

THE FULL MOON

Vol 22 — No. 1

Albemarle High School, Albemarle, N. C.

October, 1956

HERE AND THERE

MICKEY DRY WAS being questioned by Punk Gantt about his first date with a girl from the county.

"What did she look like?" Punk wanted to know.

"Man, you should see the Roadmaster Buick her dad drives!" exclaimed Mickey.

"What did she look like?" Punk persisted.

"They fed me a steak two inches thick for supper," Mickey drooled.

"What did she look like?" Punk demanded.

"Boy, she has a beautiful col-lie," Mickey replied.

Punk was rapidly becoming angry. "Mic, for the last time, what did she look like?"

"Well, she had pretty eyes," Mickey replied triumphantly.

DURING A DISCUSSION one morning in sociology class, Coach Webb asked Max Snuggs who was running for president of the U. S.

Max deliberated for several minutes before guessing: "Kef-auver?"

"Well then," Coach asked, "who is his opponent?"

"I believe it is Stevenson," Max replied.

ELIZABETH TUCKER HAD been silent for so long that at last Lane Lowder was impressed.

"What are you thinking about?" he wanted to know.

"Electric thoughts," she answered.

"Well, don't shock me," retorted Lane.

MR. HATLEY WAS discussing oxidation of a wire clothes line. "What is the substance (rust) that rubs off on the clothes hung on the wire?" he asked.

Ronnie Millican came up with an answer: "Mildew!"

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT at the football game Rona Jane Mauldin begged Phyllis Eford, "Phyllis, say something funny so I can use it in the Full Moon."

"Huh! I'm not gonna open my mouth and get MY name in the paper," she indignantly replied.

"I SAW YOU wink at that freshman," Jeanette Hinson accused David Grigg.

"I wasn't winking, Jeanette; I just got something in my eye," protested David.

"It was a mighty big something. I saw it get in the car with you," quipped Jeanette.

JANIS AND PUNK were arguing about the Fair when Elizabeth Tucker walked up. She listened for a while, then departed leaving behind her this timely piece of advice:

"It isn't smart to argue with a fool; listeners can't tell which is which."

Recognition Given To Science Prof

Mr. R. C. Hatley, head of the science department, twice received recognition this summer for his outstanding work at Albemarle High School.

For the third year he taught a class of teachers at Duke University. One of the groups was a class on science fairs, how they are organized and publicized, and how he has obtained so many worthwhile projects from his students. In this class he used projects made in the current year by his students at Albemarle High School, thereby giving them state-wide recognition.

Mr. Hatley was also asked by Mr. L. M. Keever to write an article for the North Carolina Engineers Magazine on the subject of the science fairs held in this school. Along with the article a picture of Mr. Hatley was printed in the July issue of the magazine.

New Members of AHS National Honor Society

These eight students at Albemarle High School were initiated into the National Honor Society during impressive ceremonies at the school auditorium Friday afternoon, September 14. From left to right, they are, front row: Vicki Cranford, Rona Jane Mauldin, Jackie Richardson, Lula Belle Smith, and Anne Rogers. Second row: Wayne Eudy, Gene Langley, and Johnny Renger. They were selected for the high scholastic records they have compiled at AHS as well as their outstanding attributes of character, leadership and service.

Eight Seniors Tapped Into Honor Group

Student Council Planning Projects

The organizational meeting of the Student Council was held September 18.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the new home room representatives with the new officers and with projects that will be undertaken by the Council during the year.

It was explained that any member who misses three meetings without being excused will be replaced in the Council.

The officers — David Grigg, president; Peggy Smith, vice-president; Gene Langley, treasurer; and Roger Smith, secretary — were introduced and their duties briefly outlined to the others.

Adviser this year is Miss Carolyn Holt.

The following students are members of the Student Council.

Garrieth Pendergraph, Diane Tucker, Glenn Talbert, Winfred Ford, Martha Huckabee, Pat Smith, Stanley Lawhon, Jerry Reid, Mickey Lawhon, Richard Peck.

Jimmie Miller, Judy Redfern, Eddie Crutchfield, Johnny Almond, Billie Rae Atkins, Neil Eford, Joe Snuggs, Gail Vandenberg, Ronnie Arey, Mary Jo Winn, Paula Feldman, and Paul Welch.

Tappings Watched By Student Body On September 14.

Eight new members were tapped into the National Honor Society September 14.

Gene Langley, Lula Belle Smith, Rona Jane Mauldin, Anne Rogers, Wayne Eudy, Vicki Cranford, Johnny Renger, and Jackie Richardson are the new members.

These students were selected on a basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Everette G. Beam, Clerk of the Stanly County Superior Court, delivered the principal address for the installation service. "Taking Advantage of What You Have" was his theme and the basis of his advice to the student body.

After being tapped by members of the society who were selected last spring, the new members were administered the Honor Society Oath by Mr. Cashwell.

Robert L. Smith is president of the society and other members are David Grigg, Jo Ellen Brooks, Janis Westerlund and Linda Moose. Mrs. F. W. Westerlund is the faculty advisor.

Devotionals were given by Jo Ellen Brooks, and Jo Parks sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" prior to the tapping exercise.

