Albemarle Senior High Completed; Students Begin Work For New Year

Coach Toby Webb

Webb Chosen Head Coach Annual Shrine Bowl Game

H. T. "Toby" Webb will be head coach of the North Carolina football squad in the annual Shrine Bowl game to be played on December 6.

The single wing formation, which has been used with great success by Webb, will be used in the Shrine Bowl game. This is the first time a coach has used the single wing in eight years.

Webb coached the Optimist Bowl in 1950 and was head coach of the West All-Stars in the North Carolina All-Star game in 1950.

He was Coach of the Year in 1953 and 1955.

Toby Webb has led the Bulldogs to 97 wins since coming to Albemarle in 1947. The Bulldogs have won their last 16 games.

He has led the Bulldogs to five conference crowns, three Piedmont championships, and two Western North Carolina Athletic Activities Association championships. The second came when Marion was beaten 54-6.

"It's a great honor," said Webb. "I regard the Shrine Bowl as the highest pinnacle of prep football in the Carolinas."

Born in Tarboro, the 38-year-old Webb has a master's degree from the University of North Carolina where he played football under Jim Tatum in 1940-42.

He is the principal of the Albemarle Junior High School.

Norwegian Exchange Student Describes Life In Native Land

Would you like to go to school six days a week, take sixteen different subjects a year, and be without a cafeteria or home room?

This is the way it would be if you went to Torger Hetland's high school in Norway. Torger is the new Norwegian exchange student who is living with Dr. and Mrs. Dennis B. Fox while he is here. He came to America primarily to learn more about America and how we live and act.

U. S. History, typing, sociology, English, and mixed chorus take up most of Torger's time in school. The credits which he earns here are not good towards his diploma in Norway.

Radio is popular in Norway, but they don't have television. Radio U. S. is a favorite program. Before coming to America, Torger had never eaten corn or butter beans and had never drunk iced tea. They usually drink hot tea, coffee, or milk. Paper plates were also something new to Torger.

Rock and roll is well-liked by the Norwegians, but calypso is gradually becoming more popular. Torger is an ardent jazz fan and he has two bands to prove this point. He can also play the saxophone and bass fiddle.

BY THEIR WORDS

"I'm going on a diet to gain weight."—Marie Snuggs.

"Let's sing 'Turkey in the Straw'."—Mr. Fry.

"I like that dress you have on better every year."—Max Morgan.

"There are three ways of doing things—the right way, the wrong way, and my way."—Mrs. Westerlund.

"Have you ever watched the clouds while walking around lying on your back?"—Woody Durham.

In Norway there are two classes of teen-agers, the school class and the working class. To be able to drive a car, you must be eighteen years old, but a motor scooter license is available when a person is sixteen. Girls in Norway wear make-up only on special occasions, not to school.

Torger is all for going steady and is going steady himself. Customs of going steady are different in Norway from the customs in America. Boys don't date a girl to a dance unless they are going steady with her. Norwegian teen-agers go hiking, scooter riding, skiing, and to the movies for fun.

One sister, 13, a brother 15, and his parents make up Torger's family. His future plans are to be a doctor. When asked why he wanted to come to America he said he had heard and read much about it, and it is the dream of every Norwegian boy one day to come to America.

All Corners Of U. S. Vacation Spots For ASHS Students

Around the United States in 90 days traveled members of the AHS student body this summer.

Josh Morton really "snowed" those senioritas down Mexico way, while vacationing in Mexico for three weeks.

The Twirlerthon Clinic at Falls Church, Virginia, was attended by Ann Taylor, during the summer. As a result of her four days of practice, Ann gave a star performance at the Albemarle-Lexington football game.

As usual, the beach was the most popular vacation spot of the summer.

Higher Education Sought By 57 1/2% Of '58 Graduates

Fifty-seven and one-half percent of the graduating class of '58 have decided to further their training in colleges and other institutions this year.

A very large percentage, 51%, of last fall's graduating class entered some college or university this fall. Six percent have gone into nurse's training, business schools, technician's schools, and other such schools.

Many different scholarships were received, amounting to $26,000, by various members of the class. If this money were divided up evenly among the 120 members of the class, each person would get approximately $216.

Six scholarships were received from Woman's College, which was the majority of all won. Three were from state teachers' colleges and two were supplied by N. C. State. There was one each for the following: N.R.O.T.C., University of North Carolina, Lenoir Rhyne, Salem, Gordon Military College, Ringling School of Art, and Wake Forest. Several scholarships were won by members of this class to attend Pfeiffer.

As compared with the graduating class of 1957, last year's percentage attending college is small. The class of '57 reached a high peak of 73 percent.

Student Council Directs Traffic

Tentative plans for handling traffic were made at the first student council meeting September 22.

