

26 Students Come To AHS But Work In Afternoons

The D. O. Class, directed by Mr. Cox, is really busy, coming to school in the morning and working in the evenings.

Nine girls are taking courses in the field of medicine. Eltus Andrews, Norma Jean Arey, La-Trelle Burleson, Marie Lambert, Elizabeth Medlin, and Helen Morton are taking a pre-nursing course at the Stanly County Hospital. Jeffie Lee is a dental assistant for Dr. Smith. Marian Stiller is studying to be an X-ray technician at the Stanly County Hospital. Jean Furr will work as a dental assistant for Dr. Overcash in the near future.

Donald Almond is working for Stovall-Wolfe Motor Company as an auto mechanic. Ralph Rummage is doing auto body and fender repair work for Morgan Motor Company. Jimmy Barbee is studying baking at Albemarle Bakery. Russell Mauldin is learning file setting with Dewey Treece Building Specialists.

Gary Miller is studying radio, television service at Firestone

Several girls work in offices in town and also city grade schools. Carlene Doby, Sue Furr, and Johnnie Baldwin work in Carolina Realty and Insurance Company, Chamber of Commerce, and McLellan Stores Company office respectively. Working in school offices are Janice Parker at North Albemarle, Elizabeth Howard at West Albemarle, Kathryn Blalock at Central, and Loretta Thomas at East Albemarle.

AS MR. PENDERGRAFT was explaining about forming adjectives in French, he said, "Most of you don't know about that yet."

"No," agreed Elliott Gaddy. "Just us brains do."

Installation Service Presented By Modern Music Masters

The Modern Music Masters presented an honorary membership and installed eleven new members at the public meeting in the auditorium last Friday.

Recipient of the honorary membership was Mrs. Margie Mauney, an outstanding musician of Albemarle.

New members installed were Charlotte Pope, Dickie Cashwell, Charles James, Bobby Peck, Susie Swaringen, Patsy Sasser, Pamela Hinson, Bill Fisher, Joan Melton, and Elaine Mills.

Both old and new members participated in the musical program which followed. Pamela Hinson gave a flute solo. Charles James, Dickie Cashwell, Bill Beeker, Bobby Peck, and Edward Hatley sang "Nut-Brown Maiden." Charles Pope, Elaine Mills, and Joan Melton sang "Make Believe."

Susie Swaringen was accompanied by Stephen Sasser at string bass, Elaine Lowder at the piano, and Yoder Whitley at the drums, when she sang "Zing! Went the Strings of my Heart." A clarinet quartet, consisting of Patsy Grigg, Frances Ross, John White Iddings, and Elliott Gaddy, played "Sentimental Journey." A tuba solo was played by Bill Fisher called "When Yuba played the Rumba on the Tuba."

The officers of the Modern Music Masters are: president, Frances Ross; vice-president, Arce Rose Rich; secretary, Sue Whitley; treasurer, Edward Hatley; and historian, Elaine Lowder.

The other members are Bill Beeker, Elliott Gaddy, Eleanor Jones, John Renger, Yoder Whitley, Miriam Davis, Jean Starr, and Amorelle Tucker.

Mr. Spencer Hatley is the M.M.M. sponsor, with Mr. Paul Fry and Mr. Herbert Pendergraft co-sponsors.

The Modern Music Masters was first organized at Albemarle High School two years ago. It is now one of the most outstanding clubs in this school, as well as the state, with a membership of twenty-four students.

Juniors Making Money For Prom

Juniors of A. H. S. are again this year in there making money for the junior-senior prom.

The juniors have done very well so far, for they have sold pennants, six cases of cleansing tissue, two hundred and fifty pencil pennants, and four hundred and fifty rooster badges, which have netted them a profit of a hundred and thirty-two dollars and ninety-seven cents.

Five years ago the Wise Potato Chip Company burned down. Now they are wanting to start back in business and the junior class is going to help them by presenting the potato chips to the public and help themselves by selling them.

Gerry Saunders Named President

The Booster's Club got off to a good start this year by electing their officers. Gerry Saunders is president, Diane Watkins vice-president, and Elizabeth Tucker is their treasurer.

Diane Watkins, the vice-president, crowned the home-coming queen, Charlotte Pope, at the half of the football game Saturday night. After the game, the Boosters Club sponsored a dance in the old gym with Elaine Mills and Janis Westerlund co-chairmen of the dance.
