

THE FULL MOON

Vol. 24, No. 2

Albemarle Senior High School, Albemarle, N. C.

October 31, 1958

66 Colleges Send Representatives To College Day

College Day was held last Wednesday in the new student lounge and gym for members of the junior and senior classes.

Representatives from 66 different colleges were invited to send representatives with material about their colleges. Appalachian State Teachers College, Davidson, Duke University, Mars Hill, Meredith, and University of North Carolina were a few of the well-known colleges represented. Representatives from colleges in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Virginia were also invited.

Students interviewed the representatives of the colleges in which they are interested.

An assembly program with a speaker was held for the sophomores.

Seniors from the county schools were also invited to attend College Day. The students who attended were asked to make name tags telling who they are, the name of their school, and what grade they are in. These tags made it easier for the representatives to know whom they were talking to.

College Day was held from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. It is held every year and is sponsored by the National Honor Society.

ASHS Participates In Science Library

Albemarle High School is one of 1400 schools chosen to participate in the traveling High School Science library. The program is sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Each school will receive 200 books during the year in four sets of fifty books each. The first set is here and will be returned November 15.

This collection of fiction and non-fiction science books is worth over $1000.

In the United States, the possessions, and Army installations, there are 1400 schools receiving these books.

The Association for the Advancement of Science was founded in 1848 and now has 279 scientific and professional societies, with over 56,000 members.

BY THEIR WORDS

"Gosh look, the auditorium is dressed up!"—Jann Barrier.

"Can you speak shorthand?"—Roger Smith.

"I know her—she's my aunt's aunt!"—Judy Redfern.

"Add 20 or 30 pounds to me and I bulge in every conceivable place—wrong place!"—Mrs. Westerlund.

"We are going to write with ink, not in it—someone might drown!"—Mr. Hatley.

"I'll come in a minute, but I had rather be shot at sundown!"—Mrs. Deese.

"We have very short summers in Norway. Last year it was on a Thursday."—Torgor Hetland.

"Whoever it is that isn't here, please answer."—Doug Eury.

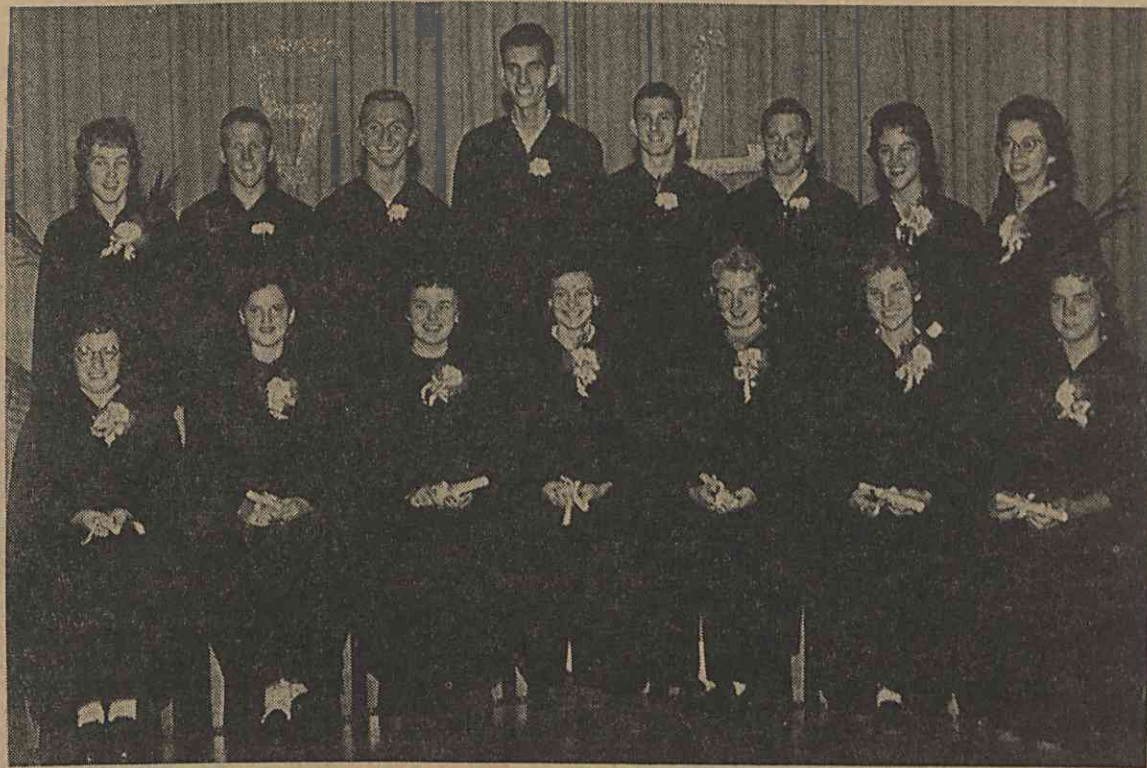

"You have a big understanding but it's far from your head."—Mrs. Gamewell.

