

THE FOOL MOON

Vol. 13 — No. 69

Amhurst Surfing and Hiking Society, U.S.A.

March 32, 1984

Students Steal School Sign

Vandals apparently stole Senior High's large brick sign located on the front lawn, sometime between fourth and fifth periods last Friday.

The absence was reported when students returning during fifth period from lunch at Hardee's, noticed that something was missing. Hearing of the absence, Mrs. Crowell promptly called Calvin to the office to see if he had borrowed it, but he denied needing it.

By sixth period, Mr. Hawkins ordered a full-scale investigation, appointing Mrs. Westerlund as chief investigator and head knocker. One of the investigators, a science teacher, suggested that he frisk all the Home Ec., Shorthand, and Girls' Gym classes for the sign. The suggestion was vetoed, however, because it would interrupt class schedules.

At 2:30 p.m., Mr. Hawkins ordered a search of the entire school premises. All rooms, closets, and lockers were searched for the sign, but to no avail. A subsequent investigation of the bricklaying annex also failed to yield any evidence.

At present, there are no formal suspects, although investigations continue concerning the Senior Choir and the Journalism Class.

When asked for comment, Mr. Hawkins replied, "It has come to my attention that there exists a situation which, although we cannot condone it, nevertheless exists. The gravity of the existing situation constitutes and necessitates a concentrated and vigorous reprisal concerning the aforementioned existing situation. Unfortunately, the authorities of this establishment cannot tolerate or ignore the situation which, needless to say, exists. Without question, the undivided attention of responsible parties is necessary if all concerned are to obtain and maintain a harmonious atmosphere of educational stamina at the existing establishment. Of course, no amount of honorable intentions can compensate entirely for those parties who feel, as I have said, that they must continue to do so. If they do continue to do so, the existing situation will undoubtedly continue to exist. I think I have made myself very clear."

Seniors To Be Liberated—ASHS Obliterated

Threatening to instigate a week-long boycott of the school, a committee of fifteen influential seniors has paved the way for the best Senior Week in the history of ASHS. The administration, after hours of deliberation, complied with all their demands.

Yes, for a whole week this spring, seniors will not only be able to terrorize the lowly sophomores and juniors, they will be able to squelch their vandelic appetites as well.

Friday will highlight the festivities; many radical seniors in Mr. Hatley's physics and chemistry classes fondly refer to it as "Blow-up Day." Seniors will be able to "experiment" during class that day with any chemicals and apparatus in the lab at Mr. Hatley's expense.

French students in the Senior Class will have even more fun; a two hour demolition derby in the French lab is scheduled for 3:05.

To top things off, Mr. Frazier has scheduled a race for all A.V. boys on the A.V.'s famous rolling tables. The Full Moon urges all seniors to participate in these events.

Members of S.O.B., Ronnie Harris, Johnny Cotton, and Mike Kendrick, illustrate their tactics of teacher abuse.

ASHS Set For Olympics

Five Bulldog athletes will be selected by our coaching staff to attend the 1976 Olympics at Bombay, India.

Unfortunately, their names cannot be revealed because the decision has not yet been made. But they'll go to India and win medals for our school.

Plans have already been made for the opening of these Olympics. Instead of the regular Olympic torch, an Indian sitar will be burned, and Maharishi Mahesh Yogi will give the opening statements.

One event planned is very interesting. The participants will start in Bombay, run to the nearest sacred river, bathe, kiss a sacred cow on the nose, mediate five minutes, and last, but certainly not least, run to see if the Beatles are visiting Ravi Shankar.

Our athletes will begin training as soon as they can learn the basics of transcontinental meditation and cow kissing.

Editorial

Students Help Stamp Out Sex

Certain members of the local community have expressed a desire to initiate an insidious course of instruction in you-know-what . . . sex! This is obviously a clever cover-up for a plan to demoralize and undermine the students of ASHS.

Such a course would supposedly inform students not only of the basic facts of sex, but also of social motivations, morals, and many other aspects of maturity.

Actually, innocent students would be led to thinking unclean thoughts.

Over the past few months, there has been a substantial increase in reported cases of that dreaded disease, which, a few years ago, was mentioned only in whispers behind closed door—mononucleosis. If students knew about this disease, then they'd really be in trouble. Students do not wish to know anything about sex yet. Most feel that they can wait until after marriage.

There is no need for a sex education course at Senior High. Besides, any student who wishes to obtain a preliminary sex education on his own can easily do so by reading the walls in public restrooms.

Homewreckers To Plan Families

The Future Homewreckers of America will meet tonight at 7:00 for their regular monthly meeting. A chaperoned discussion of family planning is scheduled.

