Editorial

A fond farewell to everybody from the Twig until 1924-25.

Just one more big week!

About five hundred hearts with but a single thought.

The birds are singing alone—nobody else has time to even breathe. Exams are on!

After Exams are over good times are in session for three months so "gather ye rosebuds while ye may."

The Twig extends many thanks to all these kind ones who have helped to make possible a very successful year.

The mail boxes have been crowded for the past week or two. Suppose each invitation is responded to Meredith will have a grand jubilee.

Senior facial expressions are worth watching these last few days.

Dreams all come true, if they are the right kind.

Maybe it is well to be a Senior and maybe it isn't, but most Freshmen rather prefer the former.

One pleasant thing about the end of the college year is the last meeting of each of the various clubs. The final meetings of the English Club, Classical Club and International Relations Club were social affairs, and therefore refreshments were served. Needless to say the meetings were well attended.

Hearty congratulations to the winners of the baseball championship. State College is hard to beat in any line and when it comes to baseball—well—the facts are bare.

As commencement draws near Meredith grows anxious to greet again her daughters of past years. It is hoped that many of the Meredith College alumnae will visit the alma mater this year. Commencement only rings true when members of classes gone by join with present classes in happy reunion, the Twig extends a most hearty invitation and a most gracious welcome to all Meredith alumnae.

The pageant recently presented by Miss Royster deserves special mention as exhibiting careful work and practice, and affording a pleasant evening for Meredith community. The costumes and interpretations made "The Shining Goddess" a very pretty pageant and much praise should be accorded both Miss Royster and her pupils.

Meredith students and alumnae were saddened to learn of the recent death of faithful Richard, the cook, who had been at Meredith for a great many years.

Art evening presented by Miss Ida Poteat complimenting Misses Elizabeth Nash and Emma Lancaster was a very novel affair, the interesting lecture by Dr. Delia Dixon Carroll, followed by tableaux of famous pictures was instructive and entertaining. It is hoped that Art evening may become a permanent, annual affair.

The impressive installation services of both the Philaretian and Astrotekton Literary Societies on Saturday evening were steps assuring a successful in-coming year in the literary societies. The work of this year's officers has been very efficient and the year a success in a number of ways.

It is with a sad disposition that the Twig goes to press because it shall surely miss the untiring efforts and vigorous coöperation of some members of the out-going Senior class in next years activities. The Twig dedicates loving thanks and pleasant memories to the Seniors of 1924.

The next best thing following commencement is the Y. W. C. A. conference to be held at Blue Ridge. Meredith must be well represented and Meredith girls must do it. The cottage for Meredith girls at Blue Ridge should be crowded and everybody rooting for the conference and for Meredith. Take the gang all there because Blue Ridge is the place for inspiration, pep, and plenty of fun. A few days vacation in the prettiest part of the mountains will be helpful directly following a hard school term. This is an excellent opportunity to meet and coöperate with other girls from the Southern colleges and to gain new ideas and ideals for next year's work.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEETING THURSDAY

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB MEETS FOR LAST TIME THIS YEAR

The International Relations Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting in the college parlors on Thursday evening. As the new staff has taken office it is not amiss to comment on the work done this year by the Twig. This is the third year that this paper has been in existence. The first year there were . . . copies, last year . . . copies and this year twenty-three copies. The circulation has advanced from about five hundred to one thousand. The staff has been increased and new offices added, the size of the paper has been increased to five columns and several inches in length. The desire of the new staff is to increase the size of the paper to standard size, containing six columns and to use standard printing. With the coöperation of the whole student body this organ will be able to accomplish greater and bigger things for greater and better Meredith. Any new plans or ideas will be gladly accepted and appreciated and it is hoped everybody will gain new interest during the summer months so that the Twig next fall will be a peppy paper, full of Meredith interests. The Twig belongs to you.

ning. May 15, at 6:45 o'clock. The president called the meeting to order; and as this was the last meeting this year the chief business was the election of new officers. Elizabeth Daniel was elected president for the year, 1924-1925 and Gladys Currin secretary and treasurer.

The club has accomplished very much during the past year under the leadership of its capable president, Mary Powell Josey. The membership has increased so much that two sections had to be formed, one meeting on Monday evening and the other on Thursday. Many interesting subjects have been discussed at the different meetings which have been very helpful to the members. We hope that next year the club will be as great a success.

After the business part of the meeting a delightful social hour was enjoyed by all those present. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cakes, were served.

HIS HANDICAP

A very stout and portly gentleman was once asked why he did not play golf, and this was his reason:

"I did try it once, but I found that when I put the ball where I could see it, I could not reach it; and when I put it where I could reach it, I could not see it."—Golfing.

Ho: "I hear that your girl is quite a boxer."

Bo: "Yeap, do you want a knock-down."—Jack o'Lantern.
