

MARGARET WHEELER
ELECTED PRESIDENT '26*SENIOR PRESIDENT FOR YEAR
25-26 ELECTED

For several days before the night of February 26, excitement had been running pretty high in the class of '26, as to who would be our Senior Class president for the year 1925-26. Of course, we all agreed, it had to be a girl with an abundance of brains,—good, practical, old "horse sense" we termed it. That was the primary and most necessary requisite. Then she had to be a girl who, when occasion demanded, could rival the faculty (even) in dignity and poise, yet who was not "stiff," and could laugh as easily as any of us. Again, this girl had to be a good mixer, one who was liked by everyone, in her class and by everybody else, and who at all times would understand and sympathize with anyone who needed her sympathy. Also, this super-girl had to have strong moral fibre, firmness, decision, broad-mindedness, capacity for sticking up for the rights of others as well as for herself, and limitless tact. She had to be an eternal credit to Meredith, one whom we would love for Meredith to be judged by, as well as the incoming Senior Class. In short, this prodigy had to have intellectual, moral, spiritual, physical and social qualities of a superior kind. Who was it to be?

We all look at such a person from different angles. So naturally, there were about half a dozen girls whom some of the others thought qualified for the place. And so, when a Junior Class meeting was announced for Thursday night, February 26, every Junior went, excited and prepared to vote for her candidate like a true suffragette.

When we had all gathered, our candidates were straightway nominated and retired. Prominent among these was Margaret Wheeler, and by the eloquent pleas of her supporters (and hitherto unknown admirers), the whole assembly was won over to their way of thinking that she was the nearest possible approach to our su-

(Continued on page four)

ASTRO'S ENTERTAINED
BY DRAMATIC GROUP*DRAMATIC GROUP GIVES ENJOY-ABLE PROGRAM IN ASTRO SO-CIETY SATURDAY NIGHT

At the regular meeting of the At-trotekton Literary Society last Saturday evening, a most interesting and dramatic program was rendered, the dramatic group presiding. A reading, "Pro Patria," by Alda Tully Ammerman; a story of love and duty during the Revolutionary war, was given by Ruth Loudermilk. The manner in which this was rendered showed marked dramatic ability, as well as good interpretation. The next and last number was the reading of three poems, "Diseases," "Wishin'," and "Ligion," by John Charles McNeill. These were read true to nature by Clarissa Poteat, Miss Poteat showing her ability to give off extremely well, reading in negro dialect.

The Astro Society spent a very enjoyable hour as the witness of such marked talent.

PULLEN B. Y. P. U.
ENTERTAINS MEMBERS*B. Y. P. U. SOCIAL AT PULLEN ME-MORIAL WELL ATTENDED BY MEREDITH

Friday evening at eight o'clock, the two Senior B. Y. P. U.'s of Pullen Memorial Church gave an informal party in the B. Y. P. U. rooms of the church. When the girls arrived they were sent into one of the Sunday School rooms while the boys remained in another. The girls were brought one by one into the room where the boys were. In one corner were three chairs, behind which stood Nelson Harte and John Alexander. The girl was invited to take a seat and then she was told to close her eyes and think of the one she loved. As soon as her eyes were closed she received a sounding kiss, and upon looking up her horrified eyes met the smiling ones of Mr. Harte. When the next girl was brought in, however, it was learned that the kissing was the work of Willa Dean Lane, who was concealed behind the two boys. After all had passed through this ordeal, slips were handed around, which bore the words, "Saint Patrick," across the top. In the contest which followed, Charlie Mae Apley won the prize for making the most words from the letters given. After this new partners were chosen by means of strings which were tied to the railing at the head of the stairs. A girl took one end of each string and reeled it in to discover a man at the other end. The next contest was to discover a number of objects on a penny. After this had been worked out everybody adjourned to another room where lemonade, mints, and cakes were served. Shortly before ten the Meredith girls said good-night and boarded the street car, each vowing that never before had she had such a glorious time. To Mr. R. M. Warren, Miss Daisy Bagwell and Miss Willa Dean Lane (who is president of the B. Y. P. U.), we extend our heartiest thanks for an enjoyable evening.

The girls from Meredith who are members of the Pullen B. Y. P. U., and who attended the social are: Lot-tie Mitchem, Sadie Riggs, Clytie Harrel, Edna Earle Walton, Ays Davis, Leone Warrick, Aurelia Garren, Ruby Barker, Grace Weathery.

