

Sophomores Take Top Prizes In Fund Raising Project

In the magazine sale which recently concluded, the top sellers were Frank Miller and Theresa Long. They will receive their choice of an AM-FM, 8-track, car or house stereo with speakers. The top selling first period was Mr. Jones' class with 18 people. They will receive a Hog Party, which is all the ice cream they can eat. The magazine sale is the school's annual money raising project, and was officially held from October 10-17. This year the school fell short of its $5,000 goal by several hundred dollars. The money the school cleared from this project is divided among the clubs.

Hughes, the sophomore was Vickie Penfield, and there was no junior winner.

All students who turned in three or more subscriptions Wednesday won a free poster. Winners were Jeff Chance, Ann Dennis, Mark James, Vickie Penfield, and Matoka Snuggs. The top selling class was to get a free Coke party, Thursday, but no class reached the $100.00 minimum. Friday, the top seller won $5.00 worth of free music. Theresa Long won this prize.

On the last official turn-in day, Monday, October 17, the class with the most sales was to get three spirit points. The sophomore class merited this award.

At this point, the school had not even reached half of its goal, so the Student Council decided to have one more turn-in day, on Friday, October 21. This was an individual turn-in day and the amount brought that day was not added to the student's previous amount. The top seller in each class on this day won $10.00. The top sophomore seller was Ann Thursday, October 6, the student body was called to the auditorium for an assembly. Gary Smith, the magazine representative, explained about the prizes his company would be giving to the students, according to the number of subscriptions they sold.

The Student Council which sponsored the sale, offered several daily prizes. On the first turn-in day, Monday, October 10, the top three sellers each won a cash prize of $5.00. Ann Dennis won first prize, Randy Shank came in second and Christie Sasser placed third. Tuesday the top sophomore, junior, and senior sellers were to receive a free Coke and a McFeast certificate. The senior winner was Doug

The top magazine sellers were Frank Miller and Teresa Long.

Dennis and the top junior was Joe Klutz. There was no top senior seller. Every student who sold at least one subscription on this special day will see a free movie during school. This turn-in day brought in over $2000.00, but the school was still a little short of its goal.

The Sophomore Class won overall in sales, which was worth six spirit points. The seniors were second, receiving four points, and the juniors trailed, receiving only two spirit points.

Moonbeams

"I Do"

Congratulations and best wishes go to Mr. Jones on his marriage to Carol Strickland in Virginia Beach, November 25.

Spotlight on History

The U. S. History classes viewed a special showing of "The Lincoln Conspiracy", November 7 at the Eastgate Cinemas.

King of the Road

The Student Rotarian for the month of November is William Lowder and the Student Lion is Mack Knotts.

In The News

Students in Mrs. Hatfield's Mass Media classes traveled to Charlotte October 28 for a tour of Knight Publishing Company and several Charlotte radio stations.

Time's Up

November 3 marked the closing of the first nine weeks grading period and students received their report cards November 11.

SAE Goes to College

Fifteen representatives from the SAE Club attended an all-day district convention at Wingate College October 28.

Hee Haw High

In honor of North Stanly, Bryan Souther and Sharon Ledbetter were announced Mr. and Ms. Hee Haw High for being the best-dressed farmers. In the teacher category, Mrs. Morrow and Mr. Taylor were voted Ma and Pa Kettle because of their authentic farmer attire.

NHS Increases Membership

Eight Senior High Students were inducted into the National Honor Society Thursday evening, November 3. Fall tapping ceremonies began Wednesday morning when the new members were each "tapped" by a senior Honor Society member and tagged with a ribboned NHS sticker. At the formal initiation service Thursday evening in the Senior High Auditorium, inductees and their parents listened to speeches on the qualities of NHS members; outstanding scholarship, character, leadership and service. The newly tapped students were robed, presented with yellow carnations and scrolls containing the NHS oath. Just before taking the oath, the inductees lit tapers and placed them in ivy covered candelabra. After the roll call, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Fall National Honor Society members must have a 91 or better grade average and be active in the school or community. The following students were tapped November 3.

Dawn Lowder is Business Manager of the Full Moon Staff and president of the SAE Club. She is a Student Council representative and a bus driver.

Dottie Ingram participated in the SPEC program, is a member of FBLA, and is president of the Science Club. She has musical talent, especially at the piano.

William Hudson attended

Governor's School and is a member of the Monogram Club. He is an outstanding musician and sings in the Senior Choir and plays bass guitar in the Stage Band.

Lisa Page is presently Treasurer of the Student Council and a Crossroad's staff member. She does volunteer work as a Candy Stripper and is a member of the Science Club.

Kim Herring is a member of the Student Council and marches in the Senior High Band. She works on the Crossroad's staff and is active in her church youth group.

Connie Bates sings soprano in the Senior Choir and is a Student Council representative. She enjoys being a Candy Stripe volunteer and participates in the History Club.

William Lowder plays varsity football for the Bulldogs and is a Monogram Club member. He is Co-Editor of The Crossroads and sings tenor in the Senior Choir.

Lydia Whitley belongs to the Monogram Club, the SAE and the Explorers. She works as a Library Aide and is currently the president of the FHA.

The 20 National Honor Society members tapped last spring elected officers in their first meeting of the 77-78 school year. Donna Marie Creech serves as President. Carol Gwaltney is Vice President. Susan Poplin holds the office of Secretary-Treasurer. Donna Kirk is the Reporter and Sharon Ledbetter serves as Chaplain. The National Honor Society sponsors various activities during the year including College Day and the Honor Roll Tea as well as fall and spring tappings.

Miss Leviner supervises her art class.

Art Receives Teacher

The new art teacher at Senior High is Miss Beverly Leviner. She is replacing Mrs. Sensor who moved to Illinois in October.

Miss Leviner studied at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro with Peter Agostini, a New York artist. After graduating she lived at Nags Head for two years. Before coming to ASHS she taught kindergarten through twelfth grade art in Chatham County.

Miss Leviner enjoys ceramics, sculpture and horseback riding. She hopes to emphasize art in the community and enjoys teaching high school students. She would like to organize a Junior High art program and let the Senior High program be an extension. Miss Leviner commented, "I like being here. I like the area and I'm really excited about it."

New members of the National Honor Society are Connie Bates, Kim Herring, Dawn Lowder, Lydia Whitley, Lisa Page, William Lowder, Dottie Ingram, and William Hudson.