"Congratulations, girls, and if you think I'm jealous just because you're in the Honor Society, you're right—I am."—Marie Snuggs.

"A man cannot think low and live high."—Dr. T. L. Cashwell, Jr.

"He's got less brains than my pet parakeet."—Sherrill Williams.

"That apple looks hungry."—Cynthia Efrid.

TAPPED INTO NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The fifteen students shown above were tapped into the Albemarle Senior High School Chapter of the National Honor Society during impressive ceremonies at the school Friday afternoon. They are, front row, left to right: Brenda Honeycutt, Linda Curlee, Sue Tucker, Jane Chandler, Shelby Thomas, Linda Efrid, and Barbara Hinson. Standing, left to right: Millie Hatley, Johnny Almond, Woody Durham, Josh Morton, George Harwood, James Renger, Judy Redfern, and Aldena Harrington.

—Cut Courtesy Stanly News and Press.

NHS Receives Fifteen Into Chapter

34 Seniors Make First Honor Roll

Senior class members showed their worth this six weeks' period by topping the Honor Roll list with 34 names as compared to 21 in the Junior class and 12 in the Sophomore.

Those achieving this goal were Seniors: James Renger, Linda Barnes, Barbara Sherrin, Martha Smith, Lane Brown, Priscilla Burris, Myra Carpenter, Linda Curlee, Aldena Harrington, Joyce Lowder, Suzanne Mauldin, Jo Parks, Shelby Thomas, Sue Tucker, George Harwood, Josh Morton, Jane Chandler, Cynthia Efrid, Linda Efrid, Barbara Hinson, Nancy Jo Ivester, Phyllis Page, Ellen Rogers, Ann Smith, Jerry Kimrey, Billie Jo Barrier, Vickie Harrison, Pat Saunders, Millie Hatley, Jerry McSwain, Jane Cotton, Georgette Lampsi, Gail Vanderburg, and Nancy Trimmer.

Junior Class: Neil Efrid, Pat Clemmer, Elaine Morris, Charles Brown, Roger Laney, Larry Shelton, Ray Terry, Eddie Lefler, Harry Whitley, Paul Welch, Suzanne Finch, Jerry Lou Holbert, Bonnie Lowder, Landis Miller, Pam Truette, Larry Joe Almond, Joe Stoker, Jimmy Stonestreet, Sandra Walser, John Burchette, Billy Pickler, and Mike Ross.

Sophomores on the list are Robert Iddings, Susan Ausband, Jo Lynn Pickler, Nancy Smith, Nancy Finan, Hazel Grose, Trina Holt, Valerie Denning, Mary Hill Hatley, Johnny Shelton, Jann Barrier, Judy Harris, and Margaret Ann Furr.

Permanent 'Full Moon' Staff Members Are Chosen

Permanent staff members for the Full Moon have been chosen, announced Mrs. Paul B. Fry, faculty adviser.

Editor for the '58-'59 editions is Jo Parks. Managing editor is Linda Curlee. Douglas Eury is business manager and assistant business manager is Jimmy Klutz.

The news staff has as its editor Martha Smith. News reporters are Brenda Tucker, Nelda Poplin, Ellen Rogers, Tom Fatkins, Sue Tucker, Sara Henderson, Priscilla Burris, Nancy Cog-

Deserving Seniors Bring Club Total To Twenty-Four

Fifteen seniors were tapped into the National Honor Society in their annual fall tapping October 10.

Those honored by being tapped were Sue Tucker, Woody Durham, Jane Chandler, Josh Morton, Millie Hatley, James Renger, Linda Curlee, George Harwood, Brenda Honeycutt, Judy Redfern, Shelby Thomas, Linda Efrid, Aldena Harrington, Johnny Almond, and Barbara Hinson.

Before the tapping ceremony Pam Treece sang "Hold Thou My Hand" as special music, and Jimmy Miller gave a Scripture reading and prayer.

Nancy Jo Ivester, president, then introduced the guest speaker, Dr. T. L. Cashwell, Jr., of the First Baptist Church, who spoke on Scholarship, which is one of the four requirements for Honor Society membership.

After the new members were tapped by eight old members and signed the roll book, Mr. Claud Grigg, superintendent of the public schools, administered the oath.

Character, scholarship, leadership, and service are the four requirements for Honor Society membership.

The stage was a maze of color with ivy and yellow flowers across the front. In the center was an arrangement of mixed yellow flowers. The Honor Society emblems were on the curtains at the back of the stage.

