

GRADUATING RECITAL OF MISS THELMA FLEETWOODDELIGHTFUL PROGRAM RENDER-ED WITH ARTISTIC ABILITY AND EASE OF MANNER.

The graduation recital of Miss Thelma Fleetwood which took place on Friday, February 29, 1924, was one of rare loveliness and beauty.

The stage with a background of palms and ferns was most beautiful with its profusion of spring flowers whose fragrance filled the auditorium.

Miss Fleetwood was never more lovely than in a quaint frock of green taffeta. She carried a corsage of Russell's roses.

Her program was the following:

Ah Rendimi—Rossi.

Where the Bee Sucks—Arne.

I've Been Roaming—Horn.

L'Esclave (The Bondmaid)—Lalo.

Serenade—Strauss.

Lithuanian Song—Chopin.

Like Crystals That's Gleaming—

Sweedish Folk Song.

The First Meeting—Grieg.

The Doeskin Blanket—Cadman.

Duska Maya—Lohr.

Weeping Mary (Negro Spiritual)—

Burleigh.

Satan's a Liar (Negro Spiritual)—

Guion.

At Parting—Rogers.

Four Little Candles—Rayners.

Tonny Lad—Morgeston.

Fairy Pipes—Brewer.

O No John—English Folk Song.

Miss Fleetwood rendered her program with much artistic ability and grace, showing that she had entirely mastered her songs by her skillful interpretation of them.

The ushers were Misses Elma Fleetwood, Virginia Boone, Janet Holomon, Annie Grady, Pauline Patton, Frances White, Evelyn White and Rockie Lou Fleetwood.

Out of town guests were Mr. P. M. Fleetwood, Miss Rockie Lou Fleetwood, of Jackson; Mr. Glenn Fleetwood of Zebulon; Misses Evelyn White, Sallie Haggard, Claude Stephenson of Severn; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hobgood of Wendell.

STUDIO PARTY GIVEN BY MARS HILL CLUB
AT MEREDITHMEREDITH MARS HILL CLUB EN-
TERTAINS N. C. STATE MARS
HILL CLUB AT NELSON
HOME

The Mars Hill spirit never dies, and wherever you find this spirit you find a good time. This is the sentiment of all who were present at the delightful Mars Hill party Saturday evening.

The Nelson family added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by sending for the girls in their automobile and taking them out to their home at State College, where they found the boys waiting.

After every one had renewed their old form of acquaintanceship, an interesting contest was put on. Each girl was given a chance to prove her fate by a leap year proposal through a letter. In the meantime the young men, by the same method accepted or rejected. The majority took advantage of their golden opportunity and accepted, although a few unfortunate girls were sadly rejected. Owing to the unexcelled wit and past experience

(Continued on page 4)

MARTHA POWELL

MEREDITH HOSTESS
TO THE STUDENT
CONFERENCETHREE HUNDRED DELEGATES OF
THE STUDENT CONFERENCE
DINE AT MEREDITH.

One of the most joyful events of the year was the supper given for the delegates of the student conference in the dining room on the night of the 29th. The small size of the dining room rather added joy to the occasion by forcing the delegates closer together.

"Pharaoh's Army" from Wake Forest led the representatives in number having a hundred and thirty delegates grouped at four tables near the middle of the room. Carolina also was well represented. N. C. C. W. made up for lack of members with clever songs and yells. Their tall, white caps with yellow streamers marked them as daughters of N. C. C. W. Each college strove to outdo the rest in singing and yelling. The Oxford delegation bade Dr. Brewer, Miss Foreman, and Mr. Leavell each in turn to stand up and then to sit down again. With much pathos and expression Mr. Leavell rendered a vocal solo that ended with the following words: "I l-o-v-e love you all the t-i-m-e time."

The Meredith delegates might have been worsted in the contest of lung power had they not been reinforced by the student body which was stationed in the hall led by the Cheer Leader outside and which later lined up and marched around the dining room, evoking an enthusiastic

(Continued on page 4)

SENIOR PRESIDENT FOR
1924-1925 ELECTEDMISS VIRGIE HARVILLE ELECTED
SENIOR PRESIDENT FOR CLASS OF 1925

Monday night was one of momentous importance to the present Junior class, since it brought nearer the fulfillment of a four years dream. In the midst of riotous excitement, the election of Senior class president began. This was the first official Senior act, and it was accomplished with no little joy

(Continued on page 4)

ELECTION OF FIRST OFFICERS FOR YEAR 1924-1925MISS WINNIE RICKETT ELECTED
STUDENT GOVERNMENT
PRESIDENT

Passers-by last Monday evening must have thought something between a cyclone, Bailey's circus, Fourth of July, and Soph night off was hitting Meredith judging by the cheering and yelling of the united voices of our student body. In reality though, we had found something of almost equal excitement—our student government president for 24-25 was elected, and best still, she was Winnie Rickett.

Although many, in fact, all of us, were sad at the thought of losing Martha Powell, our Student Government President for this past year since she had to go with the others of '24, we were wildly glad to get a girl as capable and beloved as Winnie to take her place. All Meredith girls know Winnie too well to need any sketch of her character here. We know she is attractive, of unusual intellectual ability, distinguished both as a scholar and for her executive ability, thoroughly deserving the respect and admiration we have for her, and best of all, she is the sweet, unaffected kind of girl we all instinctively love. We are indeed fortunate to have a girl as capable for enforcing the rules of our college, and upholding its standards, who at the same time is so sympathetic and good-humored that the girls can approach her.