According to these plans, the boys on the council will rotate directing traffic.

Representatives from each homeroom are: Miss Caughman, Nancy Jo Ivester; Mrs. Helms, Lois Shaver; Mrs. McLain, James Renger; Mrs. Fry, Ed Bivens; Mr. Knotts, Katherine Montgomery; Mrs. Carter, Paul Welch; Mrs. Deese, Steve Hill; Mr. Hatley, Mike Ross; Miss Misenheimer, Elaine Morris; Mrs. Gamewell, Miriam Wilhoit; Mrs. Westerlund, Sandra Holt; Mrs. Rogers, Diane Lefler; Mrs. Archer, Steve Isenhour; Mrs. Hayes, Louise Furr; Mr. Frazier, Susan Ausband.

Officers elected last year are: president, Roger Smith; vice president, Neil Efrid; secretary, Susie Napier; treasurer, Sherrill Williams.

News Briefs

Mrs. Deese was elected the new class sponsor by the junior class.

Five hundred and twenty students have enrolled in the Albemarle Senior High School for the year 1958-59, announced Mr. Cashwell.

The National Honor Society will have its annual fall tapping during the month of October.

The Albemarle Senior High School will be closed all day Friday, October 3, for the N.C.E.A. meeting in Charlotte.

The Albemarle Senior High School seniors have from now until January to order their calling cards, announced the senior class president, Jimmy Miller.

Injuries In Wreck Result In Death Of Junior Boy

Jerry Burleson, outstanding member of the junior class, passed away September 22, at the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Jerry and his brother, Woody Burleson, were involved in a serious automobile accident on Sunday afternoon, September 21. The two boys were coming home from Concord when the accident occurred on the Concord Road just a short distance from the Albemarle city limits.

Sixteen year old Jerry Burleson suffered from a brain concussion, which later resulted in his death. Woody, who had some broken bones, was taken to the Stanly County Hospital.

Funeral rites were held for Jerry September 24, at the West Albemarle Church.

Gail Vanderburg Chosen Princess

Lovely, poised, and blue-eyed Gail Vanderburg was chosen recently to represent Albemarle as Carrousel Princess November 21 and 22 in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Gail was chosen because of her beauty and the outstanding qualities she has shown in her high school years.

She was the only nominee from each of the four senior home rooms.

Building Modern In All Respects

Albemarle Senior High School opened its doors to students for the first time on September 3.

The new school consists of two wings, a lobby, auditorium, cafeteria, student lounge, and gymnasium.

Each wing has two floors with six classrooms on each floor. The classrooms have green boards, either green and pink or blue and pink walls, fluorescent lights, wall-to-wall windows and new desks. The rooms on the upper floors have sky lights.

As one walks in the front door, he enters the huge lobby. In it are modern lights and stairs, leading to the corridors. Each corridor has a water cooler and a wall clock.

The auditorium opens out of the lobby. The walls of this are green and the floor is elevated. It has a large stage and modern lighting. Seven hundred and twenty-one students can be seated in the blond finished seats.

The cafeteria is also entered from the lobby. Beyond the dining room is the kitchen, where the food is served.

The student lounge is to the east of the cafeteria.

A student store is being installed, and furniture is yet to come. It will be mainly a place of recreation.

The gymnasium is entered from the student lounge. The scoreboard is suspended from the center of the ceiling. There are six goals connected to glass backboards which can be lowered from the ceiling. This, too, is not yet completed, but will be in the near future.

TV Classes Enroll 256 In Courses

U. S. History and World History are again being taught by television this year.

Several new pieces of equipment have been purchased. A new overhead projector and microphone are two of the main pieces. Three new television sets are also being used.

There are 126 U. S. History students and 130 World History students. Mr. Knotts and Mr. Frazier are the U. S. History teachers and Mrs. Westerlund and Mrs. McLain teach World History.

The classes were held in the cafeteria, but are now being held in the new auditorium.

Snake Charming Latest AHS Class?

A snake again visited the Garden of Eden. This time it was the AHS building. Instead of Adam and Eve's fighting over who was to blame because the snake got them in trouble, three girls arriving early Wednesday morning were frantically trying to find someone to get rid of the visitor. Mr. Snake was a black beauty, about six feet long and thoroughly enjoying the cool, sliding comfort of the new hall.

While Cynthia Efrid and Linda Barnes stood guard in the hall, Nancy Coggins went in search of the janitor. Calvin was finally located.

With a stick and a box the hero approached the hissing snake. All the time he was talking to it: "Now yo' ain't mad at me, is you snake? It won't do yo' much good nohow!"

Thanks to Calvin, Mr. Snake was boxed up and taken again to the biology lab, from which he had escaped.
