BULLDOG BARKS

MIKE WOLFE

Every good football team needs a steady, level-headed leader who can be counted on, and our first Athlete of the Month, co-captain Mike Wolfe, certainly fits the bill.

Mike is a two-year veteran of varsity play, and is experienced in the key backfield positions he plays. As an offensive player he performs in the alternate role of blocking back and fullback, while on defense his alertness and speed make him a valuable performer in the Bulldogs' secondary.

He may carry the nickname of "Droopy" off the field, but as indicated by his fine play, Mike is anything but that when it comes to playing football. Therefore, we are proud to honor him as the Athlete of the Month.

JIMMY BURRIS

"He gets the job done" can be an accurate description of the Athlete of the Month, Jimmy Burris.

Easy-going and good-natured off the field, Jimmy is all business when it comes to performing on the gridiron. He is a fine blocker on offense and carries out all assignments given to him. Jimmy also performs capably on the defensive unit at the defensive tackle position.

"Bo," as he is popularly known to ASHS students, is in his third season as a member of the varsity, and as a tribute to his football prowess, we salute him as the Athlete of the Month for a job well done.

a job well done.

Ready, Bulldogs?

Cartoons at the movies often picture a Bulldog as the divine ruler of his neighborhood and a tough customer to deal with. For the past six seasons that's just what our Albemarle Bulldog has been as far as the now-deceased South Piedmont Conference is concerned.

This fall, the Bulldog has moved to a new neighborhood containing some new challengers to his crown. We are speaking of course, of the new AAA Conference containing new-comers Asheboro, Thomasville, and Statesville. In addition, several old rivals from his old neighborhood, such as Concord, Kannapolis, Landis, and China Grove, have followed our crafty canine to his

Therefore, it should be quite interesting to see the outcome when the football hostilities are over in the neighborhood in late November. We hope our Bulldog will be able to bring to ASHS a new conference title, but win or lose, we know he will give a good account of himself and add to the prestige and name of the school he represents, so go sic'em, Bulldog!

Last-Minute PAT Downs Red Devils

With only 53 seconds left in the game, the Albemarle Bull-dogs scored the winning touch-down to send China Grove's Red Devils to a 7-6 defeat.

Jerry Smith scored the winning touchdown and ran over the extra point, but it was called back. Smith then passed to end Kent Montgomery for the PAT, which Sparkling for the Bulldogs on defensive were Underwood, Burris, Wolfe, Mabe, and Burleson. On offense Mike "Droopy" Wolfe excelled at the new fullback's position, along with tailback J. Smith and end Montgomery.

For the Bulldogs it was the first South Piedmont Conference test, and they proved worthy adversaries for any team they play.