Gene Langley

Gene is treasurer of the student body, past secretary of the Inter-State Hi-Y Council, and a member of the varsity basketball team. He is an Eagle Scout and a member of the DeMolay. Gene is also very active in church and civic work.

Lula Belle Smith

Lula Belle is a member of the Modern Music Masters Society, the Boosters' Club and the Girls' Ensemble. She is a member of her church choir and the church pianist.

Rona Jane Mauldin

Rona Jane was recently a delegate to Girls' State and has been a marshal at A.H.S. for the past three years. She is active in the Youth Fellowship in her church.

Anne Rogers

Anne was a delegate to the Tri-Hi-Y Conference, and her essay on World Peace last year won second place. She was a Junior Play usher and a member of the Black Masque. She also sings in her church choir.

Wayne Eudy

Wayne is a Senior Class officer, and Business Manager of The Full Moon. He is vice-president of his Sunday School class and sings in the church choir.

NHS College Day Open To Students Of City, County

College Day, sponsored by the National Honor Society, was held last Tuesday in the Armory.

This annual event is held each year for the purpose of helping high school students decide where they will attend college.

Representatives from 42 different colleges and universities in North Carolina were here. The representatives talked to the students individually about entering the college next year which they were representing. Parents were also invited to talk to the representatives.

Juniors and Seniors were allotted certain times during the day to attend the event. Seniors from all the county schools were also invited, and they too were able to talk with people from the various colleges.

The Armory was decorated with pennants representing many different colleges. Each representative had a table with materials and information on it for the students to see.

Thanks to the Honor Society and especially to the advisor, Mrs. Westerlund, many students now have a better understanding about choosing a college. After talking to representatives, many students who had not planned to go to college, now realize how important it really is.

Linda Moose Is Chosen Princess

Pretty blond, blue-eyed Linda Moose was chosen recently by the senior class to represent Albemarle at the Carrousel festivities November 21 and 22 in Charlotte, N. C.

She was chosen Carrousel Princess because of her outstanding attributes of beauty, character, and personality.

Each senior homeroom nominated one girl for this honor. The whole senior class then voted for the candidates.

Others nominated were Jackie Richardson and Elizabeth Tucker.

BY THEIR WORDS

"All my answers were wrong except two blanks." — Billy Corbett.

"Someone strike a match to see if the lights are on." — John Solomon.

"I wish some of my pupils would take a long walk on a short pier." — Mr. Lippard.

"If someone doesn't soon say something funny, I'm going to fail Full Moon English." — Jimmy Cochran.

"This typewriter doesn't spell right." — Mary Ewing Griffin.

"My family didn't have much of a background. They just lived and died." — Larry Lisk.

Jackie Richardson

Jackie was an A.H.S. marshal and a member of the Boosters' Club. She has held home room offices for the past three years and is active in her church.

Vicki Cranford

Vicki was secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y, a member of the Black Masque Club, the Bible Club, and the Creative Writing Club. She is also a teacher in her church Bible School.

Johnny Renger

Johnny is very active in choral work at A.H.S. He was a member of the Black Masque Club and president of the Hi-Y. He is an Eagle Scout and a member of his church choir.

with the school maintenance crew, making improvements in the school.

Students Still Bubbling Over Vacations

Albemarle High School students are still bubbling over from their wonderful summer vacations. From the Atlantic to the Pacific and at many points between they brightened the vacation spots.

The nation's capitol was privileged to have Pat Starnes as a visitor this summer, while way down south Beth Taylor enjoyed a five-week visit in Key West, Florida.

These two students weren't the only ones roving far from home. Mrs. Hayes spent her vacation in California.

Virginia attracted the two Holt sisters, Loretta and Ronell, while on the southern side, back in Georgia, Pete Blalock and David Grigg spent a few days.

Playing golf, baseball, and swimming were the main interests of Frankie Fenters, Burnie Miller, John Stokes, and Sandra Allen.

Mixed Chorus members, Jo Ellen Brooks, Jo Parks, Libby Hatley, Kitty Almond, Joyce Burris, Shelby Thomas, Ann Smith, Janice Morris, Linda Duke, Johnny Renger, Wayne Eudy, Johnny Almond, Jimmy Renger, Sammy Holshouser, Josh Morton, Conrad Hathcock, Eddy Davis, Billie Jo Barrier, and Hunter Hearne, spent an enjoyable week attending the Choral Workshop at Greenville, North Carolina.

Peggy Sue Lisk, Billy Corbett, Myrna Mills, Robert Q. Smith, Diane Tucker, Bobby Kimrey, Libby Sue McLeod, Judy Redfern, Linda Eford, Jenny Henderson, Conrad Herrin, Sandra Burleson, Charlie Smith, Larry Lisk and Larry Freeman kept the beaches jumping.

While these students and teachers were out roving around others were working, some at home and some away. Down in Rock Hill, South Carolina, Garrieth Pendergraph spent most of his time working in his father's store. Back at home Mrs. Saunders worked all summer in her husband's florist shop, and Pete Blalock worked at Page Machine Shop.

Several of the faculty members spent their vacations in and near the school. Mrs. Whitley and Mrs. Westerlund taught summer school and Mr. Hauss worked