

STAFF OF LIFE

By Jo Jo

A toe peeks through my stockened foot,
Like a newly hatched bird from its egg.

A stubble adorns my chin,
From lack of a razor blade,
Through a broken mirror,
A pair of eyes peer at me,
Out of half opened lids,
The vessels training,
To keep the blood in tow,
The coffee pot is Boalder Dam,
Holding back the torrential rain,
That pours through my roof.

Outside is the night,
Dark, cold, wet.

All life seems lost-
It is the time of the corpse.

I open my last can of beans,
And once again Life is a beautiful thing.

AT WORK

The West Montgomery Student Council has been formed. The officers elected are as follows: David Scott, President; Johnny Ingram, vice-president; Nancy Helen Bruton, secretary and treasurer; and Charles Bruton, sergeant-at-arms. The other members are Martha Thrower, Ellen Highsmith, James Mashburn, Ann Moore, Fincher Jarrell, Fred Roberts, Jimmy Presslar, Mike Hamlett, Linda Beaman, Linda Hamilton, Terry Wallace, and Sheryl Corbett. Mr. T.L. White is the sponsor.

This organization has been active. They planned the sock-hop after the homecoming game and were in charge of conducting the tabulation of votes for homecoming queen. To avoid confusion in the halls at lunch, the Student Council has set up hall patrols. School supplies are now being sold before school and after lunch by student council members.

Johnny Ingram has been chosen as chairman of a social committee which will supervise dances planned by the student council. Miss Celia Brown, mathematics teacher, has been appointed as sponsor of this committee.

Telegrams that never got through.

General Custer--Indians on warpath, Very Dangerous,
Avoid open ground.

Goliath--Watch out for a guy named David,
Carries a slingshot, could prove dangerous.

A Friend

Julius Ceasar--Beware of Brutus, has been seen sharpening his daggar.

Christopher Columbus--Come home at once, Mother is not mad anymore, trip is not necessary.

Japan--Clear out Hiroshima, Americans have new bomb, planes headed in that general direction.