The party was chaperoned by Winnie Rickett.

RIGAMAROLE IN RIME

Once upon a time there was a college in a town,
And every Sunday afternoon the girls walked up and down.
The boys then came in droves and droves, to see the fine parade,
They drove up street and then drove down, in sunshine and in shade.
But then the legislators came and went and spoiled the fun,
By putting rules on bathing suits and how fast cars should run.
Another time the Astro's gave a pretty little play,
In which a few folks were dressed up in an unusual way,
Ruth Leary, dressed as Little Peg, for the first time in her life,
Looked tacky, and caused her aunt an awful lot of strife.

(Continued on page four)

MISS WHITE ANNOUNCES
FEB. BANNER ROOMS*BEST ROOMS FOR MONTH OF FEBRUARY ANNOUNCED BY MISS WHITE*MAIN BUILDING

Room No.
206 Lena Covington, Mary Covington.
207 Iona Daniels, Lillian Evans,
Margaret Helms.
211 Alma Kendrick, Novella Kendrick, Neva Pearl Kendrick, Annie Will Kendrick.
213 Elizabeth Higgs, Mary Blount
Martin.
215 Ruby Harville, Virgie Harville,
Lonie Gordon.
217 Charlie Daws, Virdelle Matthews,
Sarah Thomas, Grace Webb.
224 Ruth Janet Sikes, Mary Allison.
219 Margaret Eagles, Margaret Wilkerson, Katherine Shields.
221 Elinor Lane, Martha Liverman.
220 Bessie Lee Moss, Winnie Rickett.
218 Grace Butler, Margaret Lassiter,
Lillian Walters.
225 Agnes White, Virginia White.
223 Margaret Overton, Annie F. Harris, Rachel Wilkerson.

FAIRCLOTH HALL

50 Maggie Hobbs, Alice Lawrence.
1 Bertelle Blackwell, Vada Hester.
2 Frances Harris, Margaret Haywood.
5 Ruth Bruce, Irene Edwards.
7 Katie Dail, Grace Neathery.
8 Edith Morgan, Glenn Morgan,
Janet Mace.
22 Mabel James, Jessie Belle Strickland.
20 Mildred Poole, Clara Brooks.
19 Gladys Currin, Velma Patterson,
Velma Poplin.
11 Maude Brock, Nannette Mc-Clure.
18 Ruth Heatherly, Mary Moss.
12 Elsie Jackson, Gertrude Sample.
16 Mary Alderman, Mary Herring.
14 Gladys Leonard, Paige Leonard.
15 Annie Grace Williams, Monta
Clarke.
24 Margaret Cone Tucker, Lena Mae
Williams.
26 Mary Worsley, Estelle White.
29 Naomi Hocutt, Zelma Hocutt.
30 Mary O'Kelly, Margaret Wheeler.
32 Minnie Bell, Ruth Lilly.
38 Sallie Wilkins, Sallie Marshburn.
40 Jessie Brooks, Inez Holloway.
42 Marguerite Harrison, Mary
Speer.
3 Mary Martin, Helen Oldham, Ellen Broadwell.
45 Nell Cheek, Mozelle Kelly.
47 Lucile Woody, Blanche Current.
46 Grace Dark, Mary Frances Dark.
51 Pauline Sawyer, Lorene Woody.
49 Nita Garrett, Lella Owens, Aurelia Garren.
27 Theresa Newton, Mary Thomas.
28 Virginia Link, Hattie Bradley,
Mabel Severance.
43 Lois Stafford, Lucy Perkinson.
9 Mary Bowers, Maude Bowers.
NORTH COTTAGE
8 Ruth Loudermilk, Ailene Young,
Mary Meisinheimer.
EAST BUILDING
14 Minnie Herrin, Jessamine Oldham.
19 Lucile Walker, Lucile Pitt.
5 Gladys Beeker, Thelma Peake,
Annie Brown, Geneva Yeargin.
7 Annie Mae Jordan, Leta Page.
1 Blannie Betts, Thelma Hales,
Ruth Sherman.
11 Sadie Riggs, Charlie Mae Epley.

(Continued on page four)

AMERICAN SCHOLARSHIPS FOR BRITISH STUDENTS

A group of twenty scholarships for British graduate students patterned after the Rhodes plan, have been established by the Commonwealth Fund of New York.

