WHY NOT HAVE CHRISTMAS ALL YEAR ROUND?

The true meaning of Christmas is the giving of one's true self; not the giving of presents. Happiness comes with giving rather than receiving. The true spirit of Christmas, therefore, should be maintained all year round.

It would be easy to carry through the meaning of truth and sincerety if it were not for the petty emotional patterns such as hate, anger, and self-ishness that exist in the minds of the parents, teachers, and students. The children and students pattern their lives by the emotional examples given them by adults and fellow students. If a parent or teacher, or other person with authority, loses his temper continuously, the student will develope the same hateful traits and there can be no true discipline or feeling of well being.

Why not make it our New Year's Resolution this year to carry the Christmas spirit the year round? Why not learn to discipline our own mimds and learn to help each other by creating good activities and eliminating bad influences?

If every parent, teacher, and studer will TRULY dedicate himself to serving the GOOD in others, we can have the happiest and most progressive school and community in the country. Let's you and I begin, as students, to discipline ourselves and thereby present our teachers and parents with a permanent gift.

Warren Wakeman

"Men give me credit for genius; but all the genius I have lies in this:
When I have a subject on hand I study it profoundly. The effect I make, they call the fruit of genius; it is however the fruit of labor and thought."
