

THE FULL MOON

Vol. 25 — No. 1

Albemarle Senior High School, Albemarle, N. C.

October 2, 1959

Full Moon Is Free To ASHS Students For 19th Year

For the nineteenth consecutive year the Full Moon has gained the distinction of being the only school newspaper in the state to be made available to the student body free of charge.

This is made possible by the hard work of the newspaper staff, who sells ads to the various businesses in and around Albemarle, the paper's only source of income, and do many jobs ordinarily done by the printer, thereby enabling the paper to operate on a very limited budget.

The staff feels that each student should receive a copy of the paper but if a subscription rate were charged, only a portion of the student body would subscribe.

Those serving on the staff for this year are as follows: Editor, John Burchette; Managing Editor, Jerry Lou Holbert; Business Manager, Harry Whitley; Assistant Business Manager, Roger Laney; News Editor, Landis Miller; Feature Editor, Pam Truette; Sports Editor, Bobby Harris; Typing Editor, Luray Hatley; and Circulation Manager, Ray Terry.

Those serving on the different writing staffs are as follows: News Writers—Suzanne Finch, Larry Joe Almond, Kenneth Huneycutt, Mary Jo Winn, Roger Laney, Eddie Lefler, Wayland McKenzie, Larry Shelton, Paul Welch, Neil Efrid, Vance Huneycutt, and Luray Hatley.

Feature Writers—Susan Cashwell, Linda Heckard, Bonnie Lowder, Sylvia Smith, Gale Lowder, Ann Taylor, and Gene Starnes.

Sports Writers—Steve Hill, Joe Stoker, Stanley Lambeth, Ronald Russell, David Scarboro, Dwight Smith, and Ray Terry.

Officers Of MMM Are To Conduct Durham Program

Officers of the Albemarle society of the Modern Music Masters have been asked to initiate the charter members of the Durham Senior High School October 12.

Such an initiating team appeared from A.S.H.S. at the Greensboro state convention of the N. C. Music Educators Association last year where they presented a model initiation ceremony.

Officers of the Albemarle society are Mary Jo Winn, president; Ann Taylor, vice-president; Pam Landis Miller, secretary; Paul Trece, treasurer; Paul Welch, historian; and Robert Iddings, chaplain. Co-sponsors of the organization are Paul B. Fry and Tommy Hauss.

Bible Club Members Will Attend Fall State Retreat

Eight members of the Bible Club, accompanied by Mrs. Ivey, will leave this afternoon for the North Carolina Bible Club Retreat which will be held October 2-4 at Camp Vade Mecum near Winston-Salem.

The main speaker for the Retreat will be Rev. James Vaus, a former member of Mickey Cohen's underworld gang. He was converted at a Billy Graham Crusade in Los Angeles. The eight students who will attend the Retreat are Gene Starnes, Elaine Morris, Peggy Jordan, Annette Lowder, Linda Wilhoit, Ivan Sibley, Sue Stone, and Harry Whitley.

Officers for the club this year are as follows: president, Harry Whitley; vice-president, Annette Lowder; secretary, Nancy Finan; treasurer, Larry Shelton; historian, Peggy Jordan; general representative, Margaret Ann Casper;

NEW BAND UNIFORMS

The Albemarle Senior High School marching band is decked out in new uniforms for the 1959 season. The uniforms were ordered last spring. Of Navy blue and white, they are tailored along the West Point Shako lines. The five categories of the new uniforms are displayed above as Director Tom Hauss, left, inspects Jerry Tucker, a trumpet player; Cecilia Roache, the drum major; Dianne Butler, a letter girl, and Ann Taylor, chief majorette. —Cut Stanly News and Press.

Teachers Labor; Students Relax

While the students of A.S.H.S. were lazily spending the holiday last Tuesday, the A.S.H.S. faculty was engaged in the South Piedmont District N.C.E.A. meeting at Charlotte.

Several teachers from A.S.H.S. were on the program.

Mrs. Rogers spoke to the Science Department teachers, of which Mr. Hatley is president, on "Materials for Use in the Biology Lab."

Mrs. Carter, head of the Business Education teachers, presided over their meeting, and Mrs. Helms gave a talk on the work of the local F.B.L.A.

and editors, Luray Hatley and Judy Lowder.

The club will meet semi-weekly this year instead of weekly as it has done previously. Mrs. Ivey will not be able to attend these meetings because of her obligations at Junior High, so another teacher will sit in on the meetings.

The devotions, which are a part of the five-minute period in the mornings, have been planned by the Bible Club. The homerooms who had charge of them for September were Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Armfield.

October devotions will be given by Mrs. Deese, Mrs. Young, Mr. Hatley, and Miss Misenheimer. November will be taken care of by Mrs. Gamewell, Mr. Frazier, Mr. Maultsby, and the Bible Club. The Full Moon staff, F.T.A. and the Bible Club will have charge of the December devotions.

Five New Teachers Added To Faculty

Five new teachers have joined the ASHS faculty this year: Mrs. F. P. Armfield, Mrs. W. L. Coble, Mrs. T. D. Young, Mr. Tom Maultsby, and Mrs. G. W. Harrison.