The fellowships for British graduates will be available at any of the twenty-six universities which on January 1, 1925, were members of the Association of American Universities. A British committee of award, whose honorary chairman is the Prince of Wales, will examine each candidate as to character, ability, qualities of leadership, health and general fitness.

Each fellowship is for two years, with the possibility of a third year being granted to a limited number for satisfactory reasons. While each student may select his own university, in order to secure adequate distribution, not more than three fellowships will be awarded in one institution in any one year. The exact amount of the fellowship has not been announced but will be approximately $3000.

The Rhodes scholarships, says a statement by the Commonwealth Fund, "have enabled American students not only to enrich their education from an academic point of view, but through study and travel in England and on the continent to gain a wider understanding and outlook upon world affairs. It seems fitting that by a reversal of the process similar opportunities should be offered to British students."

The Commonwealth Fund director also believes "That International understanding can be forwarded in no more practicable way than through the provisions of such international educational opportunities." — The New Student.

WOODROW WILSON COLLEGE

Last year the Chamber of Commerce of Milledgeville, Ga., instituted a drive for funds for the establishment of a Woodrow Wilson Memorial College. Pledges amounting to $500,000 were raised. A tract of ten acres was purchased and the drive for funds was made country-wide through the American Legion and the American Federation of Labor.

A committee of educational experts, headed by President Sidney Mezes of the College of the City of New York and David F. Houston, a member of the Wilson Cabinet, were requested to advise as to the type of college to be created. Limitation of the student body to not more than 400 or 500, enrollment of only those students who show unmistakable signs of becoming leaders; limitation of number of subjects taught to those conducive to intellectual leadership; good salaries offered to men of high ability, were the recommendations made by the committee.

This advice will in the main be followed. Quality, not quantity, say the proponents of the cause, will be the keynote of the college—the type of instruction that Woodrow Wilson himself would have most heartily approved.—New Student.

Miss Eberhart, one of the vocal teachers of our college, was in New York for a week where she gave a concert. She returned Wednesday night.

ELSIE ELKINS ELECTED
S. G. PRESIDENT 25-26*PRESIDENT OF STUDENT GOV-ERNMENT FOR COMING YEAR
ELECTED

The weeks of "politicking" are over. The 27th of February has arrived, and Elsie Elkins has been unanimously elected president of the Student Government Association for the year 1925-26. Rather than experiencing that "let down" feeling that usually follows any exciting event, we are even more elated than before the election of the most important and most prominent and most responsible officer in school, for no girl in the class of '26 can be said to be as capable of holding down such a position as Elsie. In her Freshman year she soon won the lasting love of those who were closely associated with her as well as the respect of those who did not know her so well. As a Sophomore and as a most obliging library assistant, she became even better known and better beloved. She has held the office of treasurer of the Student Government Association this year and those who have been associated with her on the committee testify heartily to her faithfulness, her dependability, her never-failing good humor, her sweetness of disposition, as well as her discernment, her judgment and her foresight. Indeed, the class of '26 is to be congratulated on furnishing to the school such a leader—one so worthy of following in the footsteps of such a president as Winnie Rickett. For perhaps no other Student Government President has been quite so beloved by the Student Body as a whole as has our Winnie. Possibly the greatest tribute that can be paid to her was that paid by Elsie Friday night in her short talk to the Student Body. She first expressed her appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon her, laying especial stress upon the responsibilities that she knew were inherent in it. She concluded her remarks by asking for the cooperation of the girls next year and by pledging herself to be "as much like Winnie as she possibly could be."

With such a determination in Elsie's heart and with a realization in the heart of everyone of us that she is our representative and that we owe her our own personal cooperation, the year 1925-26 cannot be other than a most successful one for Meredith College.

PHILARETIAN SOCIETY HAS MUSICAL PROGRAM*PHI'S ENTERTAINED BY MUSICAL PROGRAM SATURDAY NIGHT

The members of the Philaretian Society were treated to an unusually well-rendered and well-selected musical program Saturday night. Variety may be the spice of a society program, as well as of life, and this we undoubtedly had Saturday night. More such programs carried out so well would help us all greatly in the appreciation of really good music, which, after all, is a part of the aim of every literary society.

The president told us about the annual essay contest that is conducted in each society, the winner in the Phi Society getting the Minnie Jack-

(Continued on page four)