BOOSTING ATHLETICS

(By Ruth Pickler.)

The games of our Albemarle School are fine;

Nothing is better along that line;
The thing our school boosts all the time,

Is athletics.

If you want to grow mentally, physically strong,

And stay in good humor the whole day long,

Play some game you know is not wrong—

Make it baseball!

The boys love to play a fast interesting game,

They play all the season, in sunshine
and rain,

It's never old and never tame—

Its basketball.

If you want a good game that's not so rough,

But one guaranteed to make muscles
tough,

Then play the game that is the stuff—
That's tennis!

Now if you are too young for these sports little boy,

And would like a simpler, smaller

toy,

You'll find this game will bring you joy—

Its marbles!

Now do as I tell you; listen dear,
Let's make our rivals white with fear,
By playing hard the coming year—
For A. H. S.

CLOSING EXERCISES HIGH SCHOOL.

(By George Harris.)

The commencement exercises for the Albemarle Graded School will begin on Thursday evening, May 25, with a piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Huntley. These recitals are getting to be annual affairs here in Albemarle and the one this year promises to be a big treat for music-lovers.

On Friday evening one will have the privilege of hearing the best orators in the A. H. S. soar to the heights of eloquence, in a contest for the medal offered by the Wilson Literary Society to the best high school declaimer.

Roy Whitley will speak "The coming Mastery of America," Vance Huneycutt, "The Genius of N. C.," Arthur L. Patterson, "The American Flag," Boyd Hatley," An address to the Confederate Veterans," Ray Low-der, "Uncle Sam" by Bob Taylor.

The eight girls will, perhaps, surprise you in their efforts to win the medal offered by the Cornelian Literary Society. Edna Matthews will recite, "From a Far Country; Nell Snuggs, "Maggie and Jiggs at the Golden Gate," Letha McIntyre, "Mr.
Caudle has Lent an Acquaintance a family Umbrella," Pauline Little,
"Mrs. Tubbs at the Sewing Circle"; Annie Drye, "By Courier"; Mamie Watson, "The Sioux Chief's Daughter"; Edith Widenhouse, "Over the Hill to the Poor House"; Creelman Rowland, "The Woman who Married an Owl."

These 13 readers and declaimers were selected from a group of 25 in preliminary contests held recently.

Rev. D. B. Green, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening in the Central Methodist Church.
