of names from which to choose.

Martha Rae will succeed Barbara Crowell as editor, and Charles Ray will succeed Leslie Swanner as business manager.

CATHERINE ATKINS AND James Lisk were discussing some of the people they knew, when Casherine asked, "Wonder why they came down this week-end?"

James: "I think they came to attend their uncle's funeral."
Catherine: "Is her uncle dead?"

James: "No, the old boy's not dead. They just wanted to get rid of him the easy way."
