

JUNIOR- SENIOR SUCCESSFUL

On April 19, 1963, Juniors and Seniors of West Montgomery spent an enchanted evening at the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

Upon entering the gym, one walked through an archway of roses before encountering the receiving line, which included Mr. and Mrs. T.L. White; Pres. of the Senior Class, Johnny Harris, escorting Marion Dorsett; Pres. of the Junior Class, Edgar Haywood, escorting Carolyn Wallace; Pres. of the Student Council, Fincher Jarrell, escorting Marsha Armstrong. Ellen Highsmith introduced the receiving line.

The main floor was beautifully decorated in a springtime theme with colorful displays of flowers and butterflies throughout. Arranged attractively in the center of the gym was a huge portrayal of a fountain. Butterflies suspended on thin wires represented the streams of water. The color was a striking array of blue, turquoise, pink, and yellow. The base of the fountain was draped in ivy.

Table arrangements consisted of pink candles, pink carnations, and pink nylon butterflies.

The combo, which was from Asheboro, was seated on the stage against a background of butterfly and flower arrangements. These were mounted on a huge framework of white wood.

To the right of the center, the attractive refreshment table was situated. A huge candle amidst pink carnations served as the center piece.

The entire atmosphere was one of relaxed beauty and dignity.
