

It's Your Life

At the present time, the loyal juniors have begun all possible preparation in making the prom a success so as to please the worshipped class of '71.

Investigators recently began searching for information concerning the theme and decorations. Shep Russell, hostilely demanding Lynn Chivington to disclose the theme of the prom or else, received a severe slap and his ring back.

Several upper classmen gagged and tied Miss McKenzie to the flag pole, threatening to die her hair black if she didn't satisfy their curiosity. However, her fearless loyalty to her juniors, and her daring manner awed the seniors. They released her after making her only a blonde.

Bill DeTorre, fearing nothing, courageously stalked towards the entrance of the gym. On route to his destination, he was attacked by twenty-five outraged, screaming junior girls. Defeated by the opposite sex, Bill has now gone into exile because of his humiliated ego.

Seniors are just going to have to wait until the night of the prom to ease their growing suspicions. Everyone is asked to enter the gym at his own risk and are not guaranteed to emerge alive. Will you be brave enough to dare it?

Relations Furthered

The Human Relations Council is still striving to improve student affairs. And, as tradition has it, they prefer to carry on their "affairs" in secluded areas because they are more conducive to learning. In fact, the council members are so dedicated that they find themselves planning more and more "meetings" to deal with the "situations" in which they find themselves involved.

Last night the group held regular nightly "meeting" in the back of Steve Sinclair's bus. No outsiders have uncovered any details of the "Discussion." We do know that the group prefers to divide into their special committees for a more personal involvement. And, the only clue we have is that the flashing red tail lights that generally mean stop did not blink once the entire evening.

We are all eagerly awaiting the council's report.

At the request of the Full Moon staff, will each of the following,

Marsha Alexander, Debbie Bryson, Jeff Bursleson, Ken Bursleson, Charles Cooper, Montesse Drye, Joy Early, John Earnhardt, Daryl Ellis, Debbie Frazier, Sheila Flowe, Charles Greene, Darrell Hewett, Nicholas Hyatt, Anegla Little, Debra Madaris, Harold Overcash, Kaye Roberts, Sheila Russell, and Martha Talbert.

Up Coming

January 28 — Sun bathing contest — midnight — 3 a.m.)

April 4 — Marry Ann Crisco's driver's education class begins

April 4½ — Mary Ann Crisco's driver's education students end

President Nixon visits ASHS — That'll be the day

April 10 — Track meet held in ASHS parking lot — featuring our famous hurdles

April 11 — David Biles gives his body to science — Mr. Frazier's biology class

May 3 — Mr. Lentz's sex education classes make an appearance on The Doctors

May 9 — Octopus race in gym

May 16 — Football homecoming

May 5 — Annual tree-chopping contest

School Closes

WW III Breaks Out

School closed Thursday, February 12, at noon because of student riots. Members of the Crossroads staff and The Full Moon staff started the fracas in the upper back hall of the school.

The journalism class members, led by Mama "G" (for Gangster) Gamewell, and the annual staff, under the direction of Tommygun Thomason, clashed physically as well as verbally.

The combat started when the annual staff, having sent their creation to press, could find nothing else to do and decided to crash Room 214.

Journalism members resented this intrusion and fought back ferociously.

Full Moons were made into airplanes, lighted and thrown into the tremendous stacks of unsold annuals from previous years. Words also became heated. Basic methods of combat consisted of wadded up Full Moons and the slinging of annuals.

DECA and ICT students, hearing the noise, rushed from their respective rooms and into the fight.

The well-known commanders, Bullet Brown and Bouncer Bourne, rushed out and indiscriminatingly chose sides. Students also chose sides, basing their decisions on the amount of coverage their clubs had received in the newspaper and annual.

The fight continued for fifteen minutes before "Red" Lentz and "Redder than Ever" McKenzie came to the scene.

After several futile attempts to stop the skirmish, Lentz and McKenzie finally managed to drag Mama G and Tommygun from the fight.

The battle finally ended when "Fear Nothing" Frazier arrived and sentenced all journalism and annual staff members to lunch in the cafeteria everyday for the next month.

For their part in the fight, the DECA students must publish The Full Moon for the rest of the year. ICT students must publish a completely new annual by May 25.

