

FASHION NEWS

by Dotty Lilly

February fashions dictate Miss Sara Pat Andrews and Mike Harvell as Mr. and Miss Fashionality of the month. Sara Pat is a pretty sophomore, while Mike is a handsome member of the senior class.

Charming, chic, and colorful, Pat is always well-dressed for school time activities. She has chosen a lovely auburn ensemble to complement her auburn-gold hair. The outfit includes a match-mate skirt and sweater. The cardigan sweater, a product of "Bobbie Brooks," is a blend of wool and orlon. It is matched with a pure wool skirt. The hip-pleated skirt is a popular item for teenage girls. Neutral tones are displayed by a neat, white blouse. Pat's blouse has a bermuda collar and roll-up sleeves.

Sara Pat furthers her color scheme in the selection of muted copper-tone loafers. In the line of accessories, the personable miss wears a popular scarab bracelet. The stones are a shade deeper than her skirt. Set in a gold base and surrounded by pearls, the bracelet is very attractive.

Simplicity, combined with careful grooming, contributes to her total look of loveliness.

Selected as all-conference line man, Mike Harvell is also tops on the fashion list. Mike appears quite the "man about campus" in a neat, pale-yellow shirt. The attractive shirt has a button-tab and full length sleeves. In handsome contrast, Mike wears black, pleatless slacks. Both items are smartly matched with a madras belt. The belt has black, yellow, and green hues. As a member of the Monogram Club, Mike dons the school's red letter jacket. The jacket is an excellent quality wool. It has a front zipper, bordered on either side by black and white strips. Typical of high school boys, Mike wears black loafers to complete his uniform. The confidence of good taste and careful grooming becomes the appearance of this young man.

CONTEST WINNER

Carol Dennis is Homemaker of Tomorrow for our school in the 1963 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Having achieved the highest score in a knowledge and attitude test given senior girls Dec. 4, she now is eligible, along with winners in other state high schools, for the title of state Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The state Homemaker of Tomorrow is awarded a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The runner-up receives a $500 scholarship. The school of each state Homemaker of Tomorrow is awarded a complete set of Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The state Homemaker of Tomorrow, accompanied by her school advisor, also will join with other state winners in an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.; next spring. During the tour, the 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and national runners-up will be named. The Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will have her scholarship raised to $5,000, with second, third and fourth place winners being awarded scholarships of $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000, respectively.

Basis for selection of local and state winners is a test prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago. Personal observation and interviews are added factors in determining national winners.

In the program's nine years, nearly three million girls have been enrolled.

SUPPORT JUNIORS

During the past month, the Junior class has had West Montgomery stationery for sale. The profits of this project is designated to aid in financing the Junior-Senior this spring.

Although the class has put much time and effort into the project, sales have been limited. A little over half of the two hundred and three boxes has been purchased.

The class urges support of this project. Stationery is still on sale. Those who have handled sales are Celia Lewis and Kay Hunsucker.
