

POPS AND CRACKLES

Astonishing Things Happen on History. Question on History I. Exams: Tell about the career of Bismarck.

Hattie Sawyer, Oh, I know that Bismarck is a city in Germany.

Question on History II. Exam. Tell something of the historical significance of Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield.

Mary Edith Sullivan—Well, I know all about Disraeli, but to save my life I can't remember a thing about Lord Beaconsfield.

Alma Lawrence: O John Henry is going to take us on a picnic, and all the Seniors have got to dress on the campus in the morning at 7:30.

Bonnie Belle Horton, getting ready to go to Blue Ridge Tea.—Myrtle, I'm sorry you're sick. Do you want me to bring you some Blue Ridge tea?

Louise Powell: What did you tell him when he told you he loved you?

Moultrie Drake: O, I told him to take some vinegar to counteract the "lie."

Clara Eason, O, I saw a perfectly darling dress down at Pigly-Wigly's!

Dr. Freeman: What was the outstanding characteristic of the early church?

Blanche Walker: The spire.

SOCIETY NIGHT IS UNIQUE OCCASION.

The annual Society exercise of the Astrotekton and Philaretian Literary Societies were presented Saturday night in the College auditorium.

The members of the two societies marched in, the Astrotektons followed by the Philaretians, singing their respective songs, after which they gave their respective calls.

The address of welcome was given by Miss Moultrie Drake, President of the Philaretian Society. The chief speaker of the evening was Mr. J. W. Bailey, an attorney of the city, who was introduced by Miss Ruth Goldsmith, president of the Astrotekton Society. This address was followed by the presentation of the essay medals. The Bowling medal, donated by Dr. E. H. Bowling of Durham, was presented to Miss Ella Pierce, by Mr. S. E. Ayers, the winner of the Bowling medal of the Wake Forest Phi. Society. The Carter-Upchurch medal was presented to Miss Bell Carroll, by Mr. Carter, of Wake Forest, the nephew of the donor. The Loving Cup, the trophy for the championship in basket ball, was received by the captain of the Freshmen basket ball team. This cup was presented by Miss Gertrude Royster, instructor in athletics at Meredith. Musical selections by Misses Mary Lee Caldwell and Annabel

Bridger, gave variety to the program. The two societies marched out singing the Alma Mater.
