

'Ghost For Rent' To Be First Dramatics Club Play

The Black Masque Dramatics Club will present a one-act mystery play, "Ghost for Rent", to the student body on January 10.

The story concerns four teenagers who decide to have a little fun by answering an advertisement in the classified section of their local newspaper. Somebody advertised his desire to the boys in flowing sheets and answer the advertisement.

The sweet old lady who wanted the ghost already had one. The teenagers are inclined to be doubtful until they see the ghost. Their ghost and Mortimer, the other ghost, while roaming about haunting people, accidentally bump into each other. Of course, it all has a natural explanation and everything comes out all right in the end.

The characters are as follows: Bud, a teenage boy, Wade McSwain; Aggie, a teenage girl out to play tricks, Peggy Smith; Jane, Aggie's soft spoken sister, Sue Winn; Sylvester, the ghost for rent, O. J. Sikes; Miss Margaret, the elderly old woman, Sara Henderson; Mary, the old lady's niece, Betty McManus; Nela, a relative of Miss Margaret, Jo Parks; Ross, Nela's husband, Tim Drye; Gloria, the other ghost, Nancy Jo Ivester.

LARRY MULLIS GOT all shook up the other day in French class when Martha Ann put up a sentence he couldn't read. Finally, he game up in despair and wailed, "What is it?"

Ronnie Millican, feeling sympathetic, suggested, "Pig Latin!"
