Editorial

Sunshine and rain—mostly mud.

With this issue the Twig resumes activities and will fight to maintain a weekly publication.

After a long Christmas vacation everything is all tuned up for some worthy issues.

All contributions are acceptable—every little thing counts.

The seniors have adopted a new yell—three cheers for Miss Covington!

Countenances have grown happier—exams are past history.

All appointment calendars are well marked for the coming weeks—there's much doing!

The new semester holds many golden opportunities. Begin early to make every day count.

Seniors are almost counting the days—'n that ain't all.

The General Assembly is in session now. It affords an excellent opportunity for students to get a clearer insight into State affairs.

What a world of difference the changing of a few pieces of furniture can make!

Both Literary societies deserve special mention for the programs given on Saturday evening. They each presented a play written by students of the society. This is excellent work and deserves commendation. The plays were well written and well-acted and show that the twentieth century is not void of genius. This type of program should be encouraged because it exercises originality and initiative.

Please notice and respond to the Topics for Thought and Discussions. The aim is to stimulate thought and discussion along lines which tend to elevate the mental character of the students.

It is the desire of the Twig staff to make the issues for the remaining weeks the best yet. They therefore urge all the clubs and organizations to see that their reporters are on the job. It is only with the coöperation of the whole student body, faculty, and alumnae association. The slogan is "all efforts centered on making the Twig columns worthy."

Meredith was fortunate in having some meetings of the Teacher's Association held here. The students may gain great inspiration from attending at the sessions.

Seniors began to feel their real importance last week when they were entertained by Miss Covington. Other classmen have another inspiration to climb upward in order to enjoy the entertainments seniority affords.

The Technician is devoting a column to Meredith News, which is sent them by Miss Leone Warrick of the Twig staff. This exchange of news will create a feeling of coöperation among all college students and will also give one-half the world a slight idea of what the other half is doing.

A series of mission study classes are being given for the Meredith students. The classes are of great value to instruct students along the lines of mission work as well as to give an insight into the big problems which missionaries have to face. Every student should avail herself of this opportunity.

The Y. W. C. A. program on Sunday evening consisted of a talk on missions in Cuba by Miss Janie Parker. She gave very interesting details of the work being done in Cuba by the Baptist Missions. Such programs add variety to the Y. W. C. A. services and help girls to understand the ever present problems in other countries.

There are several interesting events to take place in Raleigh soon

College Calendar

February 9, Monday—Mission study class 6:45 (Continuing throughout the week).

February 14, Saturday—Wake Forest Brothers entertain. Wake Forest Brothers Club at Studio party.

which Meredith girls will want to attend. Anna Case will give a concert in the auditorium on Tuesday February 10, and the New York Symphony orchestra will give one on February 13th. One of the advantages of being in school in Raleigh is to have the opportunity of attending entertainments of worth.

The policy of the Twig is not to be a chronic grumbler, but the work of the publication cannot continue without some evidence of interest on the part of those in whose behalf it is published. The Twig is the "official organ of the student body" but there seems to be a general failure to recognize this fact. The aim of the staff is to make the Twig interesting and inspiring but it is impossible to do so without help from every individual concerned. The Twig circulation is 1000; therefore there are about 1000 people who expect an issue of the paper every week and who expect something interesting. It is with the greatest ambitions for the Twig that those in charge appeal to the students and alumnae for interesting contributions and for genuine interest in the welfare of the paper.

Reporters for this issue:

Elsie Elkins, Ivy Grace Doughton, Katy Dail, Leone Warrick, Elizabeth Purnell, Edith Ezell, Margaret Durham, Sudie Creech, Alberta Harris, Louise Allen.
