

Y. W. C. A. PROGRAM TREATS A DISCUSSION OF THE BIBLE

MANY INTERESTING BIBLICAL FACTS BROUGHT TO NOTICE OF AUDIENCE

"What do you know about the Bible?" Was the subject of a most unusual Y. W. C. A. program on Sunday evening, October 28.

After the Scripture lesson read by Andrea Covington, Catherine Nooe gave some interesting statistics to show what the Bible is.

The way in which the Bible has been handed down to us was told by Hettie Boone. Many interesting things about the various versions and translations were here revealed.

In speaking of the books that make up the book, Daisy Barnwell compared the sixty-six books of the Bible to a lovely building of sixty-six rooms. The Old Testament was likened to the first part of the structure and the New to later additions.

Elizabeth Purnell compared the existence of the Bible to the Phoenix, which after living for a hundred years is consumed by fire, out of the flames arising another Phoenix. That we have the Scriptures preserved is due only to God's providence.

The practice of every day Bible reading was discussed by Lillian Michael. God's word to be a good thing, in a good thing in a good place, for a good purpose must be carefully and systematically studied. Among the many helps offered for study, that of following topics was especially stressed.

MISS WELCH ENTER- TAINS FOR OCTO- BER'S MAIDENS

DELIGHTFUL OUTDOOR FEAST GIVEN IN HONOR OF OCTO- BER'S BIRTHDAYS

With great joy did the Brownies hail October! And with good reasons too, for they found in reality that Miss Welch had not forgotten their birthdays.

On last Wednesday, October 24th, the October girls happily gathered in the gym court at five o'clock. There they were met by Miss Welch, who proposed some interesting games which were played with much enthusiasm. After everyone was thoroughly warm, and keen appetites had been made known, the Brownies were summoned to the table. It was truly a feast that was found—a feast such that none but those present can appreciate the enjoyment. Many faces could be seen peeping through the curtains down on the gym court—all wishing that the lucky month of October had been theirs.

As a fitting conclusion for a glorious repast, each of the Brownies was presented with a birthday cake—an essential for every perfect birthday—and now we-uns of October know no better wish for unfortunate you-uns than that of hoping that Miss Welch will smile with favor upon the other birthdays.

It is hoped that at a very early date we shall have another game like this one. And those playing may rest assured that each and every girl is intensely interested in the outcome of all such games and will lend their hearty support. Although Miss Law and Miss Johnson came out poorly against Miss Zabriskie and Miss Smith at this time, it is no sign that fortune will not reverse the score at the next meeting of our players. The scoring was done in a most unique way. Ask Miss Zabriskie for information concerning the method.

Numerous entertaining games were participated in after which was served a delicious ice course carrying out the orange color scheme with the black cat souvenir on each place. Lastly, the Seniors serenaded the Sophomores and the Sophomores, the Seniors. This bit of sister class devotion was ended by the Seniors' fifteen Rabs for the Sophomore Frolic which proved an exceedingly attractive entertainment and one that was enjoyed immensely by all present.

PHONE CALLS

At present it is almost an impossibility for some girls to get a phone call. Why? Because we do not practice the Golden Rule in this phase of life, and as a result are selfish.

Practically 250 girls have to use 9181, and just suppose each girl who received a phone call should talk a half hour, or even fifteen minutes. We all know that it would take perhaps a week for each girl to have her turn in talking over the telephone. Worse still—while these girls were talking, other people would be trying to telephone someone at Meredith, but they would find their attempts unsuccessful, regardless of how important the call was, and simply because some girl at Meredith was carrying on a long, useless, and unnecessary conversation with a friend. If some one calls you, you may say what is necessary, and at the same time be pleasant and polite, but 5 minutes talk should suffice. Of course, you may want to talk much longer, but just remember that the telephone is not your personal property, but belongs to us all. Other girls want to get calls, and suppose you were in that other girl's place—well wouldn't you want your call? Surely you would. Perhaps it would be different if we could use the phone at all times, but Study Hours make the telephoning time quite brief.

It is permissible for students to answer the telephone but don't answer it unless you thereby consent to get the person who is being called.

This whole matter, as you see, is just having consideration for others and you, yourself, are often in that group called, "others."

DIVISION OF I. R. CLUB OWING TO IN- CREASE OF MEMBERS

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB HOLDS BI-MONTHLY MEETING

The usual bi-monthly meeting of the International Relations Club was held Monday afternoon, October 22, at 5 o'clock in the college parlors. As the club is rather large, it was decided that it would be better for the individual and the club as a whole if it were divided into two groups—one meeting at 5 o'clock on Monday and the other at 6:45 on Thursday.

After the discussion of business an interesting program on Cuba was rendered. Elizabeth Higgs gave a resume of the various voyages of Columbus with special stress on his trips to Cuba and his impressions of the island. A very interesting paper was read on the customs, appearance, and character of the natives of Cuba, and their treatment of the invaders by Emma Lancaster. Vera Dixon discussed the exploration of De Soto in his march for wealth and the fountain of youth in Florida. Then the meeting was thrown open to an informal discussion of current topics, questions being asked by Frances Howard.

At the completion of the program delicious hot chocolate and saltines were served, and an enjoyable half hour was spent in gossiping over the tea cups.

SENIOR CLASS DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINS AT ELABORATE DINNER FOR MASCOT

When we were Sophomores, then, ah then.

It was chase newish this away, chase newish that away,

This away, that away,

Until Juniors!

When we were Juniors, Juniors, Juniors.

When we were Juniors, then, ah then.

It was wish, wish this away

Wish, wish that away, this way, that away,

Until Seniors!

Now we are Seniors, Seniors, Seniors.

Now we are Seniors—well, ah well,

It is dig, dig this away

Dig, dig that away, this away, that away,

For dignity.

While standing the Seniors sang the following song to the little mascot, Bunny Boy:

"Sweetest little fellow, ever been before,

Surely we do love him, Senior class of '24.

Then here's to our mascot, with eyes so shiny blue.

Makes us always love him, we know that he is true.

When Bunny Boy's a smilin', on his little face

Think we see the dimples, sorrows to erase.

When Bunny Boy's a laughin', his cheek redder glows,

Den we come a crowdin' to kiss him ere he goes."

Bunny Boy, though having braved life in this world for only four years, was not one bit abashed before fifty-seven Seniors. He expressed his delight in a response with a long, loud blast of a small horn. He was well pleased with his souvenir of a quaint, four-wheeled cart made of crackers and cakes, and said he would be back for breakfast. At the conclusion of the dinner, the Seniors gave fifteen rabs for "mascot."

This gathering of the Seniors of '24 was a means of uniting them in a stronger class spirit, and of introducing their mascot and colors to the entire college.
