Stanly FHA Has Annual Rally

Stanly County Future Homemakers of America presented their annual county rally in the ASHS auditorium October 22 at 7:00 p.m. The rally was presided over by County President, Barbara Caudle.

Mr. Walter Smith, assistant principal, greeted the guests on behalf of the host school following the formalities of opening the assembly. Afterwards the regular business meeting was held and reports were given by the county secretary and treasurer.

A carefully engineered fashion show was the highlight of the evening. Using a theme of a trip to Mars, Mrs. Agnes James and Miss Louise Furr of James' Clothing guided the audience with a rocket ship of fashions, a perfect wardrobe for an interplanetary visit. Stage settings were diligently and beautifully blended with the theme by Betty Brooks and the local FHA Club.

A total of seven models, one from each club in the county, paraded before the audience in fashions for a young girl's every occasion. Mrs. James and Miss Furr delivered commentary on the collection. Models for the event were Catherine Kelley, Albemarle Senior High; Doretha Garmon, Kingville High; Sharon McCrady, Albemarle Junior High; Elaine Efird, South Stanly High; Janet Pickler, North Stanly High; Becki Medlin, West Stanly High; and Betty Bennett, West Badin High.

Mrs. James then drew the names for the door prizes which were registered for earlier in the evening. The prizes were courtesy of James' Clothing.

To conclude the evening activities, the new officers of the Stanly County FHA were installed. It was announced that South Stanly High would hold the rally next year since it is the school for the incoming county president. New officers that were installed are Jo Ann McSwain, president, South Stanly High; Doretha Garmon, vice president, Kingville High; Carolyn Smith, secretary, Albemarle Junior High; Joan Walker, treasurer, West Badin High; Janet Pickler, reporter, North Stanly High; Carolyn Treece, parliamentarian, West Stanly High; Jennifer Taylor historian, Albemarle Senior High; and Ellen Caudle, recreation leader, Albemarle Senior High.

Little Girls Play Good Guys

The Albemarle girls football team will play the Big Ways Good Guys at the Senior High Stadium November 16 at 8:00 p. m.

The team, coached by Coach Becky Stasavich, has been practicing in preparation for the big game. Coach Becky Stasavich is presently negotiating with several highly qualified, nationally known assistant mentors, and an announcement as to the assistants will be released shortly.

Big Ways Good Guys consists of a team of disc-jockeys from radio station WAYS of Charlotte. They have a 4-1-1 record and this is the first game of the season for the girls, so the outcome is questionable.

Chief cheerleader, Tommy Blalock, and his squad will be there in good form to cheer the team on to victory. The Booster's Club is planning on a huge turnout from the schools and the city to witness this spectacular game. There will be a caravan and bon-fire preceding the game which will organize in the school parking lot at 6:30 p. m.

Coach Stasavich in an interview with a "Full Moon" reporter stated, "They've got a pretty tough team, those Good Guys. But I have not seen a girl yet who could not handle a man. We plan to win, but after all, it matters not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game. But we're going out there to win."

Webb, Patsy Poplin, Nancy Lowder, Betty Fesperman, Cam West, Sherry Lowder, Sally Lowder, Betty Holt, Freida Deese, Cathy Casper, Johnny Hartsell, Jimmy Harwood, Kitty Fisher, Becky Furr, and Missy Pegram.