Mrs. Westerlund and Mrs. Deese are the co-sponsors.

gins, Pat Little, Brenda Honeycutt, Alice Morton and Joyce Lowder.

Myra Carpenter is feature editor. Feature writers are Brenda Gantt, Pat Saunders, Janice Harris, Judy Redfern, Hunter Hearne, Shelby Thomas, Billie Jo Barrier, David Pearce, and Eddie Davis.

The sports section is written by editor Woody Durham and staff members Roger Smith, O. J. Sikes, Max Morgan, Sherrill Williams and Jimmy Klutz.

Joyce Lowder is serving as typing editor, and Ellen Rogers is circulation manager.

New High School Dedication Was Held Sunday

Presentation and acceptance of the new Albemarle Senior High School building were formally made at the dedication ceremony last Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

The presentation of the building was made by Mr. W. H. Deitrick, architect, and acceptances were made by Mr. R. L. Brown, Jr., chairman of the city school board; Mr. J. L. Cashwell, principal; and Roger Smith, president of the student body.

Dr. J. White Iddings, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, gave the invocation and then the Senior Mixed Chorus sang "Hallelujah (from the Mount of Olives)", under the direction of Mr. Paul Fry.

Mr. R. L. Brown, Jr., was the principal speaker of the day. Mr. Claud Grigg, superintendent of city schools, gave the recognition of guests and then made the actual dedication.

Following the dedication Jo Parks sang "Bless This House" and Rev. Ben F. Moore pronounced the benediction. The Senior Mixed Chorus then sang the "Seven-Fold Amen."

After this most impressive dedication program there was a flag raising ceremony. The flag pole was given to the school by Mrs. E. L. Gehring in memory of her husband, who was a former teacher of Albemarle High School. The flag was raised by Company F of the 139 Infantry of the National Guard.

Guided tours of the building were then conducted by members of the National Honor Society and the Student Council.

Marshals Serve For Open House

Albemarle Senior High School marshals served as hosts and hostesses for the Open House of the new school building October 26.

The hostesses wore navy blue skirts with white blouses.

Unlike preceding years, the marshals will serve for all plays, concerts and other uses of the auditorium this year.

Serving as marshals this year are Jo Parks, Ann Smith, Linda Efrid, Sue Tucker, Martha Smith, Neil Efrid, Jimmy Stonestreet, Mary Jo Winn, Nancy Smith, Margaret Ann Furr, Suzanne Swindell, and Bonnie Lowder.

New Ring Design Chosen By Juniors

Members of the Junior class were measured for their rings October 16 and are now waiting for them to come.

The rings have the North Carolina seal and flag and the United States flag on one side. The other side of the ring has the new Senior High School building and the Bulldog on it. They will have the same red stone.

Juniors should start expecting their rings about two weeks before the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Deese is class sponsor. Class officers are Neil Efrid, president; Paul Welch, vice-president; Mary Jo Winn, secretary; and Bonnie Lowder, treasurer.

Alumna Honored

Pat Starnes, an outstanding senior at AHS last year, has been elected a student government representative at Salem College in Winston-Salem.

Claud Grigg Honored By NCEA For 25 Years' Service

Mr. Claud Grigg, who has been serving as superintendent for the Albemarle City schools for the past 25 years, was honored at an N.C.E.A. banquet on October 14 at the Wiscassett Memorial Y.M.C.A.

For this occasion the door of the banquet room was framed with a miniature entrance of a Little Red School House. Red roses and silver candelabra accented the head table where Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Grigg, and the officers were seated.

Mrs. Ernest Skidmore presented a beautiful oil portrait of Mr. Grigg to the well-known Albemarle man. The gift was from the local N.C.E.A. unit and was painted by Mrs. Snead Clift of Memphis, Tennessee.

Jacob M. Carter, president of the local N.C.E.A. unit, presided at the banquet.

A. B. Gibson, of Laurinburg, who served as principal of Albemarle High School from 1935 until 1940, was back to honor Mr. Grigg.

He brought out many facts showing the growth of the city schools during Mr. Grigg's 25 years of service as superintendent.

Albemarle started out with only four inadequate schools; and today Albemarle has seven modern, well equipped schools. The enrollment has increased from 2,241 to 3,088, the classrooms from 70 to 124, the school personnel from 66 to 178, and out of the 5,886 first graders enrolled during this period, 3,070 have graduated up to the present time. The expenditures for education have increased from $70,924.84 in 1934 to $1,317,217.01 in 1957-58.

All of the schools are fully accredited by the State Department of Public Instruction. All elementary schools are members of the Southern Association Cooperative Study program in Elementary Education and the Albemarle Senior High School and Kingville High School are members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

"Wiscassett" has been known as a quality name in textiles," said Mr. Gibson. "Albemarle" is now known far and wide as a quality name for schools."