

SPECIAL PROGRAMS ARE SHOWN OVER TELEVISION TO STUDENTS

AHS students viewed the first in a series of vocational programs over WCUNC-TV on Monday morning in the auditorium.

These programs are narrated by two seniors in Chapel Hill high school, who conduct interviews with specialists in various vocational fields. The interviews are designed to help the student in the classroom choose a career by showing him the advantages to be found in each of many occupations.

The program viewed Monday was titled "A Pattern for Living." Other programs to be seen are "A Pattern for Living" on January 9, "Planning for College" on January 16, and "Secretary-Government Service" on January 23.

Iddings Is Host To Music Group

Members of the Modern Music Masters held their November meeting at the J. White Iddings residence on November 29.

Among the items discussed was the possibility of holding the M.M.M. state convention at A.H.S. and the organization's annual Christmas caroling.

It was disclosed that the pansy sale, one of the M.M.M.'s money-raising projects, had netted a profit of about thirty dollars.

Due to the crowded schedule, the December meeting was postponed until early January, when it will be held at Linda Duke's home.

Each month the club selected a "member of the month" to appear in the Bible Club newspaper. Jo Stallings, because of her contribution to the club by word and deed was chosen as the outstanding member for November.

Vivian Smith, who was the president of the club, has moved to Glassboro, New Jersey. Sue Winn now is president and Eugene Burreis is serving as vice-president.

NINTH GRADE CHOIR PRESENTS MORGAN'S CHRISTMAS CANTATA

New Year's Resolutions

- Joyce Turner:
To be a little faster,
Never so slow,
In obeying commands
Issued by Joe.
- Edward Fitzgerald:
To date out-of-town gals,
No local "dizzies",
Conveyance no problem,
I've plenty of "lizzies".
- Don Taylor:
To compete with a Cadillac
For affection from Susie.
I'll give him a run for her;
He'll never lose me.
- Mr. Robinette:
To kill some of the crushes
These kids have on me,
I'll take drastic measures;
I'll give each a C.
- Betsy King:
To charm more boys,
And add to my list,
Is my resolution,
On this I insist.
- Jerry Lowder:
To be a Casanova,
Is my New Year's resolution.
In order to find a girl friend,
This is the only solution.
- George Lowder:
I resolve to try much harder
In Mrs. Deese's French II,
And never again to worry her
The way I used to do.
- Janice Harris:
To make myself more glamorous
For Johnny this coming year.
To make him feel more amorous
When he whispers in my car.
- "Drip" Kimrey:
To be more like "Drag"
As the years go by,
Is a vow I now take.
I certainly will try.

"The First Christmas Night", a Christmas Cantata, written by Hayden Morgan, was presented by the Ninth Grade Chorus on two occasions.

The North Albemarle Baptist Church was the scene of the first performance, which was given December 4. The chorus also presented the same program in assembly, December 9. Members of the Black Masque and Bible Club assisted the chorus by arranging a living tableaux of the first Christmas night.

The chorus, under the direction of Mr. Paul B. Fry and accompanied by Ann Smith, sang the following:

"While Shepherds Through The Quiet Night", "Then God Sent An Angel", soloists: Kay Pennington and Johnny Almond. "Shepherds, Why This Jubilee", "To Bethlehem The Shepherds Ran", soloists: Woody Durham and Richard Kimrey. "At The Manger", "The Friendly Beasts", soloists: Wayne Collins, Ann Morgan, Mickey Lawhorne, Janice Morris, and Eddie Davis. "Joseph Dearest, Joseph Mild", soloists: Jo Parks and Sherrill Williams. "Sleep Of The Child Jesus", "Say To The World", and "O Holy Night".

"The Hay Is Deep And Softly Warm" and "Rejoice! Rejoice! Rejoice!" was sung by the Girls' Chorus.

Joe Madren:
I solemnly swear
To tickle the keys
Of a Royal typewriter
With much greater ease.

G. C. Wilhoit:
On R. C. Hatley
I'll spring a surprise,
I'll blow up the lab—
That'll open his eyes.

Gary Howard:
I vow and declare,
And this vow won't be broken,
Mr. Benton never
Will see me smokin'.
