Editorial

The Press Association and the Baptist Conference hold the lime-light just now. That means plenty of news for next week!

— STUNT NIGHT —

When a certain editor across the way purchases his bicycle, we shall solicit for funds to pay the first installment on a Kiddie Kar.

— STUNT NIGHT —

When you fail to get your Twig don't jump the Editorial department. Speak to the circulation manager about it, and she will do all she can to remedy matters. But we must say, with the lack of co-operation evidenced by so many, the situation is about to grow desperate. Let's get together, and make the Twig bigger and better than ever before. And in this appeal we include all the town students.

— STUNT NIGHT —

Do you know that December 17th marks the opening of the debate in the Senate on America's entrance into the World Court? The student conferences being held all over the nation mean that college students are beginning to think internationally, and offer to us a chance to make our opinions and convictions felt. It is to be hoped that such a conference can be held at Meredith, and that fitting attention be paid to it.

— STUNT NIGHT —

Wait until after the Press Association and we will have a number of good things to spring on the unsuspecting Student Body. At any rate, that's what we hope. Incidentally, we want to put plans on foot for a Reporters Club. That, as someone remarked, would at least be "something else to put under your picture in the annual."

— STUNT NIGHT —

We envy the editors of men's colleges. They can always play up their athletics for a feature when all other news fails. Of course, however, a showing like that of most of the teams in the state on last Saturday needs a curtain drawn over it as quickly as possible.

— STUNT NIGHT —

The trials of the photo editor of an annual make us withdraw timidly to the background. She threatens to perform with a club of her own should she be notified of many more such organizations.

— STUNT NIGHT —

We hope that for our sake, some editor at the association will make a motion that at least one issue a month be given to only ads and jokes! We can already hear ourselves seconding it.

— STUNT NIGHT —

No, we did not cut out the Twig last week because we needed the funds to go to Chapel Hill, but because nothing had happened except B. Y. P. U. and Y. W. We can't place too much emphasis on the part played by these organizations on our campus, but we also can't spread them over four pages of a newspaper.

— STUNT NIGHT —

We know that there seems to be a tremendous amount of red tape attached to almost everything here, but have you stopped to think that it means Meredith is growing? Every big thing must have even the smallest details worked out. Witness, for instance, the amount of red tape connected with our national government! And this also makes us feel more patriotic, for don't we often turn white and feel blue when we realize all that must be gone through with in order to obtain permission for a week-end trip?

— STUNT NIGHT —

One of the biggest thrills of Stunt Night lies not in the presentation of the cup to the winning class, but in the fact that so many of the old girls will be back. Some of them may not have the same names they had when we saw them last, but to us they are the same old pals that they were when we sipped Son's castor oil cocktail in adjacent beds.

— STUNT NIGHT —

We've all been Freshmen, and a large number of us have been Sophomores, so we all know just how each class feels at this particular time—if the Sophs don't get the Freshman stunt, and if they do!

— STUNT NIGHT —

We shouldn't be surprised if the enthusiastic accounts of last Saturday night's function didn't mean an increase in the B. Y. P. U. membership. Yes, we'll give you non-members a hint now. Some time during the year Wake Forest will most probably give us a return social. (This can also serve as a hint to them!)

— STUNT NIGHT —

And as the plastering comes down at Old Meredith it goes up at New. No more sweet dreams so rudely awakened by a sudden downpour of the ceiling, and a chance for everyone to be clean without a weeks notice! Our war-cry is "On to Method!"

— STUNT NIGHT —

A literary magazine is being planned for State College, we note. The world will soon find out that our neighbors are not at all deficient in the talent which makes magazines successful. It is rumored that some of the students there take Ag because of the chance it offers for communion with nature. In view of this fact there ought to be some good material for poetry at State.
