The old town seems to be lacking something---Maybe it's Lawton, Kenny and Nibby singing those wilted ole songs that were once loved by all.....A.P., where the world did you acquire all those cute cousins.....Popular places for entertainment: Sunset Rocks (Where is that sign??????), Rabun Bald, A.P.'s house, Glen Ryman's house (The gal with the big green eyes), Mary Youngs house, Jenny Brecco's house (she and Kenny make quite a two-some when it comes to singing--when are they ever gona go outta business????)..... Congratulations to Allie Sue Price and Lee Keener. Why????? They got married this week. Good luck, y'all.

Say gals there's a real cute guy that works at The Tar Heel, black hair, brown eyes. We don't know his name yet, but don't think we won't. He's about 17.

"You know, you hear a lot about summer romances these days, but from the look in their eyes, we're inclined to think Earle and Frances mean it. Time will tell."

Drip Drop. Drip Drop! (Not Y'all. That's the rain we're talking about. It really isn't drippy with the weather most of the time in Highlands. Not with the weather, that is.) Everything is all wet these days. We're getting tired of it. How about some excitement so this column can illuminate, kids???

Everybody was afully glad to see Bobbie Abbott the other night. And especially Mac. Mac's an interesting lil character....Kaffy claims she can't see without her glasses, but she makes certain exceptions, especially when they wear trousers!

One of the newest gals in town id Ann Stone, and we imagine she'll be crashing Highlands society in a few years. Bubby Niblack seems to find the attraction pretty strong over at Stones. There's one thing puzzler us. What is going to happen now that Marions here and Nibby's gone? HMMMMMMMMMMMM??????????

What was A.P. so steamed up about last week-end???? She was the happiest little gal around town, but it all faded when a certain--- Lewis Doggett left town. And now, all you have to do is mention his name and her eyes get pink