Plowjocks In Print

The following are excerpts taken from the article "A Student's Typical Day" from the Comet Trails of North Stanly High School, February, 1971.

- 6:15—Eat grits and greasy dough boy biscuits.
- 6:25—Wake up.
- 7:10—Shave off one sideburn one inch too high.
- 7:15—Draw a sideburn with eyebrow pencil to replace the cut-off one.
- 7:16—Brush dandruff off shoulders.
- 7:18—Sweep dandruff under rug.
- 12:26—Run to lunch.
- 12:40—Get sick.
- 3:30—Get home. Drink root beer, eat a potato salad sandwich, turn on Little Rascals, take it easy.
- 4:30—Ride my Mexican burro. Accidentally step in burro track.
- 4:55—Change shoes.
- 6:15—Eat supper.
- 6:30—Eat supper again.
- 7:00—Settle down to studying and watching the Arthur Smith Show.
- 7:30—Get out Kazoo and practice decomposing songs.
- 7:40—Tell parents going to Pfeiffer to do research. Go to John's to relax.
- 7:50—Parent's good friends see me at John's.
- 9:00—Eat a snack, cream of celery soup.
- 10:05—Do as many as three push ups.
- 10:08—Perspire.
- 10:15—Go to bed. (Typical?)

Looney

Toons

- I Feel Like a Sex Machine
Miss McKenzie
- You're a Big Rirl Now
Karen Talbert
- Nip Sip, Higher and Higher
Nancy Cotton
- Whats Does Its Takes
LaDonna Pennington
- Somebody's Watching You
Mr. Frey
- I Think We're Alone Now
Dorothy Cotton and Terry Howard
- See You in September
Mike Nash
- Out in the Country
Mrs. Hudson
- Stoney End
Lindsey Dunevant
- Sweet Mary
Jimmy Boyd
- Express Yourself, Just My Imagination Running Away With Me
Mrs. Gamewell
- Who's Making Love
Mrs. Weydell
- Temptation Eyes
Cheaters Anonymous
- Just Seven Numbers
Algebra Class
- I Wanna be Free
ASHS Seniors!

NHS Provides Set Up

Honor Society members decorated the stage and rehearsed the program fourth period.

The Enimity Circle, a combo composed of Jimmy Boyd, Ken Bursleson, Bobby Dobbs, Phillip Lowder, Tony Morton, Tony Oettinger, and David Sutton, performed a full minute and a half plus twelve seconds prior to the opening of the show.

The group also played for the stocking run, formally known as the sock hop, held afterwards in the bricklaying annex. The dance (?) lasted. And, the admission was.

For the program, the indivisible group divided into pairs. Later, each squad demonstrated, then taught the entire group. The climax resulted in a field trip to Chesterfield, South Carolina. (Was this the justice of the peace?)

The counties represented at the Conference included Albemarle, Big Lick, Finger, Locust, Millingport, and Oakboro.

Poncho, sometimes known as Miss McKenzie, leader of the gang, plans to take a larger group next year. Plans are to swing this event every nine months.

Two Faces Unfocused

David Biles and Calvin Ingram have been selected as Student Bodies of the month for July, in recognition of their school services.

During his two years at Senior High, Calvin has an extinguished service record. He is currently serving as a doorstop in Mrs. Hatley's room. This amiable, ambitious fellow also holds a part-time job as the Green Fly's head fly swatter (he swats head flies.) He also participates in gymnastic program as a trampoline.

David Biles, a well rounded individual, goes at life with Zest, but he still has B. O. all day long. He is a member of the Future Homemakers of America, the ping-pong team, and had a roaring success as a Student Lion.

Congratulations to both these outstanding young men.

Group "Seeds" To Finals

Nominees for Outstanding Teenagers of America received certificates of Merit Friday, January 29.

All members of Mr. Chuck Smith's English I class are still eligible for this high award.

The class was nominated as a group because of its outstanding achievements in the field of English Bio-chemical Literature.

Selected on the basis of their school activity, leadership ability, and talent, the group actively participates in the Archery, Drama, and Modeling Clubs. They also entered, as a group, the annual watermelon seed spitting contest at Big Lick, and placed second.

* Students Opposed To Teachers