Busy Days Ahead For Mixed Chorus

Busy days lie ahead of the A. H. S. Mixed Chorus, directed by Mr. Paul B. Fry and accompanied by Peggy Smith, as they prepare for an active schedule this year.

The chorus will be kept very busy as they are going to appear in public more this year than they have in past years. Performances will be given for most of the local civic clubs and churches.

On November 8, the chorus will travel to Greensboro, where they will perform for the North Carolina Principals' Association.

The annual Christmas Concert is the next highlight of the year. The program has not yet been decided, but "The Messiah", by Handel is being considered. The chorus will again participate in the District Contests at Salisbury, where they have received a superior rating for the last three years.

In the spring, the annual Spring Concert will be given, and also smaller groups will attend the Mars Hill Chorus Festival and the Greensboro Chorus Festival.

The election of chorus officers was held last week, the following being elected: Mickey Dry president, Elizabeth Tucker vice president, Anne Rogers secretary, and Mickey Cagle treasurer. Various other groups such as the publicity committee, transportation committee and others will be chosen at a later date.

er, Elaine Davidson; Mrs. Westerlund's homeroom, president, Carol Deese; vice president, Marie Bowers; secretary, Billy Hartsell; treasurer, Shirley Poplin; Mrs. Carter's homeroom, president, Wade McSwain; vice president, Eddie Burleson; secretary and treasurer, Betsy Kluttz.

From the senior class come the following: Miss Bankett's senior and junior homeroom, president, Sylvia Mauldin; vice president, Yvonne Davis; secretary, Loretta Holt; treasurer, Judy Stoker; Miss Caughman's homeroom, president, Buddy Stoker; vice president, Johnny Renger; secretary and treasurer, Garrieth Pendergraft; Mrs. Fry's homeroom, president, Mickey Dry; vice president, Billy Corbett; secretary, Janette Hinson; treasurer, Jimmy Cochran; Mr. Fry's homeroom, president, George McManus; vice president, Mickey Morgan; secretary and treasurer, Jackie Richardson.
