EDITORIALS

Dr. Charles E. Maddry, well-known and greatly beloved, by the student body of Meredith, is to be with us in a series of evangelistic services during the week, December 4-10. This is primarily a soul-winning campaign, but he will bring to the Christian as well as the unsaved girl a message of supreme importance. Dr. Maddry can touch the hearts of students as no one else can. Girls, for one week, at least, let's make the salvation of our friend's soul, and the strengthening and uplifting of our own, a thing of primary importance. You can't afford to miss a single service. Come, everybody, and let's have a week of true Christian fellowship with Christ and each other.

Our "Y" kitchenette with the exception of the cooking utensils, is finished, and there isn't a girl here who isn't very proud indeed of this joint possession of ours. It is ours, for us to use. But before we can use it, we must have some utensils. The Y. W. C. A., having done everything else, is asking the rest of us to give the kitchenette a utensil shower. Everything from a tin spoon to a big dishpan is needed. After the Y. W. C. A. has been such a friend to every one of us, we can't fail to respond to this call. And then just think of the fun we'll have, the candy we'll make, and the parties we'll have when our kitchenette is well stocked with pots and pans. Of course, everyone is going to join in the shower—in fact, we are going to make it a rain, a big heavy rain.

COLLEGIATE PRESS

DR. WRIGHT OF YALE HERE

Dr. Henry B. Wright, International Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and professor of Christian Evidences in the Divinity School at Yale, spent two days here, Nov. 16-18, lecturing on methods of personal work in soul-winning. Dr. Wright came to us from South Carolina and goes to Chapel Hill, which will be his only stop in North Carolina except Davidson. He delivered five lectures on the subject, which were all rich with illustrations drawn from his own personal experience. He stressed the point that the best means of reaching a man is through the natural processes of friendship. Great interest was shown in the lectures, about 100 or more students attending. The Faculty excused these men from classes, where there were conflicts.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER SECRETARY HERE

Mr. Bland Roberts, Traveling Secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, spends Sunday and Monday here. He comes to us from Greensboro, having just completed his trip through North Carolina. He will meet with the Volunteer Band in an informal feed Saturday night and will address the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening.

R. O. T. C. MUSEUM BEING FORMED

The local R. O. T. C. is preparing an exhibit of military fortifications, weapons, etc. Rifles, pistols, and machine guns are being taken apart and the pieces mounted on large sheets of beaver board, with the name and explanation of each part written beside it. A sand table relief map of a section of ground has been formed, and fortifications will be organized in miniature upon it. The exhibit promises to be very interesting.

PLANS FOR SENIOR WEEK COMPLETED

Senior Week will be a gala occasion at Davidson. There will be a scrub football game and possibly a basketball game between the winners of the class contest and an all-class team formed from the other classes. The Glee Club and the Dramatic Club will each contribute to the merriment, while a Y. M. C. A. reception and a feature movie will add to the enjoyment of the evenings. Incidentally, of course, there will be at least one night of speaking by the members of the Senior Class. Sunday evening, the Mitchell College girls will present a religious pageant at the Y. M. C. A. meeting.

Elon College, N. C., Nov. 14.—Rev. W. P. Minton, Foreign Mission Secretary of the American Christian Convention, has been here for several days in the interest of foreign missions. He delivered a powerful sermon to the student body on last Sunday morning and on Sunday evening he gave an illustrated lecture of his tours in Japan last year. He also held a conference with the Student Volunteer organization of this institution.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 17.—Participation in the parade held under the auspices of the local legion and special exercises in the college auditorium marked the celebration of Armistice Day at the North Carolina College for Women.

After the parade in which the college car had entered, had passed through the campus, the students assembled in chapel where a program of song, special music, and oratory was rendered. Mr. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church of Greensboro conducted the devotional exercises. Hon. A. L. Brooks, of this city, was the speaker of the occasion.

Elon College, N. C., Nov. 14.—Shaw Desmond, noted English novelist and lecturer will give a lecture here in the College Chapel on Tuesday evening, November 15. This program will be given under the auspices of the Music Lovers Club. It is the second number of a series of entertainments that has been arranged for the season by the Music Lovers Club.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 15.—Miss Katherine Lumpkin, Y. W. C. A. secretary in South Atlantic field spent the week-end at Queens. On Saturday evening she conducted an old-fashioned sing which was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present. Then her talk at Vesper Service on Sunday was very impressive and helpful. She came to Queens from Winthrop and is planning to visit other colleges in the South.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 18.—Dr. John R. White, president of Anderson College, addressed the student body Friday morning in chapel. His subject was "What College Life Should Mean to a Girl." On Friday evening he will deliver his famous lecture on "Sidney Lanier" at the First Baptist church. The student body are enthusiastic to hear him because of his excellent lecture delivered in chapel to them.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 15.—The English II class entertained the upper English classes on Monday evening with a novel English party. All present were dressed to represent some book. Many original and comical costumes were worn. The upper classes are indebted to the English II class for an evening enjoyably spent.