In the past few weeks, the girls have learned how not to run a house. The two club sponsors have presented fine examples to their students in such fields as burning meals, child neglect, cluttering the house, and spending needlessly.

All in all, this year's crop of students will be even better suited to create marital problems which are so sorely needed in today's utopian society.

President Hall Hurt In Fall

President David Hall narrowly escaped serious injury when an attempt was made on his integrity while descending the central staircase.

He had just started down the steps when his feet made contact with a cleverly positioned banana peel. Losing his balance, he fell down the rest of the flight, arching through the air in a glorious reverse swan dive.

The long fall could have caused serious injury, but by employing muscular agility and mental alertness, President Hall was able to avoid any serious injury. His complexion did, however, take on a pleasing shade of scarlet.

Vice-president Wagoner was informed of the near tragedy and rushed to the scene to offer aid. The ambitious Miss Wagoner had reportedly already started taking the oath of office before she realized that President Hall had survived.

When asked for comment, the President made several interesting statements, which are unsuitable for print, so you'll just have to use your imagination.

Miss Wagoner, who was more reserved, had this to say: "There goes my big chance. I guess I blew it. Oh, well, back to the old drawing board."

The would-be assassins have not yet been found, but investigations are continuing. Authorities discounted rumors that members of a local anarchist group called the S.O.B. (Students Opposed to Brutality) were connected with the plot.

S.O.B. Subverts Abusive Teachers

According to some "letters of concern" recently printed in our "distinguished" area newspaper, we teenagers should run and hide. Our teachers are becoming overly abusive in the classroom.

Normally quiet teachers are supposed to be making the worst attacks. One student reported seeing Miss Misenheimer baring a dagger and Mrs. Smith planting a live wire in a particularly difficult student's seat.

One starving student, attempting a mad dash to Hardee's, was cornered at an exit by Mrs. Gamewell's man-eating fan. Escaping this terrible fate, he dashed to his auto. The administration, however, had foreseen the probability of such action. And as the unsuspecting student was leaving the parking lot, he was demolished by strategically-placed mines rigged to explode only during fourth period.

Rumor has it that the cafeteria staff has also joined the cause. Employing a new soap invented by Professor Hatley, the staff has created a dynamic "wash-out-the-mouth" jello in order that they might sadistically torment us unsuspecting students.

The time to act, students, is now! A rapidly developing new organization, the S.O.B. (Students Opposed to Brutality), is courageously fighting the atrocious attacks of our perverted professors. The Full Moon staff urges you to support this effective organization.

ASHS Prepares For Fund-Raising Raisin Sale

At a recent student council meeting, Mr. Hawkins announced plans for a fund-raising raisin sale to take the place of the annual chocolate sale next October.

The chocolate sale was discontinued, according to Mr. Hawkins, because of a saturation of the area with chocolate and a 60 per cent increase in cases of aggravated acne.

The high school cafeteria staff will donate eight tons of raisins for the sale. Each student will receive a minimum supply of raisins to be sold at government surplus prices.

Contests will be held throughout the sale to reward the best salesmen. The student who sells the most raisins will receive from the cafeteria staff a grand prize of a year's supply of prunes, plus a year's supply of Chux disposable diapers.

FOOL MOON

TERRITORIAL STUFF

Bull-of-the-Woods Marlene Whitley (Editor-in-Chief)
Guerilla Chief and Partner in Crime Susan Wolf (Managing Editor)

TOTALLY BORED

Catty Remarks and Nasty Cuts Jane Lowder, Denis Rickman (Editorials)
Gossip and Rumors Alice Hinson, Sherry Lefler (News)
Scrapes and Scabs David Hall, Tim Morgan (Sports)
Bathroom Stall Art and Pornography Ronnie Burris, Allen Justus (Art)
Slander and Vulgarisms Mary Kay Austin, Dick Ross (Co-Feature)

BOOTLEGGING STAFF

Chief Goldbrick Jane Nicholds (Business Manager)
Mass Brainwasher Patricia Burleson, Neesie Huneycutt (Promotion)
Blood Brother Karen Moose (Circulation)
Propaganda and Bull Tom Adams (Advertising)
Bumble Fingers Patricia Ray, Sherry Yow (Typing)
Foreign Mission Service Teresa Wagoner (Exchange)

Chief Head-Knocker, No. 1 Censor, and Spiritual Leader Mrs. Nancy I. Gamewell (Advisor)

The Fool Moon is published bilingually except for January, February, March, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, and December. Subscriptions are a gyp at any rate. The above persons are responsible for this issue, please do not hold it against them. Any relation between names mentioned herein and any real persons, living or dead, is purely consequential.