This past year Martha Powell has shown what a Student Government President supported by all the student body can accomplish, for next year we have the happy prospect of history repeating itself. There is no need to call for the support of the girls, their shouts and cheers at the announcement of Miss Rickett's election prophesy a great year under her leadership. "Three cheers for S. G.! Three cheers for Winnie!"

MEETING OF I. R. CLUB,
HELD THURSDAY NIGHT"THE MODERN WOMAN" IS SUB-JECT OF THE INTERESTING
PROGRAM OF MEETING

The subject under discussion at the Thursday meeting of the International Relations Club was "The Modern Woman." This subject was very interestingly discussed by several members of the club.

Mary Thomas read an interesting paper on the "New Women of Germany." "Woman's Morality, a Light Through the Ages," was discussed by Virginia White. "The Woman's Revolution" as was described by Grace Francis gave a new insight into the broadening fields that are opening up for women in all branches of work. The program closed with a paper by Bernice Foote on "German Women's Fight for Labor Equality."

Instead of studying Cuba as the club did in the fall, it has decided to take up current topics and develop them in such a way that each club member will know something of the most important events of the day.

WINNIE RICKETS

BAPTISTS STUDENTS OF
NORTH CAROLINA MEET
STUDENT CONFERENCE MEETS IN RALEIGH AT TABERNACLE
BAPTIST CHURCH

Representatives of all the Baptist students of North Carolina, South Carolina, Maryland and Virginia met in the Tabernacle Baptist church on Friday February 29 and continuing through March 2 to discuss and hear discussed the problems relative to campus life. There were speakers representative of every phase of Christian work among students. One of the noticeable facts about the speakers was that each was vitally connected the life on the campus. Interest and enthusiasm marked every session of the conference. The keynote of the meetings is fittingly expressed in the motto "Make the Campus Different."

Prominent among the speakers were:

Dr. Harry Clark, Miss Jessie Burrall, Miss Louise Foreman, Miss Juliette Mather, Dr. J. F. Love, Dr. J. A. Ellis, and Dr. C. E. Madry. Each of these gave different problems of the campus and suggested various solutions.

Rev. Eugene Olive led the singing and special selections were given by Miss Frances White of Meredith College; Miss Juno Roscoe, the child pianist of Anderson College; the Furman University quartette; the Wingate Junior College quartette, and the Buie's Creek Academy quartette.

Besides the chief speakers several students from different colleges presented messages. The greatest fact brought out in this conference was that the solution of all the difficulties

(Continued on page 4)

HYPATIA MATH CLUB
HOLD REGULAR MEETINGDELIGHTFUL PROGRAM RENDER-ED BY MEMBERS OF THE MATH CLUB

The regular meeting of the Hypatia Math Club was held in the Math room at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, March 3.

Among other business items at this meeting was a report from the constitution committee. After slight alterations, the constitution submitted by

(Continued on page 4)

I. A. T. SUNDAY SCHOOL
CLASS ENTERTAINED
IN PARLORSBACKWARD PARTY INTERESTING
FORM OF ENTERTAINMENT FOR MEMBERS OF CLASS

Some people have often expressed the desire for "O, Time turn backward—." On Monday night, March 3, in the Meredith parlors it was noticed by the members of the I. A. T. Sunday school class that more things than time had turned backwards. The invitations read as follows: "play to prepared come and night Monday parlors Meredith's to way your make backward and front in side back dress your don just."

As the guests arrived in a backward sort of fashion with beads hanging down the back, and sashes tied in front, they caused much laughter. After control of serious expressions was gained, the president of the class, Miss Letha Precythe, conducted the monthly business which consisted of reports from the various officers. At this meeting the new officers were also elected, Miss Dorothy Yates being unanimously elected as president.

At the conclusion of the business session the young ladies again turned to their peculiar backward antics. Much fun was caused by the peanut contest. If you think it was easy, just try carrying a peanut on the blade of a knife across the room, and walking backwards. Time must have turned backwards, too, for the next thing in order was an old fashioned spelling match, except that the words given out had to be spelled backwards. Many of the girls found it difficult to spell backwards such words as Hannah, eye, flapper, or compound.

Refreshments followed the games, beginning with after-dinner mints served by backward maids. The remainder of the course consisted of hot tea, "butterfly" salad (inverted so that the lettuce was on top instead of underneath), saltines, and home-made cheese straws. At the last the napkins were brought in.

Miss Mary Lynch Johnson is the

(Continued on page 4)

MISS GOULD SPEAKS
ON NURSING AS A
PROFESSIONCHAPEL TIME WELL SPENT BY INTERESTING TALK FROM MISS GOULD A NURSE

We were glad to have Miss Gould of England and the superintendent of nurses at the Rex Hospital to speak to us one morning of last week in chapel. Her subject was that of nursing.

As she said, nursing is in this country practically a new profession, being only about twenty years old. At first it was confined to two branches, hospital work and that in private homes. Now there are over thirty fields, but she did not have time to mention all. Nursing not only includes helping the sick but also the prevention of sickness. Miss Gould said this prevention was better than the cure.

There are district nurses. Here in the pioneer work among isolated farms in the mountains, also among the sick and destitute in the slums of cities, as New York.

Then there is the missionary field.

(Continued on page 4)