Mrs. Armfield, who attended Collins High School and Brewton Parker Institute in Atlanta, Georgia, received an A.B. degree from Mercer University and an M. A. degree from Emory University. Her most recent position was at North Clayton High School in College Park, Georgia. Mrs. Armfield is a resident at 215 South Fourth Street, Albemarle.

Mrs. Coble received an A.B. degree from Duke University with a B.S. degree in home economics. Before coming to Albemarle she taught in Norwood, N. C. Mrs. Coble resides on East Cannon Avenue with her husband and two daughters.

Mrs. Young received an A.B. degree from Duke University, and later did graduate work there. She taught at Rocky Mount, N. C., before coming here this year. Mrs. Young lives in Norwood.

Mr. Maultsby attended Chapel Hill High School, and acquired an A.B. degree in Physical education at U.N.C. His last position before coming to Albemarle was football coach at Fort Myer, Tennessee. Mr. Maultsby resides on Holbrook Drive, Albemarle, and is now serving as an assistant to Coach Bob "Goo Goo" Gantt.

Mrs. Harrison attended Salis-

The A.S.H.S. marching band was sporting brand new uniforms when they met Kannapolis on the football field September 18.

Midnight blue with white trimming and silver buttons, the uniforms have tall military hats with chin straps and white ostrich plumes. Written on an emblem of a bulldog which is attached to one sleeve are the words, "Albemarle Senior High Band."

The majorettes, letter girls, and drum majorette also are wearing new uniforms. Quite different from the old uniforms, the new jackets have tails. The majorettes' and letter girls' has a white front on a midnight blue jacket, while the drum majorettes' uniform is exactly opposite in color, being white with a blue front. Their furry white hats are bedecked with navy ostrich plumes.

During the half-time a presentation of the uniforms was made by Mr. R. L. Brown, Jr. Afterwards Mr. Thomas Hauss, band director, expressed to the citizens of Stanly County the deep gratitude of each band member for the uniforms.

The regular half-time performance was then given.

bury High School, received an A.B. degree from W.C.U.N.C., and for the past three summers has studied library science at U.N.C. Mrs. Harrison has served as teacher-librarian at the Badin Elementary School for the past two years. She lives in Badin.

16 Representatives Chosen By Rooms Complete Council

The ASHS Student Council representatives have been elected by their respective homerooms and are now ready to begin the year's work.

The student government is headed by Charles Brown, president; Janice Hearne, secretary; Kenny Furr, vice-president; and Johnny and Jimmy Stonestreet, co-treasurers.

The sophomores are represented by Tony Furr, Johnny Furr, Dan Huneycutt, Kathy Freeman, and Jerry Smith.

The juniors are sending Eddie Wilson, Ted Snotterly, Shelia McManus, Brenda Furr, Diane Lefler, and Jane Arey to speak for them.

The Senior Class has elected Joe Snuggs, Ann Whitley, Elaine Morris, Anna May Renger, and Linda Wilhoit as their spokesmen.

The Student Council this year has Mrs. Bess Thompson Young from Norwood as their organizational sponsor.

Traffic Officers, Pavement Solve Many Problems

Drivers will not have to worry about the dusty parking lot this year, because it was paved a few weeks before school started.

The State Highway Department moved their heavy road machinery to the parking lot a few weeks before school started.

The members of the Traffic Committee, headed by Johnny Shelton and Craven Morton, have undertaken the job of directing and parking traffic on the parking lot.

The 13 other members of the committee are on duty, three in the morning, three during lunch hour, and three after school.

These members are Tommy Ward, Mike Skidmore, Johnny Troublefield, Kenneth York, Terry Mabe, Bill Crawley, Mike Fusonie, Phillip Aldridge, Frank Wade, Ralph Lucas, Roger Burleson, Johnny Williams, and Barry Talbert.

Mr. Frazier, advisor, stated that the students have been very cooperative and there has been no trouble.

'61 Rings Ordered

Junior Class rings should arrive December 10, according to Mrs. Deese, junior class sponsor.

Members of the class were measured for the rings September 17, and are eagerly awaiting their arrival. Like last year's rings, they will have a ruby setting with a picture of the school, a bulldog, and the State Seal molded into the yellow gold band.

BY THEIR WORDS

"We have to finish this solid geometry book by Christmas or Santa Claus won't come to see you."—Miss Caughman.

"I've cut out smoking, cut out drinking, and cut out women. Now I'm cutting out paper dolls."—Jimmy Morris.

"I'm not easy to get off the subject; I'm never on it."—Mr. Hatley.

"Half the time I don't know what I'm talking about and the other half I'm talking about something that I know nothing about."—Eddie Lefler.

"It sure was nice to have a rest from you this summer."—Mrs. Deese.

"I'm not going to criticize, but that's sloppy."—Mr. Fry.

"I'm going on a diet after I eat this piece of cake."—Landis Miller.

"Mrs. Deese, you'd be a good Bulldog for us."—Lydia Hearne.
