

THE FULL MOON

Vol. 24 — No. 7

Albemarle Senior High School, Albemarle, N. C.

May 27, 1959

Charles Brown Is Elected Student Council President '59-'60 Diplomas Will Be Awarded 147 Seniors At Commencement

Stonestreet Twins Chosen To Serve As Co-Treasurers

Charles Brown, an outstanding Junior, won over Neil Efrid for president of the student body next year.

Kenny Furr will serve as vice president; Janice Hearne will keep the records straight as secretary; and Johnny and Jimmy Stonestreet will be co-treasurers.

Due to an unusual circumstance, co-treasurers, instead of one treasurer will serve the student body. Johnny and Jimmy Stonestreet, twin brothers, were nominated to run against each other as treasurer. The two, unwilling to compete against each other, talked to Mr. Cashwell, asking if they could serve as co-treasurers. If not, they would like to withdraw. The two boys were elected by a motion from the floor during the assembly for campaign speeches.

Candidates running on slates selected in convention held two weeks ago were Charles Brown and Neil Efrid for president, Kenny Furr and Mike Wolfe for vice president, Janice Hearne and Sherry Pegram for secretary, and Johnny and Jimmy Stonestreet for treasurer.

Campaign speeches were made at a special assembly on Monday. Each candidate was represented by a campaign manager, who spoke for his nominee and introduced him to the students.

Serving as campaign managers were Jimmy Miller for Charles Brown, Woody Durham for Neil Efrid, Lois Shaver for Kenny Furr, Edith Smith for Mike Wolfe, Jimmy Klutz for Janice Hearne, Shelia Harris for Sherry Pegram, and Roger Smith representing the Stonestreets.

A touch of humor was added to the campaign speeches by Eddie Crutchfield and Max Morgan, who dressed as typical mountaineers, sang on behalf of Neil Efrid. Gary Whitley and Vance Huneycutt also campaigned for Neil by chasing each other through the auditorium, carrying signs with the caption, "Neil for President".

During Charles Brown's speech a portion of the record "Charlie Brown" was played over the P. A. system.

Two Won't Receive Diplomas Or Gowns

So you think that Seniors are the only ones graduating?

In September Calvin captured Mr. Black Beauty, a six foot snake, and that was the end of his school days. But the family didn't give up the idea of education.

Last week another snake was found gliding into the hall of knowledge. He was around two feet long and was lured into a jar by Jerrell Bunting. An audience composed of Mrs. Hayes, Miss Michael, Linda Barnes, and Nancy Coggins watched, but offered no aid.

The efforts of the snake family were fine, but their attendance record wasn't continuous enough to merit a diploma.

The snake friends seem to have taken lessons from a few students. They attend only at the beginning and then at the end of school.

Students Receive 1959 'Crossroads'

After much anticipation by ASHS students, the 1959 "Crossroads" finally arrived on schedule from Charlotte.

Mrs. Carter, faculty advisor, and the annual staff along with the new editor, Elaine Morris, and business manager, Eddie Lefter, picked up the new yearbooks at Delmar Studios. While in Charlotte, the group toured the studio in order to learn some of the processing through which each book goes. Mr. Frank Fleming acted as host to the ASHS representatives.

The 1959 senior class dedicated its yearbook to Don Knotts. Receiving this well-deserved honor, Mr. Knotts has made a place for himself in the hearts of ASHS students not only as a teacher of social studies but as a friend to all.

Several radical changes were made in the "Crossroads" beginning with the cover. Contrary to the traditional blue-white backs, the annual staff felt that since there was a modern, new school plant, a few old traditions should be broken to make way for the newer, more modern trends.

Therefore, a contemporary green on white cover was planned.

A theme was chosen to correspond with the new school, also. Picturing the school as an "empty shell" until it is filled with the "exuberant" tides of first, the faculty, second, classes, and then activities, music, and athletics, the "Crossroads" portrays the three years of school life at ASHS. Division pages picture various parts of the senior high such as the gymnasium and auditorium.

The sophomore class was placed first in order, with the junior and senior classes following consecutively. This arrangement was to portray the three basic steps of senior high life in the order in which they take place. This is also a modern change now being used in a great many yearbooks.

JO PARKS

LANE BROWN

DR. J. WHITE IDDINGS

DR. BERNARD BOYD

Jo Parks and Lane Brown, pictured above, are the valedictorian and the salutatorian of the senior class. Dr. J. W. Iddings will deliver the baccalaureate sermon and Dr. Bernard Boyd will be the principal speaker for commencement exercises.

Seniors Seek Fortunes In New Worlds

Graduation brings along with it many happy thoughts and sad memories. The memories are of golden days gone by, but the happy thoughts are what the future holds in store for all the seniors.

At Appalachian State Teacher's College will be Janice Morris, Nancy Jo Ivester, Nancy Coggins, Pat Saunders, Barbara Reall, and Sherrill Lowder.

Davidson will be the new home of Ed Bivens, Eddie Crutchfield, and Johnny Almond.

Nancy and Nelson Kirk, Roy Mason, Nancy Boger, Carolyn Swearingen, Pete Blalock, and Mickie Doby plan to enter Pfeiffer College in the fall.

Going to Wake Forest are Brenda Huneycutt, Linda Efrid, and Josh Morton.

