

HERE AND THERE

Are Visible Lines Invisible?

SYLVIA WALL WAS perplexed by a complicated figure in solid geometry.

"But Miss Caughman," she asked, "aren't you supposed to dot in the lines you can't see?"

Miss Caughman took a long look at the figure and then replied:

"I can see all the lines. If they are invisible to you, dot them in!"

TRYING WITH GREAT effort to sell his shirt in economics class, Arthur Sells made this bright remark:

"This shirt is very easy to take care of. All you have to do is wash and iron it."

HIGH UP IN the Concord bleachers, Nancy Russell suddenly yelled, "Slip over quick! Somebody just fell out."

WHILE EXAMINING MARIE'S calorie book during lunch one day, Janice Hearne suddenly exclaimed, "Well, girls, this chicken has 350 calories."

Vivian Smith very seriously asked, "Is that cooked or uncooked?"

DURING ECONOMICS CLASS, Dannie Davis asked, "Is there a tax on women?"

Coach Nye's reply was, "No, we tax only things we value."

CIVIL DEFENSE WAS the topic of the guidance program last week. During this program, Jimmy Nance asked the question, "What would you do if during a bombing someone tried to get into your fallout shelter?"

Mr. Morehead, the speaker, replied, "Well, it would depend on who she was!"

BOBBIE ATKINS, INQUIRING about her lost baton, asked Gaynelle Deese if she had seen it.

Gaynelle quickly answered, "Oh, yes, don't you remember? You threw it up and it didn't come down!"

LEAVING THOMASVILLE AFTER the game, Sherry Pegram and Jane Crutchfield passed a pile of lumber.

"What's this, a lumber factory?" asked Sherry.

"No," replied Jane, "it's just a forest lying down."

"DO YOU KNOW what to do about fallout?" Dannie Davis asked Bobby Richards.

"No, what?" answered Bob. "Pick it up," was Dannie's intelligent reply.

DURING A DISCUSSION of grades in the parking lot, a few of the senior girls heard Shelia Harris' comment, "If I should make an 'A' this six weeks, my report card would spell D E A D."

OPENING A WINDOW during chemistry class one day, Judy Wilson overheard Mr. Hatley's comment, "Her temperature is going up. She must think I'm going to talk about her."

Five Girls Attend FHA District Rally

Five F.H.A. members attended the District F.H.A. rally at Hickory High School, October 7.

Drienda Harley, Jane Rogers, Susan Russell, Patsy Turner, and Doris Eudy were in charge of roll call at the district meeting.

Susan and Patsy wrote a poem honoring the nine different counties represented there.

"Youth—Measure Your Values" was the theme of the program given by Dr. Voigt Cromer, president of Lenoir Rhyne College.

Students Chosen Lions, Rotarians

Student Lions and Rotarians have been chosen to attend meetings through the month of December.

Representing A.S.H.S. at the Lions meeting for the month of October is Johnny Furr; November, Edward Lowder; December, Mickey Mauldin.

Students chosen to attend the Rotary meetings are as follows: Jeff Underwood, September; Lester Bivens, October; Eddie McLester, November; and Charles Stockton for December.

Each of these boys has shown an ability for leadership and has proven himself a good citizen.

WHO'S WHO

SHERRY PEGRAM

Friendliness, leadership, ambition, and intelligence are a few of the many outstanding qualities which truly describe Sherry Pegram, who has been chosen as Who's Who in this issue.

Proving her intelligence and leadership, Sherry has been a marshal since her sophomore year. She was chosen last year as one of the girls to attend Girls' State. Formerly she has served as president of the Junior class and vice president of her sophomore homeroom.

Presently Sherry holds the office of president in both the National Honor Society and Modern Music Masters. Serving as Managing Editor of the Full Moon keeps her busy working on the paper. She is also a member of Tri-Hi-Y, F.T.A., Black Masque Club, Debate Club, and Boosters' Club.

Although quite busy with these many activities, Sherry still finds time for music, which is one of her special interests. She was the accompanist for Junior Mixed Chorus and is now accompanying the Senior Choir. For ten years Sherry played in the National Auditions and last year was greatly honored by receiving the Paderewski Medal.

Sherry, at the present time, does not have any definite plans for the future, but she is thinking of entering WCUNC next fall and majoring in English. Her intellectual abilities and firm de-

MICKEY MAULDIN

He is the business manager of the Crossroads and president of his class, participates in intramural athletics and serves his school capably on various committees. Who is he? He is this month's Who's Who, Mickey Mauldin.

Being business manager of the Crossroads is a hard job, which requires a lot of time and attention. The person who holds this job must have a conscientious attitude, be dependable and efficient. It is no surprise that Mickey got the job. Mickey presides at all Senior class meetings and all homeroom guidance programs. This is one of his duties as president of the Senior class.

Aside from all of these time consuming jobs, Mickey is secretary-treasurer of his Hi-Y, a member of the Debate club and the Black Masque club and serves as treasurer of his Sunday School class at Grace Baptist Church.

termination assure her success in whatever field of service she chooses.

Annual FTA Tea Honors Teachers

Members of the faculty were honored October 11 at the annual tea given by the FTA.

Upon entering the lounge, which was attractively decorated with Fall flowers, each teacher was presented a red rose. Refreshments consisting of lime punch, cookies, nuts, mints, and cheese straws were served first to the faculty and then to approximately thirty FTA members. A background of soft music completed the setting.

Working to make this both a successful and meaningful event were the following chairmen: Refreshments, Joanna Morris; Decorations, Beverly Freeman and Susan Rogers; and Invitations, Carleeta Redfern.

Officers Of Deca Attend Meeting

Officers of the Deca Club accompanied by Miss Thomas met with club officers from nine other schools at the Chanticleer Restaurant in Salisbury for a dinner meeting on October 10.

The speaker for the evening spoke on "Parliamentary Procedure".

Those attending this meeting were the following: Wayne Mauney, Jimmy Watson, Ronald Sells, Sylvia Klutz, Dianna Harris, and Lana Turner.
