When two people love each other like we do I think even if we won't get to see each other too very much this summer and fall and next school year, I honestly believe our love will grow stronger if that is possible. I wished you the best of luck in all the other things I wrote for you. I want to change this slightly and say that "I'll give you the very best" that I possible can in the near future.

Please remember this night always. It was a good movie but best of all I had you and you were happy. Gosh, honey, you don't realize