Wingate will receive six of our students—Loretta Howell, Mike Prince, O. J. Sikes, Lewis Lowder, Gene Forte, and Joe Copley.

At Lenoir-Rhyne will be Georgette Lampsi, Richard Kimrey, Lana Byrd, and Paul Carpenter.

Gaylene Clark and Judy Redfern will go to school at East Carolina.

The University of N. C. is attracting many local graduates, among them are Genoal Talbert, James Renger, Jimmy Klutz, Jimmy Miller, Doug Eury, George Harwood, Lane Brown, Woody Durham, and Roger Smith.

Don Montgomery, Sherrill Williams, Eddie Floyd, and Max Morgan are going to State.

Girls entering Woman's College are Martha Ann Smith, Millie Hatley, Ann Smith, Jane Chandler, Shelby Thomas, Linda Curlee, Billie Jo Barrier, Sue Tucker, Cynthia Efrid.

Carol Russell plans to enter Mursi College. Hunter Hearne will enter Winthrop, and Nelda Poplin will go to Western Carolina.

Studying at Meredith will be Ellen Rogers and Bettie McManus.

Three out-of-state schools are beckoning several graduates. Wayne Spivey will enter the University of S. C. Jo Parks will be at Stetson University. Carole Stubbs is going to the University of Miami.

Several girls are planning on a medical career and will enter nurse's training in the fall: Myra Carpenter will be at the N. C. Baptist Hospital; Sara Henderson, Judy Fesperman, and Sandy Lefter will be at Cabarrus Hospital; Joyce Lowder and Suzanne Mauldin will go to Presbyterian Hospital.

Training in the field of X-ray technology at Memorial Hospital will be Priscilla Burris. Alice Morton plans to enter nurse's training, but she hasn't decided where. Business fields have been chosen by some graduates.

At King's Business College will be Kay Pennington, Linda Barnes, Jean Rogers, Betty McQuague, Vickie Harrison, Marie Smith, Helen Carpenter, Linda Doby, Gail Vanderburg, David Pearce, and Richard Lambert.

Linda Brown will enter Carolina Business College.

Studying at Morgan's Business School, will be Paula Hathcock, Shirley Williams, and Delores Hopkins.

Pat Little, Joyce Pickler, and Brenda Treadway will study IBM (key punch machine) at the National School of Commerce.

Brenda Tucker plans to enter the business field but hasn't decided which school.

Taking a beautician's course at South Eastern Beauty College will be Barbara Hinson.

Jamie Smith plans to take training to become a mortician.

Various branches of the armed forces will receive many senior boys.

Dwight Morgan, Harold Kimmer, Jerry McSwain, and Oren Simmons plan to join the Navy.

In the Air Force will be Chester Lewis, Bennie Hudson, Hollie Vanhoy, John Wayne Napier, and Wayne Shoemaker.

Johnny Thompson may join the Air Force.

Jimmy Thompson and Charles

(Continued on Page Six)

Boyd And Iddings To Give Principal Talks At Service

One hundred and forty-seven seniors will receive diplomas during the commencement exercises to be held on Wednesday, June 3.

Dr. Bernard Boyd, head of the Department of Religion at U. N. C., will be the principal speaker for the commencement exercises.

Dr. J. W. Iddings, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Albemarle, will deliver the message for the baccalaureate service Sunday night.

Mr. Richard L. Brown, chairman of the board of education, will present the diplomas. Other members of the school board will be platform guests.

Music for the two services will be furnished by the senior class under the direction of Mr. Paul Fry. "Praise We Sing to Thee" and the "Seven-Fold Amen" will be sung Sunday night.

"Halls of Ivy", "Onward, Ye People", and "Auld Lang Syne" will be accompanied by Ann Smith and the A. S. H. S. band.

Jimmy Miller is president of the class. Other officers are George Harwood, vice-president; Jane Chandler, secretary; Doug Eury, treasurer. Miss Chicora Caughman is the class advisor.

9 Commencement Marshals Chosen

Marshals have been chosen by the Junior and Sophomore classes. Bonnie Lowder, with the highest number of votes, will serve as chief.

The Juniors chose Charles Brown, Jimmy Stonestreet, Sandra Walser, and Larry Shelton as their outstanding students to serve as marshals.

Valerie Denning, Robert Iddings, Pam Treece, and Judy Harris will be Sophomore marshals.

These students were selected from a list of those making semester honor roll. They will be on duty for commencement exercises and for all school activities next year.

BY THEIR WORDS

"Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."—Mr. Hatley.

"A bank draft is when someone opens a window in the bank."—Jimmy Thompson.

"The time I like to sleep best is in the morning when I have to get out of bed."—Alice Morton.

"Use your dictionary for something besides pressing flowers."—Mrs. Hayes.

"The farmer is a man outstanding in his field."—O. J. Sikes.

"Of course I know how to cook. I make delicious toast."—Landis Miller.

"Do you know what the Almanac forecasts for tomorrow? Tuesday all day."—Roger Smith.

"I have to have a little fun. I don't have any money or many friends."—Mr. Hatley.

"Miss Todt, you won't count off for little mistakes like the wrong answer, will you?"—Sue Tucker.

"What will I look like at the age of 96, considering what I look like now?"—Mrs. Westerland.

"Those artificial flowers are beginning to look dead!"—Louvelle Burleson.

"When I'm right, no one remembers; when I'm wrong, no one forgets."—Lois Shaver.